Sydney Walkabout:

Walkabout, 1965 Tourism and the Branded City Stephanie Hemelryk Donald, John G. Gammack, 2016-02-24

Comparing the major Pacific Rim cities of Sydney Hong Kong and Shanghai this book examines world city branding Whilst all three cities compete on the world s stage for events tourists and investment they are also at the centre of distinct film traditions and their identities are thus strongly connected with a cinematic impression Using an interdisciplinary approach this book not only analyses the city branding of these cities from the more widely researched perspectives of tourism marketing and regional development but also draws in cultural studies and psychology approaches which offer fresh and useful insights to place branding and marketing in general The authors compare and contrast qualitative and quantitative original data as well as critically analyzing current texts and debates on city branding In conclusion they argue that city branding should contribute not only to regional development and identity but also to sustainable economic well being and public happiness

No Worries, Mate Ken Ewell, 2000-09-19 No Worries Mate is the journal of a modern day swagman on a manly adventure in the land down under Follow his manful exploits as he closes the pubs of Sydney tramps about the Blue Mountains of New South Wales cruises Victoria s Great Ocean Road searches for the elusive Tasmanian devil surfs the shores of Queensland dives along the Great Barrier Reef explores Kakadu National Park in the Northern Territory and as he manfully climbs Ayers Rock Follow him also as he hones his manly virtues on the beach around the barbie at the track and in the Australian Outback Needless to say his are feats seldom seen in these less than manful times

In Search of the Never-Never Ann McGrath, 2019-04-09 Mickey Dewar made a profound contribution to the history of the Northern Territory which she performed across many genres She produced high quality memorable and multi sensory histories including the Cyclone Tracy exhibition at the Museum and Art Gallery of the Northern Territory and the reinterpretation of Fannie Bay Gaol Informed by a great love of books her passion for history was infectious As well as offering three original chapters that appraise her work this edited volume republishes her first book In Search of the Never Never In Dewar s comprehensive and incisive appraisal of the literature of the Northern Territory she provides brilliant often amusing insights into the ever changing representations of a region that has featured so large in the Australian popular imagination

Sydney Walkabout 1 Janice Dewhurst, Margaret White, 1987 Watching the Sun Rise Jacqui Murray, 2004-01-01 Historians have long claimed that a tradition of fear of Japan dominated Australian thinking about foreign affairs and defense after Japan s defeat of Russia in 1905 and that this fear remained widespread throughout the Australian population until the Pacific War This study of Australian reporting on Japan challenges that claim by exposing a culture of state censorship intimidation of the media and neglect of official public discussion of foreign affairs in the years 1931 1941 which resulted in newspapers radio and news reels projecting a collective national consciousness of Japan as a nation of little import despite very real fears in senior political ranks about Japanese designs on Australia Jacqui Murray s argument for the Australian media s underestimation of Japan's threat is sustained by close examination of media practices publications and broadcasts which clearly show misleading representations of Japan before the Pacific War Watching the Sun Rise details not only government peace time media censorship but also war time propaganda flows from Australian British and Japanese sources into the Australian media and examples of cooperation and or espionage among media personnel The Reef Iain

McCalman, 2014-05-20 Stretching 1 400 miles along the Australian coast and visible from space the Great Barrier Reef is home to three thousand individual reefs more than nine hundred islands and thousands of marine species and has alternately been viewed as a deadly maze an economic bounty a scientific frontier and a precarious World Heritage site Now the historian and explorer Iain McCalman takes us on a new adventure into the reef to reveal how our shifting perceptions of the natural world have shaped this extraordinary seascape Showcasing the lives of twenty individuals spanning more than two centuries The Reef highlights our profound desire to conquer understand embrace and ultimately save the world's most complex ocean ecosystem Opening with the story of Captain James Cook who sailed unknowingly into the southwest entrance of this vast network of coral outcroppings McCalman shows how Cook spent months navigating this treacherous underwater labyrinth struggling to keep his crew alive and his ship afloat sparring with deceptive shoals and wary native islanders Through a series of dramatic tales from intrepid explorers unwitting castaways inquisitive naturalists enchanted artists and impassioned environmentalists who have collectively shaped our ideas about the Great Barrier Reef McCalman demonstrates how this grand natural wonder of the world was built as much by human imagination as by the industrious beautiful creatures of the sea A romantic historically significant book and a deeply personal journey into the heart of a marine environment in peril The Reef powerfully captures the delicate relationship between humanity and the natural world

Sydney's Century Peter Spearritt, 2000 In this lively portrait of Sydney's development Peter Spearritt traces a century in the life of the city from the celebrations of the Federation of Australia in 1901 to the 2000 Olympic Games He describes the extra ordinary growth of the city and its sprawling suburbs and the transition from a port and a manufacturing center to an international financial hub Independent Thinking in an Uncertain World Valerie A. Brown, John A. Harris, David Waltner-Toews, 2019-04-29 Any effective response to an uncertain future will require independently thinking individuals working together Human ideas and actions have led to unprecedented changes in the relationships among humans and between humans and the Earth Changes in the air we breathe the water we drink and the energy we use are evidence of Nature which has no special interest in sustaining human life looking out for itself Even the evolutionary context for humans has altered Evolutionary pressures from the digital communication revolution have been added to those from natural systems For humans to meet these challenges requires social re organisation that is neither simple nor easy Independent Thinking in an Uncertain World explores workable field tested strategies from the frontiers of creating a viable future for humans on Earth Based on research results from hundreds of social learning workshops with communities worldwide many of them part of Australian National University's Local Sustainability Project authors with diverse interests explore the gap between open minded individual thinking and closed socially defined knowledges The multiple dimensions of individual social and biophysical ways of thinking are combined in ways that allow open minded individuals to learn from one another

Visualizing the City Alan Marcus, Dietrich Neumann, 2024-11-01 This anthology presents a range of interdisciplinary explorations into the urban environment through film photography digital imagery maps and signage Contributors examine our fascination with the city through the history of art and architecture urban studies environmental studies cultural geography and screen studies Bringing together a wide spectrum of urban contexts Visualizing the City's diverse essays explore visual representations of urbanism and modernity reflected through the prism of global cultures using an engaging variety of methods and texts

1,000 Places to See Before You Die Patricia Schultz, 2015-07-01 The world's bestselling travel book is back in a more informative more experiential more budget friendly full color edition A 1 New York Times bestseller 1 000 Places reinvented the idea of travel book as both wish list and practical guide As Newsweek wrote it tells you what's beautiful what's fun and what's just unforgettable everywhere on earth And now the best is better There are 600 full color photographs Over 200 entirely new entries including visits to 28 countries like Lebanon Croatia Estonia and Nicaragua that were not in the original edition There is an emphasis on experiences an entry covers not just Positano or Ravello but the full 30 mile stretch along the Amalfi Coast Every entry from the original edition has been readdressed rewritten and made fuller with more suggestions for places to stay restaurants to visit festivals to check out And throughout the book is more budget conscious starred restaurants and historic hotels such as the Ritz but also moderately priced gems that don't compromise on atmosphere or charm The world is calling Time to answer

Unsettling Space Joanne Tompkins, 2006-11-08 This study investigates contestations over spatiality in one culturally composite nation Australia where contemporary theatre stages competing cultural and political agendas through space and place Covering a wide range of plays it will have wide appeal for issues of space spatiality and territory in all forms of theatre in all nations

Unwritten Histories Craig Cormick, 1998 Witty and satirical this account of Australia's heroic past rediscovers the contributions of Indigenous Australians that have since remained unrecorded and unacknowledged Drawing on original records of the time it moves the spotlight away from its traditional focus to illuminate those whom history had forgotten

Lost's Buried Treasures Lynnette R. Porter, David Lavery, Hillary Robson, 2009 Lost's Buried Treasures is the ultimate unauthorized guide to the ideas that have influenced the show and its writers

Kevin Kearney Brody T. Lorraine, 2007-09-17 Kevin Kearney Audio Artist Sound Designer Location Sound Recordist follows the growth of television television commercial production and filmmaking in Australia The extremely small population of Australia up to the seventies allowed a major crossover in the arts between poets musicians writers experimental filmmakers and entrepreneurs which in turn influenced the work of audio artists like Kearney in both their commercial and personal film work Moreover because there is a paucity of information and very few books available on such people as audio artists sound designers and location sound recordists this book and the following volume will be invaluable to those interested in analogue sound on film production period Skin Deep Liz Conor, 2016 Skin Deep looks at the preoccupations of European Australians in their encounters with Aboriginal women and the tropes types and perceptions that seeped into everyday settler colonial thinking Early erroneous and uninformed accounts of Aboriginal women and culture were repeated throughout various print forms and imagery both in Australia and in Europe with names dates and locations erased so that individual women came to be anonymized as gins and lubras The book identifies and traces the various tropes used to typecast Aboriginal women contributing to their lasting hold on the colonial imagination even after conflicting records emerged The colonial archive itself consisting largely of accounts by white men is critiqued in the book Construction of Aboriginal women's gender and sexuality was a form of colonial control and Skin Deep shows how the industrialization of print was critical to this control emerging as it did alongside colonial expansion For nearly all settlers typecasting Aboriginal women through name calling and repetition of tropes sufficed to evoke an understanding that was surface based and half knowing only skin deep Impressively researched written organized and presented highly recommended for community and academic library Aboriginal Studies Women's Studies Australian Studies and Colonial History reference collections Midwest Book Review MBR Bookwatch October 2016 Helen's Bookshelf Subject Cultural History Aboriginal Studies Women's Studies Australian Studies Colonial Studies Exploring the Legacy of the 1948 Arnhem Land Expedition Martin Thomas, Margo Neale, 2011-06-01 In 1948 a collection of scientists anthropologists and photographers journeyed to northern Australia for a seven month tour of research and discovery now regarded as the last of the big expeditions The American Australian Scientific Expedition to Arnhem Land was front page news at the time but 60 years later it is virtually unknown This lapse into obscurity was due partly to the fraught politics of Australian anthropology and animus towards its leader the Adelaide based writer photographer Charles Mountford Promoted as a friendly mission that would foster good relations between Australia and its most powerful wartime ally the Expedition was sponsored by National Geographic the Smithsonian Institution and the Australian Government An unlikely cocktail of science diplomacy and popular geography the Arnhem Land Expedition put the Aboriginal cultures of the vast Arnhem Land reserve on an international stage Publisher's website Post and Telegraph Guide Australia. To the Islands Paul Battersby, 2007-08-21 To the Islands offers a unique perspective on the evolution of economic social and political interconnections between Australia and its island region spanning two centuries from the early years of British colonization to the present day The book advances the argument that globalizing processes are drawing Australia incrementally closer to modern day South East Asia and the wider Asia Pacific While globalization is a term commonly associated with the twentieth century world this study traces the history of Australia's regionalisation back to the nineteenth century to the lived experiences of Australian travelers tourists prospectors mining entrepreneurs in the Netherlands Indies

Malaya and Siam or Thailand as it is known today To the Islands challenges the orthodox view that Australia's relations with its regional neighbors were insignificant before the outbreak of war in the Pacific in 1941 By the early 1900s Java was a popular tourist destination for Australians while Malaya and Siam were emerging as major Australian foreign investment destinations In placing economic and social interactions ahead of political and security concerns in the analysis of Australia's regional relations the book highlights the role of non state actors and people to people connections in shaping the contours of Australian diplomatic engagement with South East Asia and the South West Pacific To the Islands is an essential book for advanced students and researchers of the history and politics of the Asia Pacific and Australia Australian National
