Sweet Dreams In America Making Ethics And Spirituality Work:

Sweet Dreams in America Sharon D. Welch,1999 Welch charts a way for people in power to inspire others and themselves even if the goals of a gradually improving society and achieving social justice seem illusory Linking political work to spirituality she shows readers how to channel the sense of being connected to forces outside themselves to a larger good

Sweet Dreams in America Sharon D. Welch,2016-04-22 What does it mean to be an American during this time of ongoing challenges of race and sex discrimination of violence and gross disparities in economic opportunity And where are the activists who traditionally rallied against the ills of America the democrats progressives and leftists to seize upon these enemies In Sweet Dreams in America Sharon Welch charts a way for people in power to inspire others and themselves even if the goals of a gradually improving society and of achieving social justice seem illusory The author links political work to spirituality showing how we can channel the sense of being connected to forces outside ourselves to a larger good

Dismantling Privilege: Mary Elizabeth Hobgood,2009-05-01 Mary Elizabeth Hobgood s bestselling Dismantling Privilege An Ethics of Accountability reminds us the categories of gender race and class are not biological givens but social constructs used to suppress some groups while giving power to others diminishing the lives of all humankind and forestalling the possibility of a better society Hobgood s proposed solution a politics of accountability and solidarity resonates throughout this new edition which also includes a fresh introduction updated statistics and a concluding chapter targeting ecological crisis as the most pressing concern for accountable disciples Additionally the book looks to the political stirrings in Africa and Latin America for inspiration in building the movement

Disability and Christian Theology Embodied Limits and Constructive Possibilities Deborah Beth Creamer,2009-01-05 Attention to embodiment and the religious significance of bodies is one of the most significant shifts in contemporary theology In the midst of this however experiences of disability have received little attention This book explores possibilities for theological engagement with disability focusing on three primary alternatives challenging existing theological models to engage with the disabled body considering possibilities for a disability liberation theology and exploring new theological options based on an understanding of the unsurprisingness of human limits The overarching perspective of this book is that limits are an unavoidable aspect of being human a fact we often seem to forget or deny Yet not only do all humans experience limits most of us also experience limits that take the form of disability at some point in our lives in this way disability is more normal than non disability If we take such experiences seriously and refuse to reduce them to mere instances of suffering we discover insights that are lost when we take a perfect or generic body as our starting point for theological reflections While possible applications of this insight are vast this work focuses on two areas of particular interest theological anthropology and metaphors for God This project challenges theology to consider the undeniable diversity of human embodiment It also enriches previous disability work by providing an alternative to the dominant medical and minority models both of which fail to acknowledge the full diversity of disability experiences Most notably this project offers new images and possibilities for theological construction that attend appropriately and creatively to diversity in human embodiment

How to Talk About Hot Topics on Campus Robert J. Nash, DeMethra LaSha Bradley, Arthur W. Chickering, 2008-02-04 How to Talk About Hot Topics on Campus fills a gap in the student services and teaching and learning literature by providing a resource that shows how to construct and carry out difficult conversations from various vantage points in the academy It offers a theory to practice model of conversation for the entire college campus that will enable all constituencies to engage in productive and civil dialogue on the most difficult and controversial social religious political and cultural topics

Burning Center, Porous Borders Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2011-10-17 Burning Center Porous Borders articulates what the church is and is called to be about in the world a world now globalized to the point that the local is lived globally and the global is lived locally The church must respond creatively and prophetically to the challenges economic disparity war and terrorism diaspora ecological threat health crisis religious diversity and so on posed by our highly globalized world It can do so only if the church's spiritual center burns mightily Conversely it can burn mightily in the spirit of Christ only if its borders are porous and allows the fresh air spirit of change to blow in and out While there is much rhetoric about change the most common response to change is to continue doing business as usual This is particularly the case in the face of perceived global threats In spite of the hoopla and euphoria of the global village walls of division and exclusion are rising hearts are constricting and moral imagination shrinking In response to this context Burning Center Porous Borders proposes alternative ways or images of being a church burning center and porous borders wall buster and bridge builder translocal glocal mending healer radical hospitality community of the earth spirit household of life abundant dialogians of life and community of hope In Burning Center Porous Borders congregational vitality and progressive praxis kiss and embrace

Who is Afraid of Postmodernism? Stephan Erp, André Lascaris, 2005 To the authors of this book today's world is postmodern They see a fragmented world It seems to have become implausible to find a common point of view a unity in purpose or truth Postmodernity challenges Christian faith because it appears to go against the very grain of a sense of tradition communion and commitment On the eve of his election pope Benedict XVI warned against the dictatorship of relativism Would it still be possible to find genuine Christian ways to live in postmodern times This collection of essays by a group of Dutch theologians will stimulate the imagination of anyone who reads them

Theological Perspectives for Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness A. Isasi-Diaz, M. Fulkerson, R. Carbine, 2013-11-07 Rather than wield religion as a weapon or a ruse in irrational appeals the book attempts to reimagine a shared American mythos and ethos by reminding us of our shared stake in creating an America committed to the life of all peoples and species and to the full developments of our capabilities as an exercise of liberty

Overcoming Religious Illiteracy D. Moore, 2007-10-02 In Overcoming Religious Illiteracy Harvard professor and Phillips Academy teacher Diane L Moore argues that though the United States is one of the most religiously diverse nations in the world the vast majority of citizens are woefully ignorant about religion itself and the basic tenets of the world's major religious traditions The consequences of this religious illiteracy are profound and include fueling the culture wars curtailing historical understanding and promoting religious and racial bigotry In this volume Moore combines theory with practice to articulate how to incorporate the study of religion into the schools in ways that will invigorate classrooms and enhance democratic discourse in the public sphere
