The Lost Continent Edgar Rice Burroughs, Charles John Cutcliffe Wright Hyne, 1994-01-01

We were both of us not a little stiff as the result of sleeping out in the open all that night for even in Grand Canary the dew fall and the comparative chill of darkness are not to be trifled with For myself on these occasions I like a bit of a run as an early refresher But here on this rough ground in the middle of the island there were not three yards of level to be found and so as Coppinger proceeded to go through some sort of dumb bell exercises with a couple of lumps of bristly lava I followed his example Coppinger has done a good deal of roughing it in his time but being a doctor of medicine amongst other things he takes out a new degree of some sort on an average every other year he is great on health theories and practises them like a religion There had been rain two days before and as there was still a bit of stream trickling along at the bottom of the barranca we went down there and had a wash and brushed our teeth Greatest luxury imaginable a toothbrush on this sort of expedition Now said Coppinger when we had emptied our pockets there s precious little grub left and it s none the better for being carried in a local Spanish newspaper Yours is mostly tobacco ashes It ll get worse if we leave it We ve a lot more bad scrambling ahead of us That was obvious So we sat down beside the stream there at the bottom of the barranca and ate up all of what was left It was a ten mile tramp to the fonda at Santa Brigida where we had set down our traps and as Coppinger wanted to take a lot more photographs and measurements before we left this particular group of caves it was likely we should be pretty sharp set before we got our next meal and our next taste of the PATRON S splendid old country wine My faith If only they knew down in the English hotels in Las Palmas what magnificent wines one could get with diplomacy up in some of the mountain villages the old vintage would become a thing of the past in a week Now to tell the truth the two mummies he had gathered already quite satisfied my small ambition The goatskins in which they were sewn up were as brittle as paper and the poor old things themselves gave out dust like a puffball whenever they were touched But you know what Coppinger is He thought he d come upon traces of an old Guanche university or sacred college or something of that kind like the one there is on the other side of the island and he wouldn t be satisfied till he d ransacked every cave in the whole face of the cliff He d plenty of stuff left for the flashlight thing and twenty eight more films in his kodak and said we might as well get through with the job then as make a return journey all on purpose So he took the crowbar and I shouldered the rope and away we went up to the ridge of the cliff where we had got such a baking from the sun the day before Of course these caves were not easy to come at or else they would have been raided years before Coppinger who on principle makes out he knows all about these things says that in the old Guanche days they had ladders of goatskin rope which they could pull up when they were at home and so keep out undesirable callers and as no other plan occurs to me perhaps he may be right

Anyway the mouths of the caves were in a more or less level row thirty feet below the ridge of the cliff and fifty feet above the bottom and Spanish curiosity doesn't go in much where it cannot walk. Now laddering such caves from below would have been cumbersome but a light knotted rope is easily carried and though it would have been hard to climb up this our plan was to descend on each cave mouth from above and then slip down to the foot of the cliffs and start again. AB INITIO for the next Coppinger is plucky enough and he has a good head on a height but there is no getting over the fact that he is portly and nearer fifty than forty five. So you can see he must have been pretty keen. Of course I went first each time and got into the cave mouth and did what I could to help him in but when you have to walk down a vertical cliff face fly fashion with only a thin bootlace of a rope for support it is not much real help the man below can give except offer you his best wishes. I wanted to save him as much as I could and as the first three caves I climbed to were small and empty seeming to be merely store places I asked him to take them for granted and save himself the rest. But he insisted on clambering down to each one in person and as he decided that one of my granaries was a prison and another a pot making factory and another a schoolroom for young priests he naturally said he hadn't much reliance on my judgment and would have to go through the whole lot himself. You know what these thorough going archaeologists are for imagination.
