Using Social Emotional Learning to Prevent School Violence Allison Paolini,2022-06-15 Using Social Emotional Learning to Prevent School Violence is an essential resource that seeks to close the existing gap in literature on ways to mitigate school violence as well as to advocate for the integration of social emotional learning in schools In an effort to create culturally responsive student centered and secure school environments this book outlines strategies that highlight the importance of collaboration between critical stakeholders in identifying and mitigating bullying assisting students struggling with relationship building skills grief and loss and anger particularly those that demonstrate the need for power and control or the desire for retaliation Mental health issues are also taken into consideration Proactive responses and best practices are exemplified in order to equip struggling students with resources that foster their well being and success Dr Paolini draws upon extensive research in her depiction of school violence in America s education system and designs lesson plans and activities that address and align with each of the social emotional learning core competencies for both elementary and secondary school counselors This book will be of interest to critical stakeholders in P 12 settings as well as those in higher education particularly as a resource for graduate students training to become transformative school counselors

Strengthening School Counselor Advocacy and Practice for Important Populations and Difficult Topics Rausch, Meredith A.,Gallo, Laura L.,2021-01-29 School counselors often struggle to feel confident in delivering effective assistance to students due to a variety of reasons that currently do not have enough research or information developed This leads to a struggle for counselors to adequately address tough and relevant issues With these issues remaining unaddressed or addressed less effectively there is a concern that school counselors cannot mitigate these issues due to not being adequately informed This can lead to a lifetime of consequences for students Strengthening School Counselor Advocacy and Practice for Important Populations and Difficult Topics presents emerging research that seek to answer the tough and often unaddressed questions target present day issues of student populations and prepare school counselors to feel confident and competent in their counseling and advocacy practice These chapters using the newest information available will address these concerns and provide the best counseling work possible for underserved populations While covering research on counseling for students with chronic illnesses mixed statuses family issues minority students LGBTQ youth and more this book is ideal for school counselors counseling educators practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students who are interested in school counseling and meeting the needs of diverse and important populations of students

Research-based Instructional Practices of Effective Principals C. Steven Bingham,Paula Egelson,Karen L. Sanzo,2018-06-01 Extant literature on evidence based instructional strategies mediated by elementary and secondary school leaders is surprisingly scant Seeking to fill the gap the editors of this book have curated the research and craft knowledge of eminent and emergent practitioner scholars who collectively provide a starting place for aspiring and practicing principals Each author builds on research based instructional practice in schools and districts in which they have worked either as principals or as school university or service provider partners They provide examples action plans frameworks lessons learned and strategies to successfully develop and implement research based instruction and supporting structures in schools and classrooms University principal preparation program planners public school district leaders and alternative leadership preparation providers will find this book eminently useful Similarly members of National Association of Elementary School Principals National Middle School Association National Association of Secondary School Principals University Council of Educational Administration Leadership for School Improvement Special Interest Group Learning and Teaching in Educational Leadership Special Interest Group and American Education Researchers Association Division A will find relevance to their work

Caring in an Unjust World Deborah Eaker-Rich, Jane A. Van Galen, 1996-01-04 The contributors to this book tap into an important but largely unexamined perspective examining how social structures and relationships within schools help to define enable or constrain an ethic of care This sociological critical perspective is used to examine K 12 schooling focusing upon grounded qualitative studies of student groups currently and or historically considered marginal or for whom school presents significant barriers i e African Americans and Hispanics gays and lesbians and women The authors have grappled with the difficulties and opportunities presented by considering multiple perspectives of caring and what that means to those living within schools

Co-ordinating Services for Children and Youth at Risk A World View OECD, 1998-07-17 With 15 30% of our children and youth at risk of failing in school increasing the co ordination of education health and social services is seen as part of the solution This book shows how it is being done in Australia Canada Finland Germany the Netherlands Portugal and the United States
