An American Book Award winner's creative memoir traces his own family's history as well as the long story of Hispanics in America Spirited writing Library Journal People who live in California deny the past asserts Alejandro Murguía In a state where what matters is keeping up with the current trends fads or latest computer gizmo no one has the time energy or desire to reflect on what happened last week much less what happened ten years ago or a hundred From this oblivion of memory he continues comes a false sense of history a deluded belief that the way things are now is the way they have always been In this work of creative nonfiction Murguía draws on memories his own and his family's reaching back to the eighteenth century to re construct the forgotten Chicano indigenous history of California He tells the story through significant moments in California history including the birth of the mestizo in Mexico destruction of Indian lifeways under the mission system violence toward Mexicanos during the Gold Rush Chicano farm life in the early twentieth century the Chicano Movement of the 1960s Chicano Latino activism in San Francisco in the 1970s and the current rebirth of Chicano Indio culture Rejecting the notion that history is always written by the victors and refusing to be one of the vanquished he records and draws us into his own California history architecture landscape design and advertising Fox's history of the region both natural and cultural highlights the creep of the urban supergrid across the most extensively traveled desert in the world This is a profoundly personal even idiosyncratic book about the most public of subjects living in the postmodern West at the end of the millennium and what the cities the freeways the open spaces and the billboards tell us about ourselves The Politics of Public Memory Martha K.

Norkunas,1993-01-01 This book examines American public culture and the means by which communities in the U S reconstruct the past and reinterpret the present in the development of tourism Norkunas shows how public culture is not confined to just museums or monuments but can be constructed on many different levels and in different settings such as community ethnicity natural setting environment literary landscape and history In her case study of Monterey the author explores the particular ideologies that prompt the community to represent itself in tourism and that also act to legitimate the current social structure Mountains Of Memory Don Scheese,2001-11 In Mountains of Memory seasoned wilderness dweller Don Scheese charts a long season of watching for and fighting fires in Idaho's River of No Return Wilderness 151the
