

The background is a reproduction of an ancient Egyptian wall painting. It features several registers. The top register shows a row of 12 small figures, likely representing the gods of the 12 hours. Below this, two larger figures are seated on chairs, facing each other, holding long staffs or scepters. They are wearing blue and green tunics. Below them, another figure is shown in a dynamic pose, possibly performing a magic ritual, with one arm raised and holding a staff. The bottom register shows a figure lying on a mat, possibly dead or in a trance, with a staff nearby. The entire scene is framed by vertical columns of hieroglyphs. The title text is superimposed over the central part of the image.

Popular Stories of Ancient Egypt Hasan M. El-Shamy, 2002-08-19 Makes available a difficult to find folkloric scholarship classic and illuminates it with contemporary commentary from a preeminent authority on Egyptian folktales Gaston Maspero is a towering figure in Egyptology Popular Stories of Ancient Egypt offers a wealth of primary data and authoritative commentaries on ancient Egyptian culture language history society and ethnic groups as depicted in Egyptian and Greek Egyptian narratives The work provides the contextual data necessary for understanding the tale texts and reflects Maspero's deep knowledge of many fields from the classics to life in modern Egypt This new edition includes a contemporary foreword which introduces Maspero and describes his scholarship It also provides for the first time extensive identification of the ancient stories in terms of international tale types and motifs The new information places the anthology in a broader academic context and is a valuable resource for students of Egyptology folklore literature history and social and cultural anthropology The Literature of Ancient Egypt Raymond Oliver Faulkner, 2003-01-01 Presents annotated translations of papyrus writings and tomb inscriptions from the middle and late periods of ancient Egypt Tales of magic, tales in print Willem De Blecourt, 2021-06-15 Since the beginning of the nineteenth century folklorists and the general public in their wake have assumed the orality of fairy tales Only lately have more and more specialists been arguing in favour of at least an interdependence between oral and printed distribution of stories This book takes an extreme position in that debate as far as Tales of magic is concerned the initial transmission proceeded exclusively through prints From a historical perspective this is the only viable approach the opposite assumption of a vast unrecorded and thus inaccessible reservoir of oral stories presents a horror vacui Only in the course of the nineteenth century when folklorists started collecting in the field and asked their informants for fairy tales was this particular genre incorporated into a then feeble oral tradition Even then story tellers regularly reverted to printed texts Every recorded fairy tale can be shown to be dependent on previous publications or to be a new composition constructed on the basis of fragments of stories already in existence Tales of magic tales in print traces the textual history of a number of fairy tale clusters linking the findings of literary historians on the sixteenth to eighteenth centuries to the material collected by nineteenth and twentieth century field workers While it places fairy tales as a genre firmly in a European context it also follows particular stories in their dispersion over the rest of the world

Ancient Egyptian Texts offers a comprehensive exploration into the rich tapestry of Egypt's storied past brought to life through a diverse collection of literary styles ranging from historical chronicles to mythical narratives. The anthology showcases the grandeur and complexity of Ancient Egyptian civilization bridging the gap between the past and present through a vivid collection of artefacts, texts, and scholarly insights. Each piece, whether an evocative recounting of archaeological discoveries or a lyrical interpretation of ancient myths, collectively reflects the enduring significance of Egypt in the pantheon of world history. This anthology draws on the expertise of eminent scholars such as Arthur Gilman, George Rawlinson, and E. A. Wallis Budge, whose works have significantly contributed to the understanding of ancient cultures. The collection aligns with the rich tradition of Egyptology, blending historical analysis with literary finesse to provide a multifaceted perspective. Through the voices of contributors deeply rooted in historical research and cultural studies, readers are offered an enriched understanding of how ancient Egyptian texts and artefacts have influenced modern interpretations and the enduring allure of Egypt. For readers seeking to immerse themselves in the depth and diversity of ancient Egypt's legacy, this collection is a treasure trove of knowledge. It invites exploration across a spectrum of themes and styles, offering a unique educational opportunity to engage with the ancient world. Acknowledging the nuanced insights presented through multiple perspectives, the anthology not only serves as an invaluable resource but also as a catalyst for ongoing dialogue among modern readers and the timeless figures of ancient Egypt's past.

Pyramids and Literature in Ancient Egypt Asher Benowitz, DTTV Publications, Pyramids have been around for thousands of years but we still don't know exactly how they were built. The oldest pyramids are found at Giza and Saqqara. The Great Pyramid at Giza is one of the Seven Wonders of the World and was built during the fourth dynasty, 2575-2150 BC. During this time, there was also an increase in writing, literature, and artisanship. The Westcar Papyrus tells us of three royal women who lived during the 4th dynasty: Khufu's mother, Henutsen, his wife Hetepheres I, and her sister Meresankh II. The latter was also his daughter-in-law because she married his son Khafre, who ruled 2558-2532 BC. She may have been buried inside this pyramid when she died at age 26. The first hieroglyphic text was written on papyrus in about 3100 BC. It is from a chapter from The Book Of Journey To Heaven, called book 6, which describes how Ra travels with Thoth as they visit each nome district throughout Egypt during a period called the Festival Of Night, where they praise Osiris while traveling through space towards his underworld kingdom every year at midnight, between June 21st-22nd and July 21st-22nd, when Orion rises as Sirius sets below it just before dawn on these days, known later as Dog Days, because dogs often suffer heat exhaustion then too due to lack of moisture caused by intense sunlight reflecting off asphalt surfaces like sidewalks or blacktop parking lots, heating up too much due to all that reflected energy bouncing back into our faces, which makes us sweat, which causes dehydration if we don't drink enough water.

Egyptian Magic Maarten J. Raven, 2012. The ancient Egyptians were firmly convinced of the importance of magic, which was both a source of supernatural wisdom and a means of affecting one's own fate. The gods themselves used it for creating the world, granting mankind magical powers as an aid to the struggle for existence Magic formed a link between human beings gods and the dead Magicians were the indispensable guardians of the god given cosmic order learned scholars who were always searching for the Magic Book of Thoth which could explain the wonders of nature Egyptian Magic illustrated with wonderful and mysterious objects from European and Egyptian museum collections describes how Egyptian sorcerers used their craft to protect the weakest members of society to support the gods in their fight against evil and to imbue the dead with immortality and explores the arcane systems and traditions of the occult that governed this well organized universe of ancient Egypt

Against the Gods John D. Currid,2013 What is the relationship between the Old Testament and ancient Near Eastern mythology Currid examines the evidence arguing that the Old Testament is highly polemical as he stresses differentiation over continuity

The Literature of the Ancient Egyptians E. A. Wallis Sir Budge,2020-01-09 E A Wallis Budge s The Literature of the Ancient Egyptians serves as an indispensable compendium for understanding the rich tapestry of ancient Egyptian literary heritage Employing a scholarly yet accessible tone Budge meticulously categorizes and translates a multitude of texts ranging from wisdom literature to religious hymns effectively encapsulating the complexity of Egyptian thought and culture His narrative weaves together the historical and archaeological contexts in which these works were produced thereby illuminating the interconnectedness of Egyptian literature with its societal frameworks religious beliefs and moral values Budge a renowned Egyptologist and curator at the British Museum dedicated much of his academic career to the study and translation of ancient Egyptian texts His deep engagement with the culture bolstered by extensive field research and a profound understanding of hieroglyphics informs this work Budge s passion for the subject matter is evident drawing connections between ancient literature and contemporary human experience in a manner that transcends temporal boundaries facilitating a dialogue between past and present This book is an essential read for anyone interested in ancient civilizations literature or the historical development of storytelling practices Budge s insightful analysis and engaging translations invite readers into the nuanced world of ancient Egyptian thought making it a vital resource for scholars and enthusiasts alike
