Landscape, Literature and English Religious Culture, 1660-1800 R. Mayhew, 2004-03-15 Landscape Literature and English Religious Culture 1660 1800 offers a powerful revisionist account of the intellectual significance of landscape descriptions during the long Eighteenth century Landscape has long been a major arena for debate about the nature of Eighteenth century English culture this book surveys those debates and offers a provocative new account Mayhew shows that describing landscape was a religiously contested practice and that different theological positions led differing authors to different descriptive approaches Landscape description then shows English intellectual life still in the grips of a Christian and classical mentality in the long Eighteenth century

Texts and the Self in the Twelfth Century Sarah Spence, 1996-12-12 Texts and the Self in the Twelfth Century analyses key twelfth century Latin and vernacular texts which articulate a subjective often autobiographical stance The contention is that the self forged in medieval literature could not have come into existence without both the gap between Latinity and the vernacular and a shift in perspective towards a visual and spatial orientation This results in a self which is not an agent that will act on the outside world like the Renaissance self but rather one which inhabits a potential middle ground or space of agency explained here partly in terms of object relations theory

The Word of God and the Languages of Man James Joseph Bono, 1995 Argues that pre modern societies placed authority in the text of sacred books and that when Europeans underwent the scientific revolution in the 17th century the underlying assumptions and approaches did not alter only the nature and location of the text where authority was to be sought Also argues that the change was not generated by factors external to science such as the advent of the printing press or social changes but by a continual negotiation by scientists themselves for meaning in which the narratives of the Book and the Word vied for authority Also available in paper 14794 0 at 22 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

The City as Text James S. Duncan, 2004 Argues that landscapes are not only culturally produced but they also influence governing ideas of political and religious life

Fabricating Lureland Julia Winckler, 2021-12-06 Through the analysis of surviving archival traces this book constructs a history of the imagination and memory of the town of Peacehaven Built as a speculative development atop iconic chalk cliffs on the Sussex Coast and marketed as a garden city by the sea the estate quickly attracted adverse publicity Influential voices such as the Bloomsbury group s Virginia and Leonard Woolf architect and writer Clough Williams Ellis and the Campaign for the Protection of Rural England soon began to criticise it as a blot on the rolling pastoral downland Instead of reading and appraising Peacehaven s story in a polarized way this book breaks new ground by critically interpreting visual representations and commissioned photographs of the Estate and re evaluating propositions from its inception which aspired to secure improved public health and home ownership in direct response to the negative impact of industrialization and WWI Focusing on the interwar period and tracing mutating agendas the book investigates contested marketing and construction narratives through Histoire Crois e methodology and its intercrossings with memory and the imagination By combining visual and creative research methods with oral history multi layered narratives of place come into focus The study tracks the visual programme of the developer s in house magazine Peacehaven Post alongside previously underexplored blueprints photographs postcards and promotional guidebooks and considers the garden city narrative as a form of social Utopia Garden city ideals are once again evoked in debates as a potential solution to the ongoing national housing shortage giving this research additional urgency as new large scale redevelopment erases many of the few and fast disappearing original landmarks
