Stobie,2023-01-12 Focusing on texts from the late 1970s to the 1990s which document both changing attitudes to terminations of pregnancy and dramatic environmental medical and socio political developments during southern Africa's liberation struggles this book examines how four writers from Botswana South Africa and Zimbabwe address the ethics of abortion and reproductive choice Viewing recent fiction through the lens of new materialist theory which challenges conventional individual based notions of human rights by asserting that all matter holds agency this book argues that southern African women writers anticipate and exceed current feminist revivals of materialist thought Not only do the authors question contemporary discourse framing abortion as either a confirmation of a woman's right to choose or an unethical termination of human life but they challenge conventional understandings of development growth and time Through close readings of both literal gestation in the selected texts and the metaphorical reproduction of the post colonial nation this study advances the concept of reproductive agency creating a range of queer ecocritical alternatives to tropes such as those of the Mother Country Mother Africa or the birth of a nation This study situates abortion narratives by Wilma Stockenström translated by J M Coetzee Zo Wicomb Yvonne Vera and Bessie Head alongside contemporary postcolonial feminist theories melding traditional beliefs with materialist views to reconsider the future of reproductive health matters in southern Africa Merging queer ecocritical perspectives from materialism and postcolonialism this study will appeal to students and researchers in the medical humanities new materialisms and postcolonial studies

Across the Lines, 2022-05-16 This third volume of ASNEL Papers covers a wide range of theoretical and thematic approaches to the subject of intertextuality Intertextual relations between oral and written versions of literature text and performance as well as problems emerging from media transitions regionally instructed forms of intertextuality and the works of individual authors are equally dealt with Intertextuality as both a creative and a critical practice frequently exposes the essential arbitrariness of literary and cultural manifestations that have become canonized The transformation and transfer of meanings which accompanies any crossing between texts rests not least on the nature of the artistic corpus embodied in the general framework of historically and socially determined cultural traditions Traditions however result from selective forms of perception they are as much inventions as they are based on exclusion Intertextuality leads to a constant reinforcement of tradition while at the same time intertextual relations between the new literatures and other English language literatures are all too obvious Despite the inevitable impact of tradition the new literatures tend to employ a dynamic reading of culture which fosters social process and transition thus promoting transcultural rather than intercultural modes of communication Writing and reading across borders becomes a dialogue which reveals both differences and similarities More than a decolonizing form of deconstruction intertextuality is a strategy for communicating meaning across cultural boundaries

Student Encyclopedia of African Literature

Douglas Killam, Alicia L. Kerfoot, 2007-12-30 African literature is a vast subject of growing output and interest. Written especially for students, this book selectively surveys the topic in a clear and accessible way. Included are roughly 600 alphabetically arranged entries on writers, genres, and major works. Many entries cite works for further reading, and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography. Africa is a land of contrasts and of diverse cultures and traditions. It is also a land of conflict and creativity. The literature of the continent draws upon a fascinating body of oral traditions and lore and also reflects the political turmoil of the modern world. With the increased interest in cultural diversity and the growing centrality of Africa in world politics, African literature is figuring more and more prominently in the curriculum. This book helps students learn about the African literary achievement. Written expressly for students, this book is far more accessible than other reference works on the subject. Included are nearly 600 alphabetically arranged entries on authors such as Chinua Achebe, Athol Fugard, Buchi Emecheta, Nadine Gordimer, and Wole Soyinka, major works such as Things Fall Apart and Petals of Blood, and individual genres such as the novel, drama, and poetry. Many entries cite works for further reading, and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography.

Tales of Morrigan's Rest John S. Pecter, 2024-12-17 Welcome to Morrigan's Rest, a town steeped in shadows and whispers where the veil between the living and the dead is as thin as the mist that clings to the ground at dawn. Nestled between the ancient trees of Green Hollow Forest and the eerie stillness of Morrigan Lake, this small town is a tapestry of chilling tales and restless spirits, each corner holding secrets that yearn to be uncovered.
