Depression and Narrative Hilary Clark, 2008-10-09 Depression and Narrative examines stories of depression in the context of recent scholarship on illness and narrative which up to this point has largely focused on physical illness and disability Contributors from a number of disciplinary perspectives address these narrative accounts of depression by both sufferers and those who treat them as they appear in memoirs diaries novels poems oral interviews fact sheets blogs films and television shows Together they explore the stories we tell about depression its contested causes its gendering the transformations in identity that it entails and the problems it presents for communication associated as it is with stigma and shame Unlike certain physical illnesses such as cancer depression is stigmatized sometimes as a nonproblem the sufferer should snap out of it and sometimes as the slippery slope to madness Thus depression narratives have their work cut out for them This book highlights the work these stories do including bringing meaning to sufferers explaining depression justifying therapies and treatments and reducing the burden of shame accounting for a suffering that is in the end unaccountable

 Exploring Practical Wisdom and the Virtues Ferdinand Tablan Feminism and a Vital Politics of Depression and Recovery Simone Fullagar, Wendy O'Brien, Adele Pavlidis, 2019-08-13 Drawing upon insights from feminist new materialism the book traces the complex material discursive processes through which women s recovery from depression is enacted within a gendered biopolitics Within the biomedical assemblage that connects mental health policy service provision research and everyday life the gendered context of recovery remains little understood despite the recurrence and pervasiveness of depression Rather than reducing experience to discrete biological psychological or sociological categories feminist thinking moves with the biopsychosocialities implicated in both distress and lively modes of becoming well Using a post qualitative approach the book creatively re presents how women do recovery within and beyond the normalising imperatives of biomedical and psychotherapeutic practices By pursuing the affective movement of self through depression this inquiry goes beyond individualised models to explore the enactment of multiple self world relations Reconfiguring depression and recovery as bodymind matters opens up a relational ontology concerned with the entanglement of gender inequities and mental ill health The Maternal Experience Margo Lowy, 2020-11-29 The Maternal Experience explores the powerful and dynamic nature of maternal ambivalence and disrupts the conventional narrative of the mother s lived experience by arguing that encounters with feelings of hatred are both universal and have the capacity to stimulate and enrich her maternal love The book draws on the author s personal mothering experiences those of other women and examples from film to inspire new introspection about the everyday maternal experience Lowy takes a psychosocial approach to weave thinking from selected psychoanalytic and contemporary accounts together with personal stories to explore how maternal ambivalence operates and how mothering is sourced in psychic struggles between loving and hating feelings in an atmosphere that is rife with social and personal expectations and prohibitions By reworking the experience of maternal ambivalence the book secures an understanding of the mother s feelings of hatred as a catalyst for her love and allows these maligned and taboo emotions to be named and reframed into acceptable and transformative feelings Brought alive by examples from film and first hand experience this book is fascinating reading for academics and students of psychology
