Caribbean Literature in English Louis James,2014-07-30 Caribbean Literature in English places its subject in its precise regional context The Caribbean generally considered as one area is highly discrete in its topography race and languages including mainland Guyana the Atlantic island of Barbados the Lesser Antilles Trinidad and Jamaica whose size and history gave it an early sense of separate nationhood Beginning with Raleigh s Discoverie of Guiana 1596 this innovative study traces the sometimes surprising evolution of cultures which shared a common experience of slavery but were intimately related to individual local areas The approach is interdisciplinary examining the heritage of the plantation era and the issues of language and racial identity it created From this base Louis James reassesses the phenomenal expansion of writing in the contemporary period He traces the influence of pan Caribbean movements and the creation of an expatriate Caribbean identity in Britain and America Britain is considered as a West Indian island created by colonization in reverse Further sections treat the development of a Caribbean aesthetic and the repossession of cultural roots from Africa and Asia Balancing an awareness of the regional identity of Caribbean literature with an exploration of its place in world and postcolonial literatures this study offers a panoramic view that has become one of the most vital of the new literatures in English This accessible overview of Caribbean writing will appeal to the general reader and student alike and particularly to all who are interested in or studying Caribbean literatures and culture postcolonial studies Commonwealth new literatures and contemporary literature and drama Dictionary of Caribbean English Usage Richard Allsopp,Jeannette Allsopp,2003

This remarkable new dictionary represents the first attempt in some four centuries to record the state of development of English as used across the entire Caribbean region Essays Susan Roberson,2013-08-12 Positioning the Caribbean within the complexes of the world community this collection uses the metaphor of the global Caribbean to discuss the multiple movements identities epistemologies and politics of the West Indies Examining the processes of the transnational transport of peoples languages and literatures between the Caribbean Africa Europe and North America the essays look at the complexities of geographical intellectual and artistic migrations at the ways Caribbean writers negotiate the construction of literary and political identities and the ways in which the Caribbean influenced writers and thinkers in North America or Europe These kinds of reciprocal exchanges locate the islands of the Caribbean within a global context as recipients of multi and trans national influence and as makers of transnational meaning Building on the dynamic processes of globalization this collection suggests that the Caribbean provides a perspective for thinking about multiple intercultural connections with the Caribbean that include antebellum New Englanders the Jews of twentieth century Europe literary artists of seventeenth and eighteenth century England and France and modern pleasure seekers A culturally and linguistically rich region of the world the Caribbean also provides a fascinating literature of its own that is complicated by its history of migration and colonization as well as by its location between continents Tituba, Reluctant Witch of Salem Elaine G.
