

Важнейшим из этапов формирования геологической истории Земли является формирование и развитие земной коры. В настоящее время накоплено много фактов, свидетельствующих о том, что в процессе формирования земной коры происходило выделение тепла, которое способствовало образованию магматических пород. В то же время, в процессе формирования земной коры происходило и накопление тепла, которое способствовало образованию метаморфических пород. Таким образом, процесс формирования земной коры является сложным и многоэтапным процессом, который сопровождается выделением и накоплением тепла.
