Species Of Mind:

Species of Mind Colin Allen, Marc Bekoff, 1999-07-26 The heart of this book is the reciprocal relationship between philosophical theories of mind and empirical studies of animal cognition Colin Allen a philosopher and Marc Bekoff a cognitive ethologist approach their work from a perspective that considers arguments about evolutionary continuity to be as applicable to the study of animal minds and brains as they are to comparative studies of kidneys stomachs and hearts Cognitive ethologists study the comparative evolutionary and ecological aspects of the mental phenomena of animals Philosophy can provide cognitive ethology with an analytical basis for attributing cognition to nonhuman animals and for studying it and cognitive ethology can help philosophy to explain mentality in naturalistic terms by providing data on the evolution of cognition This interdisciplinary approach reveals flaws in common objections to the view that animals have minds The heart of the book is this reciprocal relationship between philosophical theories of mind and empirical studies of animal cognition All theoretical discussion is carefully tied to case studies particularly in the areas of antipredatory vigilance and social play where there are many points of contact with philosophical discussions of intentionality and representation Allen and Bekoff make specific suggestions about how to use philosophical theories of intentionality as starting points for empirical investigation of animal minds and they stress the importance of studying animals other than nonhuman primates The Animal Mind Kristin Andrews, 2014-10-30 The study of animal cognition raises profound questions about the minds of animals and philosophy of mind itself Aristotle argued that humans are the only animal to laugh but in recent experiments rats have also been shown to laugh In other experiments dogs have been shown to respond appropriately to over two hundred words in human language In this introduction to the philosophy of animal minds Kristin Andrews introduces and assesses the essential topics problems and debates as they cut across animal cognition and philosophy of mind She addresses the following key topics what is cognition and what is it to have a mind What questions should we ask to determine whether behaviour has a cognitive basis the science of animal minds explained ethology behaviourist psychology and cognitive ethology rationality in animals animal consciousness what does research into pain and the emotions reveal What can empirical evidence about animal behaviour tell us about philosophical theories of consciousness does animal cognition involve belief and concepts do animals have a Language of Thought animal communication other minds do animals attribute mindedness to other creatures moral reasoning and ethical behaviour in animals animal cognition and memory Extensive use of empirical examples and case studies is made throughout the book These include Cheney and Seyfarth's vervet monkey research Thorndike's cat puzzle boxes Jensen's research into humans and chimpanzees and the ultimatum game Pankseep and Burgdorf's research on rat laughter and Clayton and Emery's research on memory in scrub jays Additional features such as chapter summaries annotated further reading and a glossary make this an indispensable introduction to those teaching philosophy of mind animal cognition It will also be an excellent resource for those in fields such as ethology biology and psychology

Platonic Theology Marsilio Ficino, 2001 The Platonic Theology is a visionary work and the philosophical masterpiece of Marsilio Ficino 1433 1499 the Florentine scholar philosopher magus who was largely responsible for the Renaissance revival of Plato A student of the Neoplatonic schools of Plotinus and Proclus he was committed to reconciling Platonism with Christianity in the hope that such a reconciliation would initiate a spiritual revival and return of the golden age His Platonic evangelizing was eminently successful and widely influential and his Platonic Theology translated into English for the first time in this edition is one of the keys to understanding the art thought culture and spirituality of the Renaissance This is the fifth of a projected six volumes

Philosophy of Mind in the Early Modern and Modern Ages Rebecca Copenhaver, 2018-07-06 The early modern period is arguably the most pivotal of all in the study of the mind teeming with a variety of conceptions of mind Some of these posed serious questions for assumptions about the nature of the mind many of which still depended on notions of the soul and God It is an era that witnessed the emergence of theories and arguments that continue to animate the study of philosophy of mind such as dualism vitalism materialism and idealism Covering pivotal figures in philosophy such as Descartes Hobbes Kant Leibniz Cavendish and Spinoza Philosophy of Mind in the Early Modern and Modern Ages provides an outstanding survey of philosophy of mind of the period Following an introduction by Rebecca Copenhaver sixteen specially commissioned chapters by an international team of contributors discuss key topics thinkers and debates including Hobbes Descartes philosophy of mind and its early critics consciousness the later Cartesians Malebranche Cavendish Locke Spinoza Descartes and Leibniz perception and sensation desires mental substance and mental activity Hume and Kant Essential reading for students and researchers in philosophy of mind enlightenment philosophy and the history of philosophy Philosophy of Mind in the Early Modern and Modern Ages is also a valuable resource for those in related disciplines such as religion history of psychology and history of science

Mind Changer James White, 2010-04-01 It s where human and alien medicine meet a massive hospital space station on the Galactic Rim with 384 levels and a multispecies staff of thousands In the course of practicing deep space medicine that staff has seen more than its share of challenges from plagues caused by cafeteria food to cafeteria food that resembles alien species But now they are facing a disquieting new development the terrifying Chief Psychologist Dr O Mara has been promoted to head of the hospital Worse he s been given the job on a temporary basis for just as long as it takes to train his own replacement After that he is up for mandatory retirement Nobody at Sector General can begin to imagine what they ll do without him assuming they last long enough to find out This is White s finest performance replete with wit originality medical expertise and sheer decency Publishers Weekly At the Publisher s request this title is being sold without Digital Rights Management Software DRM applied

John Wyclif Stephen Edmund Lahey,2008-12-08 John Wyclif d 1384 has too frequently been described as Morning Star of the Reformation and only recently begun to be studied as a fourteenth century English philosopher and theologian This work draws on recent scholarship situating Wyclif in his fourteenth century milieu to present a survey of his thought and writings as a coherent theological position arising from Oxford s Golden Age of theology Lahey argues that many of Wyclif s best known critiques of the fourteenth century Church arise from his philosophical commitment to an Augustinian realism evocative of the thought of Robert Grosseteste and Anselm of Canterbury This realism is comprehensible in terms of Wyclif s sustained focus on semantics and the properties of terms and propositions a linguistic turn characterizing post Ockham philosophical theology Arising from this propositional realism is a strong emphasis on the place of Scripture in both formal and applied theology which was the starting point for many of Wyclif s quarrels with the ecclesiastical status quo in late fourteenth century England This survey takes into account both Wyclif s earlier philosophical works and his later works including sermons and Scripture commentary Wyclif s belief that Scripture is the eternal and perfect divine word the paradigm of human discourse and the definitive embodiment of truth in creation is central to an understanding of the ties he believes relate theoretical and practical philosophy to theology This connection links Wyclif s interest in the propositional structure of reality to his realism his hermeneutic program and to his agenda for reform of the Church Lahey s survey also highlights Wyclif s rejection of Bradwardine s determinism in favor of a model of human freedom in light of God s perfect foreknowledge and also explores the relation of Wyclif s spatiotemporal atomism to his rejection of transubstantiation This is the first book length comprehensive survey of Wyclif s thought and will be of interest to students of later medieval theology philosophy history and literature

The Mind's Web: Unraveling the Mysteries of Human Evolution Pasquale De Marco,2025-07-19 In the vast tapestry of life humans stand as a testament to the extraordinary power of evolution Our journey as a species has been marked by remarkable adaptations intricate social structures and an unparalleled capacity for innovation In this captivating book we embark on an intellectual odyssey to unravel the mysteries of human evolution exploring the depths of our psychology and uncovering the secrets of our behavior We begin our exploration by tracing the evolutionary path that led from our humble primate ancestors to the dominant species we are today We delve into the significance of bipedalism toolmaking and language in shaping our unique human experience We encounter the enigmatic Neanderthals and Denisovans our extinct cousins who once shared the Earth with us and investigate the reasons for their disappearance Moving forward we dissect the intricate workings of the human mind examining the neural architecture that underpins our thoughts emotions and behaviors We explore the fascinating concept of neuroplasticity the brain s ability to adapt and change throughout our lives We also investigate the enigmatic nature of consciousness the subjective experience of our own existence and the relationship between the brain and the mind Our journey extends to the realm of evolutionary psychology where we examine the interplay between our evolutionary heritage and our psychological traits We investigate the evolutionary roots of mate selection parenting aggression cooperation morality and religion We explore how these psychological mechanisms have shaped our behavior and social interactions throughout history and continue to influence our lives today Finally we peer into the future of human evolution contemplating the potential for further evolutionary change We examine the impact of technology genetic engineering and other factors on our evolutionary trajectory We also consider the ethical implications of human enhancement and the choices we face as we shape the destiny of our species This book is an invitation to embark on a journey of self discovery to explore the depths of our own minds and to gain a deeper understanding of the human condition Through this exploration we will come to appreciate the remarkable complexity and resilience of our species and the profound interconnectedness of all life on Earth If you like this book write a review
