where a native culture had writing and books long before Europeans came Together these pieces offer an inspiring portrait of what it means to be a Native writer in the twentieth century With passion and urgency these writers are speaking for themselves for their land and for the generations Speak to Me Words Dean Rader, Janice Gould, 2003-11 Although American Indian poetry is widely read and discussed few resources have been available that focus on it critically This book is the first collection of essays on the genre bringing poetry out from under the shadow of fiction in the study of Native American literature Highlighting various aspects of poetry written by American Indians since the 1960s it is a wide ranging collection that balances the insights of Natives and non Natives men and women old and new voices Writing Lovers Méira Cook, 2005 Is it possible to capture something as ephemeral as love with mere words M ira Cook draws on Lacan Derrida Barthes and Kristeva to wrestle with the theoretical problems of representing the unrepresentable In Writing Lovers she searches for a language adequate to articulating the discourse of passion desire and longing in the love poetry of Dionne Brand Elizabeth Smart Daphne Marlatt Dorothy Livesay Kristjana Gunnars and Nicole Markotic In writings by the French post structuralists rhetorical tropes such as speechlessness fragmentation and deflection testify to the writer s difficulty in broaching the subject of love Similarly Cook shows that love poetry proceeds out of a profound failure of language resulting from the opacity of discourse its lack of neutrality or the fugitive transparency of reference Writing Lovers also explores race ethnicity age and sexual identity within the context of the passionate excesses of amatory discourse Indigenous Poetics in Canada Neal McLeod, 2014-05-16 Indigenous Poetics in Canada broadens the way in which Indigenous poetry is examined studied and discussed in Canada Breaking from the parameters of traditional English literature studies this volume embraces a wider sense of poetics including Indigenous oralities languages and understandings of place Featuring work by academics and poets the book examines four elements of Indigenous poetics First it explores the poetics of memory collective memory the persistence of Indigenous poetic consciousness and the relationships that enable the Indigenous storytelling process The book then explores the poetics of performance Indigenous poetics exist both in written form and in relation to an audience Third in an examination of the poetics of place and space the book considers contemporary Indigenous poetry and classical Indigenous narratives Finally in a section on the poetics of medicine contributors articulate the healing and restorative power of Indigenous poetry and narratives The Oxford Handbook of Indigenous American Literature James Howard Cox, Daniel Heath Justice, 2014 Over the course of the last twenty years Native American and Indigenous American literary studies has experienced a dramatic shift from a critical focus on identity and authenticity to the intellectual cultural political historical and tribal nation contexts from which these Indigenous literatures emerge The Oxford Handbook of Indigenous American Literature reflects on these changes and provides a complete overview of the current state of the field The Handbook s forty three essays organized into four sections cover oral traditions poetry drama non fiction fiction and other forms of Indigenous American writing from the seventeenth through the twenty first century Part I attends to literary histories across a range of communities providing for example analyses of Inuit Chicana o Anishinaabe and M tis literary practices Part II draws on earlier disciplinary and historical contexts to focus on specific genres as authors discuss Indigenous non fiction emergent trans Indigenous autobiography Mexicanoh and Spanish poetry Native drama in the U S and Canada and even a new Indigenous children s literature canon The third section delves into contemporary modes of critical inquiry to expound on politics of place comparative Indigenism trans Indigenism Native rhetoric and the power of Indigenous writing to communities of readers A final section thoroughly explores the geographical breadth and expanded definition of Indigenous American through detailed accounts of literature from Indian Territory the Red Atlantic the far North Yucat n Amerika Samoa and Francophone Quebec Together the volume is the most comprehensive and expansive critical handbook of Indigenous American literatures published to date It is the first to fully take into account the last twenty years of recovery and scholarship and the first to most significantly address the diverse range of texts secondary archives writing traditions literary histories geographic and political contexts and critical discourses in the field

Acts of Narrative Resistance Laura J. Beard,2009-10-01 This exploration of women s autobiographical writings in the Americas focuses on three specific genres testimonio metafiction and the family saga as the story of a nation What makes Laura J Beard s work distinctive is her pairing of readings of life narratives by women from different countries and traditions Her section on metafiction focuses on works by Helena Parente Cunha of Brazil and Luisa Futoranksy of Argentina the family sagas explored are by Ana Mar a Shua and N lida Pi on of Argentina and Brazil respectively and the section on testimonio highlights narratives by Lee Maracle and Shirley Sterling from different Indigenous nations in British Columbia In these texts Beard terms genres of resistance women resist the cultural definitions imposed upon them in an effort to speak and name their own experiences The author situates her work in the context of not only other feminist studies of women s autobiographies but also the continuing study of inter American literature that is demanding more comparative and cross cultural approaches Acts of Narrative Resistance addresses prominent issues in the fields of autobiography comparative literature and women s studies and in inter American Latin American and Native American studies

American Indian Literature Kimberly Wieser-Weryackwe,2025-07-10 Discover the essential people works movements and themes in American Indian literature American Indian literature is a varied and vibrant collection of Indigenous artistic expression American Indian novelists poets essayists and critics have over the last four centuries asserted powerful forms of intellectual and artistic sovereignty writing in English while building on discrete tribal oral traditions and forms of storytelling This encyclopedia introduces readers to the key historical and contemporary figures in American Indian literature and their defining works From the fiery sermons of Methodist minister William Apesto to the Pulitzer Prize winning novel House Made of Dawn by N Scott Momaday to the critically acclaimed and commercially successful novels of Louise Erdrich this book illustrates the indelible and influential imprint American Indians have on the landscape of American letters

Readers are also introduced to the key themes and context of American Indian literature exploring how it is inextricable from American literary history the American literary canon and the narrative of American history not on the fringes of the American experience but central to it

Creative Alliances Molly McGlennen, 2014-08-04 Tribal histories suggest that Indigenous peoples from many different nations continually allied themselves for purposes of fortitude mental and physical health and creative affiliations Such alliance building Molly McGlennen tells us continues in the poetry of Indigenous women who use the genre to transcend national and colonial boundaries and to fashion global dialogues across a spectrum of experiences and ideas One of the first books to focus exclusively on Indigenous women's poetry Creative Alliances fills a critical gap in the study of Native American literature McGlennen herself an Indigenous poet critic traces the meanings of gender and genre as they resonate beyond nationalist paradigms to forge transnational forms of both resistance and alliance among Indigenous women in the twenty first century McGlennen considers celebrated Native poets such as Kimberly Blaaser Ester Belin Diane Glancy and Luci Tapahonso but she also takes up lesser known poets who circulate their work through social media spoken word events and other nonliterary forums Through this work McGlennen reveals how poetry becomes a tool for navigating through the dislocations of urban life disenrollment diaspora migration and queer identities McGlennen's Native American Studies approach is inherently interdisciplinary Combining creative and critical language she demonstrates the way in which women use poetry not only to preserve and transfer Indigenous knowledge but also to speak to one another across colonial and tribal divisions In the literary spaces of anthologies and collections and across social media and spoken word events Indigenous women poets are mapping cooperative alliances In doing so they are actively determining their relationship to their nations and to other Indigenous peoples in uncompromised and uncompromising ways

Indigenous Women and Violence Lynn Stephen, Shannon Speed, 2021-03-23 Indigenous Women and Violence offers an intimate view of how settler colonialism and other structural forms of power and inequality created accumulated violences in the lives of Indigenous women This volume uncovers how these Indigenous women resist violence in Mexico Central America and the United States centering on the topics of femicide immigration human rights violations the criminal justice system and Indigenous justice Taking on the issues of our times Indigenous Women and Violence calls for the deepening of collaborative ethnographies through community engagement and performing research as an embodied experience This book brings together settler colonialism feminist ethnography collaborative and activist ethnography emotional communities and standpoint research to look at the links between structural extreme and everyday violences across time and space Indigenous Women and Violence is built on engaging case studies that highlight the individual and collective struggles that Indigenous women face from the racial and gendered oppression that structures their lives Gendered violence has always been a part of the genocidal and assimilationist projects of settler colonialism and it remains so today These structures and the forms of violence inherent to them are driving criminalization and victimization of Indigenous men and women leading to escalating levels of assassination incarceration or transnational displacement of Indigenous people and especially Indigenous women This volume brings together the potent ethnographic research of eight scholars who have dedicated their careers to illuminating the ways in which Indigenous women have challenged communities states legal systems and social movements to promote gender justice The chapters in this book are engaged feminist collaborative and activism focused conveying powerful messages about the resilience and resistance of Indigenous women in the face of violence and systemic oppression Contributors R A da Hern ndez Castillo Morna Macleod Mariana Mora Mar a Teresa Sierra Shannon Speed Lynn Stephen Margo Tamez Irma Alicia Vel squez Nimatuj

Travelling Knowledges Renate Eigenbrod, 2005 In the context of de colonization the boundary between an Aboriginal text and the analysis by a non Aboriginal outsider poses particular challenges often constructed as unbridgeable Eigenbrod argues that politically correct silence is not the answer but instead does a disservice to the literature that like all literature depends on being read taught and disseminated in various ways In Travelling Knowledges Eigenbrod suggests decolonizing strategies when approaching Aboriginal texts as an outsider and challenges conventional notions of expertise She concludes that literatures of colonized peoples have to be read ethically not only without colonial impositions of labels but also with the responsibility to read beyond the text or in Lee Maracle s words to become the architect of great social transformation Features the works of Jeannette Armstrong Okanagan Louise Halfe Cree Margo Kane Saulteaux Cree Maurice Kenny Mohawk Thomas King Cherokee living in Canada Emma LaRocque Cree Metis Lee Maracle Sto lo Metis Ruby Slipperjack Anishnaabe Lorne Simon Miikmaq Richard Wagamese Anishnaabe and Emma Lee Warrior Peigan

The Holy Land in Transit Steven Salaita, 2015-02-01 Steven Salaita's ambitious and thought provoking work compares the dynamics of settler colonialism in the United States related to Native Americans with the circumstances in Israel related to the Palestinians revealing the way in which politics influences literary production The author's original approach is based not on similarities between the two disparate settler regions but rather on similarities between the rhetoric employed by early colonialists in North America and that employed by Zionist immigrants in Palestine Meticulously examining histories theories and literary depictions of colonialism and its interethnic dialects Salaita identifies the commonalities in the myths employed by both groups as well as the counter discourse cultivated in the literature of resistance by native peoples He complements his analysis with personal observations of Palestinians in Lebanese refugee camps where he encountered a sympathetic perception of American Indians The Holy Land in Transit presents one of the first intercommunal studies to assess the ways in which indigenous authors react to analogous colonial dynamics With great perception and energy the author offers a fresh contribution to an emerging frame of reference for historical political literary and cultural investigation Therapeutic

Nations Dian Million, 2013-09-26 Self determination is on the agenda of Indigenous peoples all over the world This analysis by an Indigenous feminist scholar challenges the United Nations based human rights agendas and colonial theory that until now have shaped Indigenous models of self determination Gender inequality and gender violence Dian Million argues are critically important elements in the process of self determination Million contends that nation state relations are influenced by a theory of trauma ascendant with the rise of neoliberalism Such use of trauma theory regarding human rights corresponds to a therapeutic narrative by Western governments negotiating with Indigenous nations as they seek self determination Focusing on Canada and drawing comparisons with the United States and Australia Million brings a genealogical understanding of trauma against a historical filter Illustrating how Indigenous people are positioned differently in Canada Australia and the United States in their articulation of trauma the author particularly addresses the violence against women as a language within a greater politic The book introduces an Indigenous feminist critique of this violence against the medicalized framework of addressing trauma and looks to the larger goals of decolonization Noting the influence of humanitarian psychiatry Million goes on to confront the implications of simply dismissing Indigenous healing and storytelling traditions Therapeutic Nations is the first book to demonstrate affect and trauma's wide ranging historical origins in an Indigenous setting offering insights into community healing programs The author's theoretical sophistication and original research make the book relevant across a range of disciplines as it challenges key concepts of American Indian and Indigenous studies

When the Other is Me Emma LaRocque, 2011-03-10 In this long awaited book from one of the most recognized and respected scholars in Native Studies today Emma LaRocque presents a powerful interdisciplinary study of the Native literary response to racist writing in the Canadian historical and literary record from 1850 to 1990 In When the Other is Me LaRocque brings a metacritical approach to Native writing situating it as resistance literature within and outside the postcolonial intellectual context She outlines the overwhelming evidence of dehumanization in Canadian historical and literary writing its effects on both popular culture and Canadian intellectual development and Native and non Native intellectual responses to it in light of the interlayered mix of romanticism exaggeration of Native difference and the continuing problem of internalization that challenges our understanding of the colonizer colonized relationship
