It then examines the responses of governments to the problems of ethnic diversity and assesses the effects of ethnic conflict on the development and viability of states.

From Oman to Indonesia from sandstorms and food poisoning to gangsters and at least one jealous husband Hailman explores the cultures and court systems of faraway countries. The international story begins in Paris as a young Hailman a student at La Sorbonne experiences the romance and excitement one expects from the City of Lights. Years later Hailman returns to France to Interpol Headquarters in Lyon where he received his international law certificate from the National School for Magistrates. Traveling the world as a representative for the US Justice Department Hailman encountered criminals and conspiracies including a plot in Ossetia Georgia to hijack his helicopter and kidnap him. From his time as a prosecutor are tales of three very different Islamic cultures in the colorful societies and legal systems of Tunisia Algeria and Morocco. Hailman also travels to the chaotic world of the former Soviet Union where at the time of his visit a new world of old countries was trying to rediscover independent pasts. He explores the tiny country of Moldova and the beautiful and picturesque Republic of Georgia and visits Russia during the brief period democracy was flowering and the nation was experimenting with a new jury trial system. Viewing his adventures through the lens of laws and customs Hailman is able to give unique insight to the countries he visits. Alpine Apprentice Sarah Gorham, 2017 Sarah Gorham recounts her childhood education as a rebellious, insecure, angry girl shipped overseas to a tiny international school perched on a mountain shelf in Bernese Oberland, Switzerland. There, boot camp style, she experienced deprivation, acute embarrassment, and keen educational guidance, all in the name of growing up. The Swiss landscape influenced her with its paradoxes: unforgiving slopes and peaks, government-controlled hills and valleys, so too the languages she's obliged to learn, one ruffian, the other militaristic. Though her stay lasted a mere two years, her time there was so crucial in her transition to adulthood that she returns to those years decades later, each and every night in memory and dream. There are brief forays into the science of surviving an avalanche, Sherlock Holmes's faked demise at the Reichenbach Falls, the origins of meringue, and the history of homesickness and its spiritual twin, Sehnsucht. In her travels, Gorham tracks an adolescent experience both agonizingly familiar and curiously exotic.

Looking for a Story Noel Rubinton, 2025-05-13 An annotated guide to the work of the Pulitzer Prize-winning writer, teacher, and pioneer of creative nonfiction, John McPhee, has been a staff writer for The New Yorker since 1965 and has written more than thirty acclaimed books that began on the magazine's pages. But few readers know or fully appreciate the true breadth of his writing. Looking for a Story is a complete reader's guide to McPhee's vast published work, documenting much rarely seen or connected with McPhee, including remarkable early writing for Time magazine published without his name. In chronicling McPhee's career, where he broke ground applying devices long associated with fiction to the literature of fact, Noel Rubinton gives insights into McPhee's techniques, choice of subjects, and research methods, shedding light on how McPhee turns complicated subjects like geology into compelling stories. Beyond detailing more than seventy years of McPhee's writing, Rubinton recounts McPhee's half-century as a Princeton University writing professor, a little-known part of his legacy. McPhee inspired generations of students who wrote hundreds of books of their own, also catalogued here. With an incisive foreword by New Yorker staff writer and former McPhee student Peter Hessler, Looking for a Story also includes extensive annotated listings of articles about McPhee, reviews of his books, and

The Art of Fact
Barbara Lounsberry, 1990-04-09 The artistry of nonfiction is the great unexplored territory of contemporary criticism Although the American book clubs now emphasize nonfiction and The New York Times Book Review publishes almost three times as many reviews of nonfiction as fiction critical appreciation of this work has lagged behind The Art of Fact is the first comprehensive examination of five of today's most popular and important nonfiction artists Gay Talese Tom Wolfe John McPhee Joan Didion and Norman Mailer By discussing contemporary literary nonfiction in relation to the early prose narrative forms and to the news novels of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the opening chapter defines the discourse known as literary or artistic nonfiction Dr Lounsberry then describes four characteristics of literary nonfiction and grounds these characteristics in contemporary works The five chapters which follow this introduction thoroughly examine the works of five prominent contemporary nonfiction artists While critics to date have tended to focus on only one or two of each writer's works these chapters trace themes across each writer's entire body of work and even project likely future directions given current artistic trajectories Also addressed is the role of literary nonfiction in the American literary tradition and how each of the five writers exemplifies a strand of nonfiction narrative The Art of Fact draws from personal interviews with Gay Talese and John McPhee and includes new interpretations of the works of Tom Wolfe Joan Didion and Norman Mailer as well as unpublished material from Gay Talese's current book in progress The Art of Fact is a timely call for critical appreciation of the artistry of nonfiction and offers valuable insights to both students and fans of contemporary nonfiction

Landmark Essays on Bakhtin, Rhetoric, and Writing Frank Farmer, 2020-11-25 The essays in this collection give voice to the plurality of approaches that scholars in the field of rhetoric and composition have when they set forth to assimilate Bakhtin for their varied purposes The collection is arranged in three major sections The first attempts to capture the most important theoretical extensions of Bakhtin s ideas and does so with an emphasis on what Bakhtin might contribute to the present understanding of language and rhetoric The next section explores the implications of Bakhtin s work for both disciplinary identity and writing pedagogy The final section looks at how Bakhtinian thought can be used to bring new light to concerns that his work either does not address or could not have imagined addressing concerns ranging from writing across the curriculum to feminism and from computer discourse to the writing of a corporation annual report Together these essays demonstrate how fruitfully and imaginatively Bakhtin s ideas can be appropriated for a context that he could not have anticipated They also serve as an invitation to sustain the dialogue with Bakhtin in the future so that researchers may yet come to realize the fortuitous ways that Bakhtin will continue to mean more than he said
