Symbol And Theology In Early Judaism:

Symbol and Theology in Early Judaism Jacob Neusner, 1991 Analyzes the new mode of talking about God that took shape in synagogue art and rabbinic writing in the fifth and sixth centuries CE and appealed not to propositional but to symbolic modes of discourse Demonstrates how it combined and recombined various symbols to make normative theological statements The 1991 edition was published by Augsburg Fortress Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Handbook of Rabbinic Theology Jacob Neusner, 2021-12-28 From his extensive and intensive study of the rabbinic literature Jacob Neusner shows how the rabbinic documents give expression to a very real if implicit theological system While the rabbinic literature is often seen as a collection of miscellaneous responses to questions arising from study of the Hebrew Bible and its application to contemporary life Neusner sees a system behind and embodied in the various writings He discusses the ways in which the divine thought and the human thinking that sought faithfully to interpret it actually came to expression and treats what he calls the grammar of the divine self expression in order to help us see the theological structure that it implies Then he shows how this implicit system is expressed in the rules for the life of the people that God has chosen as his own Citing passages from almost all of the mishnaic tractates Neusner shows how they fit into and give expression to the system This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details A Theological

Commentary to the Midrash: Song of Songs Rabbah Jacob Neusner, 2001 This theological commentary to the Rabbinic Midrash explores a simple proposition in three parts I The reading of Scripture by principal parts of the Rabbinic Midrash is formed by compositions and composites that are animated by a cogent theological system II These primary components of the Midrash compilations further are in part aimed at systematic demonstrations of theorems of a theological character III While forming a principal part of a large theological structure and system each document is unique This commentary in its concluding chapter presents what is common to the animating theology of Rabbinic Judaism in all its documentary components and what is unique to Song of Songs Rabbah The Social Structure of the Rabbinic Movement in Roman

Palestine Catherine Hezser, 1997 While rabbinic literature enables us to know more about the rabbis than any of the other members of the Jewish population of Roman Palestine the social structure of the rabbinic movement remained largely unexplored In the present study Catherine Hezser combines a critical analysis of the available literary legal and epigraphic evidence with a selective employment of sociological models She examines the definition of the boundaries of the rabbinic movement deals with the nature of the relationships amongst rabbis and investigates the relationship between rabbis and their contemporaries that is students the community and the patriarch BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Early Jewish Exegesis and Theological Controversy Isaac shape from forms familiar to Judaism Sabin sets the composition of Mark in the context of the theological discourse of first century Judaism In that context she notes all theology was biblical It took the form of an exchange between current events and Scripture contemporary persons and happenings were understood through the lens of the Hebrew Bible while at the same time the biblical word was reopened that is reinterpreted so as to reveal its relevance to the present faith community Applying this kind of compositional process to the Gospel of Mark Sabin uncovers a fresh reading of the seed fig tree and vineyard parables of the various Temple scenes of the foolish disciples and the wise women and of the controversial ending She highlights the results of her findings by juxtaposing them with interpretations of the same passages given by various church fathers such as Origen Irenaeus and Bede as well as by readings from the twentieth century The results are provocative Sabin sees Mark as an original theologian shaping his material out of two primary Jewish traditions the Wisdom traditions with their emphasis on God's presence in daily life and Creation theology which imagined the End Time not as a catastrophe but as a return to the Garden She thus offers a new way of understanding Mark's use of Scripture his eschatology and his presentation of Jesus In conclusion she argues that retrieving Mark's voice in the context of Early Judaism brings with it insights much needed in our day of God's presence in the ordinary of God's image reflected in female as well as male of watchfulness as the way of wisdom of God's revelation as ongoing
