thorough examination of up to date case studies of educational provision to travelling communities and indigenous people in their homelands or in host countries Education is usually under utilised during phases of transition In many instances indigenous groups and travelling people including nomads do not have educational opportunities equal to that of their settled counterpart citizens For such groups this results in early school leaving high school drop out rates low school attendance and low success rates Indeed indigenous traveling and nomadic groups often begin their working life at an early age and often experience difficulties penetrating the formal employment arena In this volume international researchers analyse the internal and external factors affecting educational provision to travelling nomadic and indigenous groups A comparative examination of the issues is enabled through the global case studies including the Roma people in Europe indigenous groups in Malaysia the Gypsies of England the Travellers of Ireland the Sami nomadic people of Scandinavia and Russia as well as the Amazonian Indians of Latin America Handbook of Curriculum Theory, Research, and Practice Peter Pericles

Trifonas, Susan Jagger, 2024-02-22 This Handbook paints a portrait of what the international field of curriculum entails in theory research and practice It represents the field accurately and comprehensively by preserving the individual voices of curriculum theorist researchers and practitioners in relation to the ideas rules and principles that have evolved out of the history of curriculum as theory research and practice dealing with specific and general issues Due to its approach to both specific and general curriculum issues the chapters in this volume vary with respect to scope Some engage the purposes and politics of schooling in general Others focus on particular topics such as evaluation the use of instructional objectives or curriculum integration They illustrate recurrent themes and historical antecedents and the curricular debates arising from and grounded in epistemological traditions Furthermore the issues raised in the handbook cut across a variety of subject areas and levels of education and how curricular research and practice have developed over time This includes the epistemological foundations of dominant ideas in the field around theory research and practice that have led to marginalization based on race class gender sexuality ethnicity age religion and ability The book argues that basic curriculum issues extend well beyond schooling to include the concerns of anyone interested in how people come to acquire the knowledge skills and values that they do in relation to subjectivity and experience Super Dimensions in Globalisation and Education David R. Cole, Christine Woodrow, 2016-02-05 This volume is the first major production of the globalisation research strand of the Centre for Educational Research at Western Sydney University This book makes a significant contribution to the theory of and research in globalisation and education and tackles the topics of superdiversity and supercomplexity The book's thesis is that the effects of globalisation on education can only be understood if the specific yet complex conditions of globalisation in education are investigated The book takes an international approach to understanding globalisation and does not restrict itself to just one methodological or theoretical plane of investigation Education is one of these frontline domains in which the effects of superdiversity cannot be dismissed minimized or denied The continuously increasing complexity of learning environments is raising critical issues at every level from description over analysis to theoretical generalization and this book is a first and fruitful attempt at charting these waters This pioneering book will remain a key text for many years to come Jan Bloomaert Professor of Language Culture and Globalization and Director of the Babylon Center Tilburg University the Netherlands This provocative collection works from two premises that today there is superdiversity in our globalised world and related is a supercomplexity of theoretical and methodological approaches The collection proffers multifarious challenges for educational theory research and practice in working with through and across these two premises As such Super Dimensions in Globalisation and Education is essential reading for all educational researchers whatever their interests or location Professor Bob Lingard The University of Queensland Australia This is a highly imaginative book that stops flat earth and convergence arguments dead in their tracks Its genius is to bring super complexity and super diversity into a conversation with each other and with education and in doing so shed light on the numerous and unexpected ways in which global processes are shaping education in revealing and compelling ways Any scholar concerned with globalisation and education will find Super Dimensions in Globalisation and Education a must have on their reading list Professor Susan Robertson Director of the Centre for Globalisation Education and Social Futures University of Bristol UK This is an absorbing and compelling collection It takes readers on a kaleidoscopic journey through various intricate expressions of the nexus between globalisation and education And it offers multiple ways that such expressions can be thought and rethought In transcending conventional categorisations it invites educators to do so too Professor Jane Kenway Australian Professorial Fellow Australian Research Council Education Faculty Monash University Australia

Elites, Language, and the Politics of Identity Gregg Bucken-Knapp, 2012-02-01 Why and when do linguistic cleavages within a nation become politicized Using Norway where language has played a particularly salient role in the nation's history as a case study Gregg Bucken Knapp explores these questions and challenges the notion that the politicization of language conflict is a response to language problems He shows that political elites often view language conflict as a political opportunity placing it on the policy agenda as an effective mobilizing tool to serve their own nonlinguistic political ends Although language oriented interest groups may fight to achieve desired language policies they are generally unsuccessful when their preferences clash with the broader objectives of political elites This book focuses on understanding just how language policies emerge

Thomas, Laura Savatgy, Kristina Klimovich, 2016-09-15 Politics in Alaska have changed significantly since the last major book on the subject was published more than twenty years ago with the rise and fall of Sarah Palin and the rise and fall of oil prices being but two of the many developments to alter the political landscape This book the most comprehensive on the subject to date focuses on the question of how beliefs institutions personalities and power interact to shape Alaska politics and public policy Drawing on these interactions the contributors explain how and why certain issues get dealt with successfully and others unsuccessfully and why some issues are taken up quickly while others are not addressed at all This comprehensive guide to the political climate of Alaska will be essential to anyone studying the politics of America's largest and in some ways most unusual state Teaching Transformed Roland Tharp, 2018-02-12 The social organization of teaching and learning particularly in classrooms has not yet been recognized as a foundational element of education However social constructionist views of human development cognition and schooling as well as the increasing challenges of cultural and linguistic diversity make it a vital concern for teachers researchers and policymakers This book introduces the concept of educational social organization assembles the pertinent theory and evidence and suggests future directions for training and policy The four goals of school reform academic excellence fairness inclusion and harmony can be achieved simultaneously by transforming the final common pathway of all school reform instructional activity Teaching Transformed is a new vision for classrooms based on consensus research findings and unified practice prescriptions explained and justified by new developments in sociocultural theory and clarified by an explicit five phase developmental guide for achieving that transformation Teaching Transformed is both visionary and practical both theoretical and data driven and determined to create effective education for all students Professional educators parents and any reader concerned with saving our schools will find this book necessary to understand our current plight and to envision a realistic means of transformation

Transforming the Culture of Schools Jerry Lipka,With Gerald V. Mohatt,Esther Ilutsik,2014-01-21 This book speaks directly to issues of equity and school transformation and shows how one indigenous minority teachers group engaged in a process of transforming schooling in their community Documented in one small locale far removed from mainstream America the personal narratives by Yup k Eskimo teachers address the very heart of school reform The teachers struggles portray the first in a series of steps through which a group of Yup k teachers and university colleagues began a slow process of reconciling cultural differences and conflict between the culture of the school and the culture of the community The story told in this book goes well beyond documenting individual narratives by providing examples and insights for others who are involved in creating culturally responsive education that fundamentally changes the role and relationship of teachers and community to schooling

More Than God Demands Anthony Urvina,Sally Urvina,2016-03-15 Near the turn of the twentieth century the territorial government of Alaska put its support behind a project led by Christian missionaries to convert Alaska Native peoples and along the way bring them into civilized American citizenship Establishing missions in a number of areas inhabited by Alaska Natives the program was an explicit attempt to erase ten thousand years of Native culture and replace it with Christianity and an American frontier ethic Anthony Urvina whose mother was an orphan raised at one of the missions established as part of this program draws on details from her life in order to present the first full history of this missionary effort Smoothly combining personal and regional history he tells the story of his mother s experience amid a fascinating account of Alaska Native life and of the men and women who came to Alaska to spread the word of Christ confident in their belief and unable to see the power of the ancient traditions they aimed to supplant

Social Context Reform Paul Thomas,Brad J. Porfilio,Julie Gorlewski,Paul R. Carr,2014-06-20 Currently both the status quo of public education and the No Excuses Reform policies are identical The reform offers a popular and compelling narrative based on the meritocracy and rugged individualism myths that are supposed to define

American idealism This volume will refute this ideology by proposing Social Context Reform a term coined by Paul Thomas which argues for educational change within a larger plan to reform social inequity such as access to health care food higher employment better wages and job security Since the accountability era in the early 1980s policy public discourse media coverage and scholarly works have focused primarily on reforming schools themselves Here the evidence that school only reform does not work is combined with a bold argument to expand the discourse and policy surrounding education reform to include how social school and classroom reform must work in unison to achieve goals of democracy equity and opportunity both in and through public education This volume will include a wide variety of essays from leading critical scholars addressing the complex elements of social context reform all of which address the need to re conceptualize accountability and to seek equity and opportunity in social and education reform
