Swinging The Machine Modernity Technology And African American Culture Between The World Wars:

Swinging the Machine Joel Dinerstein, 2003 An innovative study of the influence of black popular culture on modern American life In any age and any given society cultural practices reflect the material circumstances of people s everyday lives According to Joel Dinerstein it was no different in America between the two World Wars an era sometimes known as the machine age when innovative forms of music and dance helped a newly urbanized population cope with the increased mechanization of modern life Grand spectacles such as the Ziegfield Follies and the movies of Busby Berkeley captured the American ethos of mass production with chorus girls as the cogs of these fast flowing pleasure vehicles Yet it was African American culture Dinerstein argues that ultimately provided the means of aesthetic adaptation to the accelerated tempo of modernity Drawing on a legacy of engagement with and resistance to technological change with deep roots in West African dance and music black artists developed new cultural forms that sought to humanize machines In The Ballad of John Henry the epic toast Shine and countless blues songs African Americans first addressed the challenge of industrialization Jazz musicians drew

Autobiographical International Relations Naeem Inayatullah, 2010-12-03 This volume provides a novel approach to international relations In the course of fifteen essays scholars write about how life events brought them to their subject matter They place their narratives in the larger context of world politics culture and history Autobiographical International Relations believes that the fictive distancing associated with academic prose creates disaffection in both readers and writers In contrast these essays demonstrate how to reengage the I while simultaneously sustaining theoretical precision and historical awareness Authors highlight their motives their desires and their wounds By connecting their theoretical and practical engagements with their needs and wounds and by working within the overlap between theory history and autobiography these essays aim to increase the clarity urgency and meaningfulness of academic work These essays are autobiographical but focused on the academic aspect of authors lives Specifically they are set within the domain of international relations global politics They are theoretical but geared to demonstrate that theoretical decisions emerge from theorists needs and wounds Theoretical precision rather than being explicitly deduced is instead immanent to the autobiographical and the historical cultural narrative each author portrays And these essays are framed in historical cultural terms but seek to bind together theory history culture and the personal into a differentiated and vibrant whole This book moves the field of International Relations towards greater candidness about how personal narrative influences theoretical articulations No such volume currently exists in the field of international relations

Technoskepticism DISCO Network, 2025-02-11 From Munchausen by Tiktok to wellness apps to online communities to AI the DISCO Network explores the possibilities that technoskepticism can create This is a book about possibility and refusal in relation to new technologies Though refusal is an especially powerful mode particularly for those who have historically not been given the option to say no people of color and disabled people have long navigated the space between saying yes and saying no to the newest technologies Technoskepticism relates some of these stories to reveal the possibilities skepticism can create The case for technoskepticism unfolds across three sections the first focused on disability the creative use of wellness apps and the desire for diagnosis the second on digital nostalgia and home for Black and Asian users who produced communities online before home pages gave way to profiles and the third focused on the violence inherent in AI generated Black bodies and the possibilities for Black style in the age of AI Acknowledging how the urge to refuse new technologies emerges from specific racialized histories the authors also emphasize how care can look like an exuberant embrace of the new Rhythmical Subjects Laura Marcus,2024-02-15 Drawing on extensive archival research Rhythmical Subjects shows the ways in which literature dance music the visual arts and architecture drew from and fed into the realms of social and anthropological thought Doctored Tanya Sheehan,2011 Examines the relationship between photography and medicine in American culture Focuses on the American Civil War and postbellum Philadelphia to explore how medical models and metaphors helped establish the professional legitimacy of commercial photography while promoting belief in the rehabilitative powers of studio portraiture Provided by publisher Record Cultures Kyle Barnett,2021-07-26 Tracing the cultural technological and economic shifts that shaped the transformation of the recording industry The Oxford Handbook of Sound Studies Trevor Pinch,Karin Bijsterveld,2012-01-05 Written by the world's leading scholars and researchers in sound studies this handbook offers new and engaging perspectives on the significance of sound in its material and cultural forms Passing Interest Julie Cary Nerad,2014-07-01 Explores how the trope of racial passing continues to serve as a touchstone for gauging public beliefs and anxieties about race in this multiracial era The first volume to focus on the trope of racial passing in novels memoirs television and films published or produced between 1990 and 2010 Passing Interest takes the scholarly conversation on passing into the twenty first century With contributors working in the fields of African American studies American studies cultural studies film studies literature and media studies this book offers a rich interdisciplinary survey of critical approaches to a broad range of contemporary passing texts Contributors frame recent passing texts with a wide array of cultural discourses including immigration law the Post Soul Aesthetic contemporary political satire affirmative action the paradoxes of colorblindness and the rhetoric of post racialism Many explore whether one drop of blood still governs our sense of racial identity or to what extent contemporary American culture allows for the racially indeterminate individual Some essays open the scholarly conversation to focus on ethnic passers individuals who complicate the traditional black white binary while others explore the slippage between traditional racial passing and related forms of racial performance including blackface minstrelsy and racial masquerade The Harlem Renaissance in the American West Cary D Wintz,Bruce Glasrud,2012-05-22 This collection of essays focuses on many of the Western US communities that participated in the Harlem Renaissance between 1914 and 1940 Big Band Jazz in Black West Virginia, 1930-1942 Christopher Wilkinson,2012-02-01 Association of Recorded Sound Collections Awards for Excellence Best Research in Recorded Jazz

Music Certificate of Merit 2013 The coal fields of West Virginia would seem an unlikely market for big band jazz during the Great Depression That a prosperous African American audience dominated by those involved with the coal industry was there for jazz tours would seem equally improbable Big Band Jazz in Black West Virginia 1930 1942 shows that contrary to expectations black Mountaineers flocked to dances by the hundreds in many instances traveling considerable distances to hear bands led by Count Basie Duke Ellington Andy Kirk Jimmie Lunceford and Chick Webb among numerous others Indeed as one musician who toured the state would recall All the bands were goin to West Virginia The comparative prosperity of the coal miners thanks to New Deal industrial policies was what attracted the bands to the state This study discusses that prosperity as well as the larger political environment that provided black Mountaineers with a degree of autonomy not experienced further south Author Christopher Wilkinson demonstrates the importance of radio and the black press both in introducing this music and in keeping black West Virginians up to date with its latest developments The book explores connections between local entrepreneurs who staged the dances and the national management of the bands that played those engagements In analyzing black audiences aesthetic preferences the author reveals that many black West Virginians preferred dancing to a variety of music not just jazz Finally the book shows bands now associated almost exclusively with jazz were more than willing to satisfy those audience preferences with arrangements in other styles of dance music
