Reauthorization of the Higher Education Act, 1985 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Labor and Human Resources. Subcommittee on Education, Arts, and Humanities,1985      Welcoming Practices Ron Avi Astor,Linda Jacobson,Stephanie L. Wrabel,Rami Benbenishty,Diana Pineda,2017-09-21 Students change schools for a variety of reasons and some students change more often than others a reality that can leave them feeling emotionally disconnected and often academically at risk Welcoming Practices summarizes the research on school transition and makes a case for why schools need to do a better job of welcoming new children and families and following up with them over time Arriving at a moment in history in which schools are increasing attention on students social and emotional development this book captures the innovative practices that some institutions are using to connect with new students and provides practical strategies that all schools can use to make both students and parents feel a part of the school and community The book discusses how to use technology to improve families experiences in their new schools provides strategies appropriate at the school and district levels and gives schools suggestions for practices that are best suited for younger students as well as for those at middle and high school levels      Resources in Education ,1997      Higher Education and Silicon Valley W. Richard Scott,Michael W. Kirst,2017-09-01 A data rich study of the difficult partnerships between the colleges universities and businesses of Silicon Valley Universities and colleges often operate between two worlds higher education and economic systems With a mission rooted in research teaching and public service institutions of higher learning are also economic drivers in their regions under increasing pressure to provide skilled workers to local companies It is impossible to understand how current developments are affecting colleges without attending to the changes in both the higher education system and in the economic communities in which they exist W Richard Scott Michael W Kirst and colleagues focus on the changing relations between colleges and companies in one vibrant economic region the San Francisco Bay Area Colleges and tech companies they argue have a common interest in knowledge generation and human capital but they operate in social worlds that substantially differ making them uneasy partners Colleges are a part of a long tradition that stresses the importance of precedent academic values and liberal education High tech companies by contrast value innovation and know how and they operate under conditions that reward rapid response to changing opportunities The economy is changing faster than the postsecondary education system Drawing on quantitative and historical data from 1970 to 2012 as well as 14 case studies of colleges this book describes a rich and often tense relationship between higher education and the tech industry It focuses on the ways in which various types of colleges have endeavored and often failed to meet the demands of a vibrant economy and concludes with a discussion of current policy recommendations suggestions for improvements and reforms at the state level and a proposal to develop a regional body to better align educational and economic development      Hispanics access to higher
