Two days from their destination Fate decides to step into their lives and they will be happy to just survive. Sailing to the Edge of Time John Kretschmer, 2018-11-13 John Kretschmer is sailing's practical philosopher as much a doer as a thinker. And that is the overarching theme of this chronicle of a sailing life. Often amusing, sometimes poignant, occasionally terrifying but always inspiring, his deeply personal account is a welcome reminder of the good life waiting at sea. With hundreds of thousands of nautical miles under his keel, John's adventures have taken him several times around the world with challenging crossings of the Atlantic and the Pacific, a narrow escape from a coup in Yemen, an unlikely deliverance from a coral reef off Belize, as well as more serene introspective passages where trade winds are blowing and stories are flowing. His crew has included CEOs, actors, writers, teachers, kids; in essence everyone. John's narrative is interwoven with practical tips and advice in seamanship but also, and just as importantly, his hard won insights about making the most of our lives. He truly believes we find out who we really are and what we are capable of far from the shackles of land when we find a place where time changes shape, days may merge into one another but minutes are memorable. To live adventurously is to live more fully, and that is the life John Kretschmer continues to live. In this book he shares his simple profundities that will inspire those who live to sail and those seeking something more rewarding from life.

The Chicken and the Quetzal Paul Kockelman, 2015-12-30 In The Chicken and the Quetzal Paul Kockelman theorizes the creation, measurement and capture of value by recounting the cultural history of a village in Guatemala's highland cloud forests and its relation to conservation movements and ecotourism. In 1990 a group of German ecologists founded an NGO to help preserve the habitat of the resplendent quetzal the strikingly beautiful national bird of Guatemala near the village of Chicacnab The ecotourism project they established in Chicacnab was meant to provide new sources of income for its residents so they would abandon farming methods that destroyed quetzal habitat The pressure on villagers to change their practices created new values and forced negotiations between indigenous worldviews and the conservationists goals Kockelman uses this story to offer a sweeping theoretical framework for understanding the entanglement of values as they are interpreted and travel across different and often incommensurate ontological worlds His theorizations apply widely to studies of the production of value the changing ways people make value portable and value s relationship to ontology affect and selfhood
