Toward a Common Hope Robert Allan Hill,2018-11-21 Our churches and our country long for an expression of common hope Over the last century venerable voices in affirmation of a common faith and a common ground have been lifted and heard in Boston such as those of John Dewey and Howard Thurman The Dean of Marsh Chapel Robert Allan Hill has preached on themes related to a common hope since 2006 Hill has lifted the theology of hope of a common hope at the marrow of the gospel We cherish our forebears who taught about a common faith and preached a common ground In church and culture today in America it is the prospect of a lasting sturdy shared hope more purple than either blue or red for which we hunger The sermons about a common hope collected here were preached at the Chautauqua Institution in August of 2017

Who Said I Was Up For Adoption? Colin Chappell, 2016-05-06 Is there any expression of FRIENDSHIP as endearing as a dog voluntarily touching its nose to yours When Colin Chappell contemplated the idea of adopting a dog he did so warily for he had seldom spent time with dogs and one of his primary canine experiences came when he was bitten by a German Shepherd at age fourteen He certainly was unprepared for the complexities of caring for the seventy five pounds of rescued furry attitude he encountered in Ray But perhaps what he was even more unprepared for were the emotions he would feel once Ray invited him to be his friend Who

Said I Was Up For Adoption tells the evolving story of this adoption though it remains unclear just who did the adopting. Funny, heartwarming and emotional. Colin and Ray's story is really two stories for part of learning to let an adopted dog into one's life is learning to see from a perspective other than your own. True to that knowledge, the book is narrated from parallel, alternating viewpoints. Colin's and Ray's. All net profits from sales of Who Said I Was Up For Adoption will be donated to the Oakville and Milton Humane Society, a remarkable organization that rescues and rehabilitates dogs and many other creatures and matches them with suitable loving humans.

A Need to Testify Iris Origo, 2002. Introduction by Ted Morgan. When originally released in the early 1980s, New Statesman called Origo's final book a sensitive and beautifully written book by a remarkable writer. Available again in this new edition, Origo's memoir tells the story of four friends: writer Lauro de Bosis, American monologist Ruth Draper, the historian Gaetano Salvemini, and author of Fontamara and Bread and Wine, Ignazio Silone, each of whom made various life sacrifices in the fight for a non-fascist Italy. Illustrated throughout with photos.

A Place to Belong Gerald L. Pocius, 2000. A Place to Belong is a profusely illustrated, intimate contemporary portrait of Calvert, a three hundred year old fishing village on Newfoundland's southern shore. Often using its residents' own words, Gerald Pocius describes in detail the continual creative encounters between past and present, between individual and community that make up daily life in Calvert. By accepted standards of tradition, Calvert's culture is declining. Old structures are regularly torn down or renovated; antique household items are replaced with modern conveniences. Pocius argues, however, that the tangible expressions of a culture can be misleading. Calvert's essence is not in the things owned and used by its residents but in the spaces in which those things abide and in the attitudes, values and obligations that delineate the order of those spaces. From woodlands, water and fields to yards, gardens and homes, Calvert's physical and social structure is governed by shared concerns about the community's livelihood and welfare. As a resident of Calvert puts it: "Where you're working in the same space with people you know, it's just not practical to be falling out with everyone." The sense of community that pervades Calvert is best exemplified by its annual draw for fishing berths. Because productivity varies among offshore fishing grounds, there is no private ownership of fishing rights. Rather, a lottery instituted in 1919 ensures each family the same chances for periodic access to the best fishing berths. The draw continues until all the fishing berths are awarded, but it is common for a family to opt out once they have drawn enough good berths. There are also instances of the most successful fishing operations sharing their catches. From his observations of Calvert's people at work and leisure, Pocius provides evidence to confirm the viability and durability of their culture. He reveals that standard assumptions about culture are inadequate, particularly those based on the primacy of artefacts and on sharp dichotomies between tradition and modernity. Calvert, he shows, belies our notion that declining cultural values and social segmentation are unavoidable side effects of modernisation and a rise in material well-being. A Place to Belong will promote a constructive scepticism about the ways we perceive and interpret cultures and most important, will remind us of what it really means to belong to a place.
