Tales from the Valley of Death Ross G. Menzies, Rachel E. Menzies, 2019-11-30 The dread of death is a problem nearly as old as time itself Our awareness of our own mortality has been famously referred to by William James as the worm at the core of human existence lingering in the shadows of our daily lives It is something we must all grapple with Yet increasing scientific evidence suggests that death anxiety may lie at the heart of a multitude of mental health conditions driving numerous clinically relevant behaviours What can we learn about confronting mortality from the tales of individuals who have been gripped by mental illness and the dread of death Tales from the Valley of Death explores the complex lives of individuals who have been crippled by death related fears and related existential issues as revealed by candid interviews with their psychotherapist internationally renowned clinical psychologist Professor Ross Menzies Vivid first hand accounts reveal their private histories core thoughts beliefs and attitudes that drove their mental health dilemmas For some the struggle has gone on for years as they tried different therapies and therapists A platform for the wealth of mental and behavioural processes brought to life through these 10 fascinating tales is provided by Rachel Menzies a leading researcher in death anxiety and daughter of Ross Her engaging introduction on the history and psychological underpinnings of death anxiety bookends neatly with a comprehensive concluding examination of what these stories reveal about its causes and effects As we listen in on the interviews it is hard not to be struck by how fascinating these individuals are how compelling their histories have been and how hard they have fought to overcome their difficulties bravely wading their way through the murky territory of the same existential dilemmas we all must face Their fears range from sudden death by fire to assassins in the shadows from anaphylactic shock to a multitude of diseases from being attacked by dinosaurs lurking in kitchen cupboards to being pushed off cliffs and in front of trains For many the ultimate fear is the wrath of God while for others a lack of meaning and a pervasive sense of pointlessness drove their mental difficulties Tales from the Valley of Death shows us the many ways that the dread of death and fear of impermanence can strike at the heart of the human experience and the power of effective therapy to improve the lives of others

Doors In Rolland Hein, 2018-12-18 George MacDonald

wrote fairy tales for both children and adults to demonstrate the essential role of the imagination in apprehending spiritual truths He explained undefined yet vivid visions of something beyond something which eye has not seen nor ear heard have far more influence than any logical sequences whereby the same things may be demonstrated to the intellect Rolland Hein undertakes to show how MacDonald's tales contain such visions helping readers to experience for themselves glimpses of something beyond and catch exciting insights into eternal truths

The Fairy Tale and Anime Dani Cavallaro, 2014-01-10 Over the last few decades anime has consistently come into fruitful contact with themes images and symbols associated with the fairy tale tradition This critical text focuses on the ways in which fundamental principles of the fairy tale tradition are deployed and hence come to manifest themselves narratively and cinematographically in anime Topics covered include modes of storytelling aesthetics as well as dramatic ethical psychological and social considerations Of particular interest is the way in which allegorical commentaries on cultural and historical issues are illustrated in anime

Sung Tales from the Papua New Guinea Highlands Alan Rumsey, Don Niles, 2011-08-01 The genres of sung tales that are the subject of this volume are one of the most striking aspects of the cultural scene in the Papua New Guinea Highlands Composed and performed by specialist bards they are a highly valued art form From a comparative viewpoint they are remarkable both for their scale and complexity and for the range of variation that is found among regional genres and individual styles Though their existence has previously been noted by researchers working in the Highlands and some recordings made of them most of these genres have not been studied in detail until quite recently mainly because of the challenging range of disciplinary expertise that is required in anthropology linguistics and ethnomusicology This volume presents a set of interrelated studies by researchers in all of those fields and by a Papua New Guinea Highlander who has assisted with the research based on his lifelong familiarity with one of the regional genres The studies presented here all of them previously unpublished and written especially for this volume are of groundbreaking significance not only for specialists in Melanesia or the Pacific but also for readers with a more general interest in comparative poetics mythology musicology or verbal art

Mapping Fairy-Tale Space Christy Williams, 2021-04-27 Examines how popular fairy tales collapse narrative borders and reimagine the genre for the twenty first century Mapping Fairy Tale Space Pastiche and Metafiction in Borderless Tales by Christy Williams uses the metaphor of mapping to examine the narrative strategies employed in popular twenty first century fairy tales It analyzes the television shows Once Upon a Time and Secret Garden a Korean drama the young adult novel series The Lunar Chronicles the Indexing serial novels and three experimental short works of fiction by Kelly Link Some of these texts reconfigure well known fairy tales by combining individual tales into a single storyworld others self referentially turn to fairy tales for guidance These contemporary tales have at their center a crisis about the relevance and sustainability of fairy tales and Williams argues that they both engage the fairy tale as a relevant genre and remake it to create a new kind of fairy tale Mapping Fairy Tale Space is divided into two parts Part 1 analyzes fairy tale texts that collapse multiple distinct fairy tales so they inhabit the same storyworld transforming the fairy tale genre into a fictional geography of borderless tales Williams examines the complex narrative restructuring enabled by this form of mash up and expands postmodern arguments to suggest that fairy tale pastiche is a critical mode of retelling that celebrates the fairy tale genre while it critiques outdated ideological constructs Part 2 analyzes the metaphoric use of fairy tales as maps or guides for lived experience In these texts characters use fairy tales both to navigate and to circumvent their own situations but the tales are ineffectual maps until the characters chart different paths and endings for themselves or reject the tales as maps altogether Williams focuses on how inventive narrative and visual storytelling techniques enable metafictional commentary on fairy tales in the texts themselves Mapping Fairy Tale Space argues that in remaking the fairy tale genre these texts do not so much chart unexplored territory as they approach existing fairy tale space from new directions remapping the genre as our collective use of fairy tales changes Students and scholars of fairy tale and media studies will welcome this fresh approach
