as art entertainment and commerce Guided by a personal canon of great films Rosenbaum sees in the ongoing hostility toward the idea of a canon shared by many within the field of film studies a missed opportunity both to shape the discussion about cinema and to help inform and guide casual and serious filmgoers alike In Essential Cinema Rosenbaum forcefully argues that canons of great films are more necessary than ever given that film culture today is dominated by advertising executives sixty second film reviewers and other players in the Hollywood publicity machine who champion mediocre films at the expense of genuinely imaginative and challenging works He proposes specific definitions of excellence in film art through the creation a personal canon of both well known and obscure movies from around the world and suggests ways in which other canons might be similarly constructed Essential Cinema offers in depth assessments of an astonishing range of films established classics such as Rear Window M and Greed ambitious but flawed works like The Thin Red Line and Breaking the Waves eccentric masterpieces from around the world including Irma Vep and Archangel and recent films that have bitterly divided critics and viewers among them Eyes Wide Shut and A I He also explores the careers of such diverse filmmakers as Robert Altman Ra l Ruiz Frank Tashlin Elaine May Sam Fuller Terrence Davies Edward Yang Hou Hsiao hsien and Orson Welles In conclusion Rosenbaum offers his own film canon of 1 000 key works from the beginning of cinema to the present day A cogent and provocative argument about the art of film Essential Cinema is also a fiercely independent reference book of must see movies for film lovers everywhere

Movies of the '90s Riley Webster,2023-10-19 The 1990s was an amazing decade for movies witnessing the release of dozens of incredible films including The Matrix The Shawshank Redemption Pulp Fiction Goodfellas Fargo Jurassic Park and so many more Despite this embarrassment of riches author Riley Webster believes this decade has never received as much praise or as many kudos as it deserves until now Whether you re a serious cinephile a casual viewer or merely seeking a heavy dose of 1990s nostalgia this is the book for you

Japanese Movie Posters Chuck Stephens,Tetsuya Masuda,Kairakutei Black,2002 While high art Japanese cinema has been documented and analysed in the West the subject of popular and cult Japanese movies has remained largely unexplored The fantastic vintage posters that drew the masses to Kurosawa s samurai flicks Godzilla and sex laden Pink movies have also been locked away to Western audiences This collection of the best of the genre opens up this world of snarling gangsters fire breathing lizards and animated dreams for anyone with a sense of humour

Zatoichi Jonathan Wroot,2021-10-01 The Paths of Zatoichi charts the history and influence of the Japanese film and television franchise about Zatoichi the blind swordsman The franchise is comprised of 29 films and 100 TV episodes starring the famous Shintaro Katsu who starred in 26 of the 29 feature films They all follow the adventures of a blind masseur in medieval Japan who wanders from village to village and often has to defend himself with his deadly sword skills The first film was released in 1962 and the most recent in 2010 These dates demonstrate how the franchise can be used as a means of charting Japanese cinema history via the shifts in production practices and audience preferences which affected the Zatoichi series and numerous other film and TV texts Zatoichi signifies a huge area of Japanese film history which has largely been ignored in much existing scholarly research and yet it can reveal much about the appeal of long running characters

The Grace of Destruction Elena del Río, 2017-11-30 For Elena del Río extreme cinema is not only qualitatively different from the representations of violence we encounter in popular mainstream cinema it also constitutes a critique of the socio moral system that produces in every sense of the word such violence Drawing inspiration from Deleuze's ethics of immanence Spinoza's ethology of passions and Nietzsche's typology of forces The Grace of Destruction examines the affective extremities common in much of global contemporary cinema from the affirmative perspective of vital forces and situations extremities such as moral religious oppression biopolitical violence the pain involved in gender relations the event of death and planetary extinction Her analysis diverges from the current literature on extreme cinema through its selection of films which include key international examples and through its foregrounding of relational affective politics over representations of sexuality and graphic violence Detailed formal and philosophical analyses of films like The White Ribbon Dogville Code Unknown Battle in Heaven Sonatine Fireworks Dolls Takeshis Inland Empire and Melancholia are meant to move us away from the moral appraisal of violence and destruction and to compose an ethological philosophy of cinema based on Deleuze's idea that when truth and judgment crumble there remain bodies which are nothing but forces

Japanese Cinema in the Digital Age Mitsuyo Wada-Marciano, 2012-05-31 Digital technology has transformed cinema's production distribution and consumption patterns and pushed contemporary cinema toward increasingly global markets. In the case of Japanese cinema, a once moribund industry has been revitalized as regional genres such as anime and Japanese horror now challenge Hollywood's preeminence in global cinema. In her rigorous investigations of J horror, personal documentary, anime, and ethnic cinema, Mitsuyo Wada Marciiano deliberates on the role of the transnational in bringing to the mainstream what were formerly marginal B movie genres. She argues persuasively that convergence culture, which these films represent, constitutes Japan's response to the variegated flows of global economics and culture. With its timely analysis of new modes of production emerging from the struggles of Japanese filmmakers and animators to finance and market their work in a post-studio era, this book holds critical implications for the future of other national cinemas fighting to remain viable in a global marketplace. As academics in film and media studies prepare a wholesale shift toward a transnational perspective of film, Wada Marciiano cautions against jettisoning the entire national cinema paradigm. Discussing the technological advances and the new cinematic flows of consumption, she demonstrates that while contemporary Japanese film, on the one hand, expresses the transnational as an object of desire, i.e., a form of total cosmopolitanism, on the other hand, that desire is indeed inseparable from Japan's national identity. Drawing on a substantial number of interviews with auteur directors such as Kore-eda Hirokazu, Kurosawa Kiyoshi, and Kawase Naomi, and incisive analysis of select film texts, this compelling original work challenges the presumption that Hollywood is the only authentically global cinema.

Pop Stars on Film Kirsty Fairclough, Jason Wood, 2023-02-23

Pop stars have provided audiences with performative moments that have become ingrained in popular consciousness. They are a lens through which deeper understandings about race, gender, politics, history, and the artistic process can be understood. When combined with the most affective of mediums, cinema, the combination can be both thrilling and alarming. From the relatively early days of cinema, figures from the world of popular music have made forays into acting and contributed cameo appearances. From Little Richard and Kylie Minogue to Nick Cave and Tom Waits.

Pop Stars On Film: Popular Culture in a Global Market offers a collection of essays on some of the most influential international performances from a diverse range of cultural icons. The book considers industry shifts, access, and diversity, but also the notion of cultural appropriation, audience appeal, marketing, and demographics. Perhaps most importantly, the publication will look at what happens when cultures collide and coalesce.
