makes clear sense out of the scientific principles and puts into context the historical changes in the sport Not only will you gain a greater understanding of competitive swimming through its origins and evolution but you ll also gain these valuable skills Improve your stroke technique starts and turns Improve your feel of the water by learning to anticipate and effectively manipulate the reacting flow of the water Understand the hydrodynamics of swimming and learn how water reacts to the forces you apply with each swimming stroke Improve your conditioning and develop a better training program by understanding the principles of training Learn how to design different types of workouts to produce specific physiological effects Learn how to plan a seasonal program and how to relate your training to the pace of the race you intend to swim The book includes a chapter contributed by Dr David Pyne sport physiologist to the 2000 Australian Olympic swimming team Pyne covers the physiology of modern swimming training and the preparation of swimming teams for top flight international competition Breakthrough Swimming covers every aspect of competitive swimming from its spawning ground in early 19th century England to the present day including the profound changes that occurred in the last decade of the 20th century The book also explains the societal changes of recent years such as the advent of professional swimming and the specter of performance enhancing drugs Combining history with the latest innovations Breakthrough Swimming is the definitive work on the past present and future of competitive swimming Legacy of the Blues: a Century of Athletics at the W Garrett,Burdeshaw,Spearman,Wells,2012-03-09 Mississippi University for Women was a pioneer in the Southeast Region as well as the State of Mississippi in encouraging promoting and sponsoring intercollegiate athletics for women The programs were always of the highest quality and conducted with integrity The students and coaches involved were dedicated and committed to their respective sport Loss of the Physical Education Assembly Building destroyed by a tornado in 2002 and the subsequent decision 2003 by the university to cease participation in intercollegiate athletics prompted the writing of this book Physical resources and historical records had been destroyed Concern that the knowledge of this program would be lost along with its signifi cance to the university alumnae and womens sport history challenged five retired Health and Kinesiology faculty members to write this book They knew that their collective knowledge and experiences were invaluable in recording a century of athletic competition at the W These women promoted the educational model of sport believing that the opportunity to participate in sports brings both value and pleasure to the quality of life INTERLANGUAGE PRAGMATICS OF INVITATION Lestari Ambar Sukesti,2014-10-20 Understanding grammar does not guarantee speaking or making utterances appropriately Cohen 1996 Thomas 1983 As pragmatics differs from one culture to other second or foreign language learners should acquire the sociopragmatics and pragmlinguistic rules of the foreign or second language to enable them to make communication effectively with native speakers Miscommunication often occurs due to incident that people make use of the rules of their native pragmatics to express intention in other culture without realizing the difference between these two cultures Thomas 1983 Error in grammar could be tolerable but inappropriateness will affect the communication outcomes The conversation may lead to an awkward situation which is not realized by the learners of the language Invitation is a part of speech acts which reflects the actualization of an illocutionary intention of a speaker through utterances either spoken or written The speech act of invitation emerges when someone asks somebody else to attend to a kind of occasion usually the one that is hosted by the inviter Suzuki's findings in his research on making invitation by native American undergraduate students describe 2 different strategies namely Want W and asking for Willingness AW however based on the writer's findings in her research on interlanguage pragmatics of invitation by Indonesian EFL learners there are three more strategies in making invitation namely Performative P Imperative I and Hoping H Gender also influences in making inviting strategies based on social status and familiarity including the use of deference or solidarity markers Male participants use more various solidarity markers especially when the invitation is addressed to female invitees It might happen as male participants try to touch the invitee emotionally and keep close to the invitees Both male and female participants tend to be verbose The more descriptors in the scenarios the more explanations the participants use in inviting others However the most significant finding is that female participants are said to adopt more performative P and hoping strategy H in all situations Female participant is considered expectant to the invitation to be fulfilled by the invitees The contribution of distance power and rank of imposition to the way the participants elicit their politeness strategies was also found in this study When there is a distance between the inviter and the invitee the participants make different ways in making inviting strategies However in the realm of pragmalinguistics the participants cannot differentiate the use of neutral and polite strategies while addressing the invitation to higher level of the invitees It is found out in the use of willingness neutral and imperative strategies by the participants to invitees who are of higher status It might be due to the lack of pragmatics knowledge of the participants toward the language
