

The background of the slide is a dark blue field filled with numerous small, glowing green and yellow circular spots, resembling a microscopic view of cells or a data visualization. On the right side, a white DNA double helix structure is depicted, extending from the top towards the bottom. At the very bottom right, a colorful signal waveform, transitioning from blue to red, is shown. The title 'Symbolic Computing' is prominently displayed in the center-left area in a large, bold, white serif font.
