

The Summer Day

by Mary Oliver

Who made the world?
Who made the swan, and the black bear?
Who made the grasshopper?
This grasshopper, I mean –
the one who has flung herself out of the grass,
the one who is eating sugar out of my hand,
who is moving her jaws back and forth instead of up and down –
who is gazing around with her enormous and complicated eyes.
Now she lifts her pale forearms
and thoroughly washes her face.
Now she snaps her wings open, and floats away.
I don't know exactly what a prayer is.
I do know how to pay attention, how to fall down into the grass, how to kneel down in the grass,
how to be idle and blessed,
how to stroll through the fields,
which is what I have been doing all day.
Tell me, what else should I have done?
Doesn't everything die at last, and too soon?
Tell me, what is it you plan to do with your one wild and precious life?

the complexities of race and colonialism through a vivid sensory lens Lindsay often referred to as the Prairie Poet was deeply influenced by his Midwestern roots and his early experiences with theater and visual art His fascination with African American culture and music spurred on by the social changes of his time is palpable throughout his work His commitment to using poetry as a means of social commentary led him to represent marginalized voices ultimately shaping his role as a trailblazer in American literature and a precursor to the modern spoken word movement This collection is a must read for enthusiasts of American poetry as it not only showcases Lindsay s innovative style but also serves as an important cultural document Readers seeking to deepen their understanding of the interplay between art and social issues will find Lindsay s work both compelling and thought provoking fostering a greater awareness of the enduring relevance of these themes in today s society
