Synoptic and Dynamic Climatology Roger G. Barry, Andrew M. Carleton, 2013-03-07 Synoptic and Dynamic Climatology provides the first comprehensive account of the dynamical behaviour and mechanisms of the global climate system and its components together with a modern survey of synoptic scale weather systems in the tropics and extratropics and of the methods and applications of synoptic climate classification It is unrivalled in the scope and detail of its contents The work is thoroughly up to date with extensive bibliographies by chapter It is illustrated with nearly 300 figures and plates Part 1 provides an introduction to the global climate system and the space time scales of weather and climate processes followed by a chapter on climate data and their analysis Part 2 describes and explains the characteristics of the general circulation of the global atmosphere and includes the nature and causes of global teleconnection patterns Part 3 discusses synoptic weather systems in the extratropics and tropics and satellite based climatologies of synoptic features It also describes the applications of synoptic climatology and summarises current climatic research and its directions

The Climatology of Air-Mass and

Frontal Extreme Precipitation Ewa Łupikasza, 2016-08-08 Based on a data series of more than 50 years this book discusses spatial and seasonal variability in air mass and frontal extreme precipitation frequency and as well as the relationship between their occurrence and atmospheric circulation The climatology of air mass and frontal extreme precipitation is presented for the first time on a European scale Since there is no robust automatic method of locating atmospheric fronts this challenging task has to be performed manually Moreover there is limited availability of the complex sub daily data that is necessary to recognize the dynamic of meteorological fronts The results show a clear regional and seasonal variety in the relationship between extreme precipitation occurrence and atmospheric circulation depending on precipitation origin The probability of air mass and frontal precipitation occurrence provides crucial information for studies in predictability and modeling This book is intended for students specialists in the field of climatology and climate change climate process modelers and other experts for whom extreme precipitation is important x Essentials of the Earth's Climate System Roger G. Barry, Eileen A. Hall-McKim, 2014-03-17 A concise non mathematical full color introduction to modern climatology covering the key topics of climate science for intermediate undergraduate students General Technical Report NE, 1980 Urban Climate Change and Heat Islands Riccardo Paolini, Mattheos Santamouris, 2022-11-14 Urban Climate Change and Heat Islands Characterization Impacts and Mitigation serves as a go to reference for a foundational understanding of urban climate drivers and impacts Through the book s comprehensive chapters the authors help readers identify problems associated with urban climate change along with potential solutions Global case studies are included and presented in a way in which they become globally relevant to any urban or intra urban environment The authors call on their extensive experience to present and explore methodologies and approaches to quantifying urban heat mitigation measures in a clear manner focusing on heat islands urban overheating and effects on air quality Includes global case studies that demonstrate how to design and implement urban heat mitigation measures that are area specific and effective under both current climate and future conditions Provides an overview of urban parameterizations in models leading to an improved understating of intra urban climate variability drivers Assesses potential heat and air quality health impacts of excessive heat events and changes in local urban climates Atmospheric and Oceanic Circulation Robert V. Rohli, Anthony J. Vega, Keith G. Henderson, 2024-12-21 This book provides a one stop shop for coastal and marine scientists to understand processes that generate atmospheric circulation as integrated with terrestrial and oceanic circulation processes to create an Earth ocean atmosphere climate system It uses the process approach in the first half of the book to set the stage for understanding circulation systems and then for explaining the circulation processes themselves with the second half of the book dedicated to showing how these processes play themselves out across the Earth s terrestrial and marine surface The processes explained in the first half of the book assume no prior knowledge of meteorology or oceanography The regional section includes the major continents or subcontinents along with their surrounding ocean environs It begins with the area with which many most readers are likely most familiar the USA and Canada From there the tour of the world continues beginning with the places that have atmospheric and oceanic circulation features that are most similar to the USA and Canada all in the Northern Hemisphere Europe Southwestern Asia and then East Asia From there the discussion builds on principles illustrated in the first half of the book and demonstrated in the beginning of the regional section of the book while also adding concepts and principles of importance in the tropical and subtropical latitudes by describing circulation features of South and Southeast Asia This discussion carries forward naturally for a discussion of Africa which experiences similar features of subtropical and tropical latitudes From there previous material can be applied and built upon further in the discussion of Latin America and the Caribbean Australia and Oceania are the next area covered followed by the polar latitudes The book concludes with a brief review of the major atmospheric and oceanic circulation features around the world and with a reminder of the cascading primary and secondary impacts of the climate system The book is intended to fill a niche as both a textbook and a reference source for non atmospheric specialists Its purpose is to help coastal environmental engineering and planning professionals to get up to speed regarding atmospheric and oceanic circulations and their impacts around the world This would allow more effective communication with climate modelers atmospheric and marine environmental consultants and media Our book writing experience allows us to implement best practices based on cognitive theory to facilitate learning in the geosciences
