Hanna-Barbera Jared Bahir Browsh,2022-01-11 With careers spanning eight decades William Hanna and Joseph Barbera were two of the most prolific animation producers in American history In 1940 the two met at MGM and created Tom and Jerry who would earn 14 Academy Award nominations and seven wins The growth of television led to the founding of Hanna Barbera s legendary studio that produced countless hours of cartoons with beloved characters from Fred Flintstone George Jetson and Scooby Doo to the Super Friends and the Smurfs Prime time animated sitcoms Saturday morning cartoons and Cartoon Network s cable animation are some of the many areas of television revolutionized by the team Their productions are critical to our cultural history reflecting ideologies and trends in both media and society This book offers a complete company history and examines its productions influences changing technologies and enduring cultural legacy with careful attention to Hanna Barbera s problematic record of racial and gender representation

Television Talk Bernard M. Timberg,Robert J. Erler,2010-01-01 A CHOICE Outstanding

Academic Book Flip through the channels at any hour of the day or night and a television talk show is almost certainly on. Whether it offers late night entertainment with David Letterman, share your pain empathy with Oprah Winfrey, trash talk with Jerry Springer or intellectual give and take with Bill Moyers, the talk show is one of television's most popular and enduring formats with a history as old as the medium itself. Bernard Timberg here offers a comprehensive history of the first fifty years of television talk, replete with memorable moments from a wide range of classic talk shows as well as many of today's most popular programs. Dividing the history into five eras, he shows how the evolution of the television talk show is connected to both broad patterns in American culture and the economic, regulatory, technological and social history of the broadcasting industry. Robert Erler's A Guide to Television Talk complements the text with an extensive who's who listing of important people and programs in the history of television talk.

Women Pioneers in Television Cary O'Dell, 1997-01-01 Profiles such notable women as Lucille Ball, Faye Emerson, Betty Furness, Lucy Jarvis, Ida Lupino and Betty White.

Science on American Television Marcel Chotkowski, 2024-05-31 As television emerged as a major cultural and economic force, many imagined that the medium would enhance civic education for topics like science. And indeed, television soon offered a breathtaking banquet of scientific images and ideas, both factual and fictional. Mr. Wizard performed experiments with milk bottles. Viewers watched live coverage of solar eclipses and atomic bomb blasts. Television cameras followed astronauts to the moon. Carl Sagan took us through the Cosmos, and Jane Goodall into the jungle. Via electrons and embryos, blood testing and blasting caps, fictional Frankensteins and chatty Nobel laureates, television opened windows onto the world of science. But what promised to be a wonderful way of presenting science to huge audiences turned out to be a disappointment, argues historian Marcel Chotkowski. LaFollette in Science on American Television narrates the history of science on television from the 1940s to the turn of the twenty-first century to demonstrate how disagreements between scientists and television executives inhibited the medium's potential to engage in meaningful science education. In addition to examining the content of shows, she also explores audience and advertiser responses, the role of news in engaging the public in science and the making of scientific celebrities. Lively and provocative, Science on American Television establishes a new approach to grappling with the popularization of science in the television age, when the medium's ubiquity and influence shaped how science was presented and the scientific community had increasingly less control over what appeared on the air.

Pioneers of "B" Television Richard Irvin, 2022-11-11 As television grew more enticing for both viewers and filmmakers in the 1950s several independent film producers with knowledge of making low cost films and radio shows transferred their skills to producing shows for the small screen Rather than funding live programs that were popular at the time these producers saw the value in pre taped shows which created large financial returns through episode reruns This low cost high yield production model resulted in what are known and beloved as B television shows Part historical account and part filmography this book documents the careers of over a dozen B television producers It chronicles the rise of situation comedies and crime dramas and explores the minds behind popular shows like My Little Margie The Lone Ranger Lassie Highway Patrol and Sea Hunt Divided into 14 chapters of producer profiles this work is rich in both trivia and critical assessments of the first years of television A chapter detailing the work of early female television producers rounds out the text The Essential Science Fiction Television Reader J.P.

Telotte,2008-05-02 A richly detailed and critically penetrating overview from the plucky adventures of Captain Video to the postmodern paradoxes of The X Files and Lost Rob Latham coeditor of Science Fiction Studies Exploring such hits as The Twilight Zone Star Trek Battlestar Galactica and Lost among others The Essential Science Fiction Television Reader illuminates the history narrative approaches and themes of the genre The book discusses science fiction television from its early years when shows attempted to recreate the allure of science fiction cinema to its current status as a sophisticated genre with a popularity all its own J P Telotte has assembled a wide ranging volume rich in theoretical scholarship yet fully accessible to science fiction fans The book supplies readers with valuable historical context analyses of essential science fiction series and an understanding of the key issues in science fiction television Television Musicals Joan

Baxter,2020-05-01 In this reference work 222 musicals developed specifically for television are fully detailed including musical episodes from nonmusical shows animated specials that appealed to adults as well as children and operas and related works commissioned for the small screen Each entry provides air date network running time cast and credits and a listing of all the songs A plot synopsis follows focusing on the show itself and the story from which it was adapted information on award nominations and awards won recordings videos and published music is then provided Contemporary reviews of the show complete the entry Motion Picture Paradise David Morton,2025-09-16 Highlighting Florida s essential often overlooked role in shaping American film and television Motion Picture Paradise is a sweeping story of filmmaking in Florida featuring the activities of studios and filmmakers across the peninsula by looking at the many iconic films and television shows shot in the state In the early years of the American film industry Florida was a favorite location for pioneer movie makers and David Morton chronicles the state s importance to producers throughout the next 125 years Often overshadowed by the well known entertainment industries of Hollywood and New York Florida has over time had several major film production centers Morton follows the rise and fall of filmmaking destinations across the state including Jacksonville St Augustine Tampa Bay Orlando and Miami as well as pioneering underwater and location based films shot at Florida s unique natural springs He argues that conflicting policies set by Florida politicians have at various times enticed or pushed away movie and television companies a pattern that has hampered serious investment Using a wealth of source materials Morton offers a comprehensive history that demonstrates how films and television shows made in Florida have influenced the state s sense of identity drawing attention to Florida s underacknowledged role as the third coast in American film history Motion Picture Paradise adds new insights into the state s dramatic social and economic transformations during the twentieth century

Stay Tuned Christopher Sterling, John Michael Kittross, 2001-11-01

Since its initial publication in 1978 Stay Tuned has been recognized as the most comprehensive and useful single volume history of American broadcasting and electronic media available. This third edition has been thoroughly revised and updated to bring the story of American broadcasting forward to the 21st century, affording readers not only the history of the most important and pervasive institution affecting our society but also providing a contextual transition to the Internet and other modern media. The enthusiasm of authors Christopher H. Sterling and John Michael Kittross is apparent as they lead readers through the development of American electronic mass media from the first electrical communication telegraph and telephone through radio and television to the present convergence of media business entities, programming, and delivery systems, including the Internet. Their presentation is engaging as well as informative, promoting an interest in history and making the connections between the developments of yesterday and the industry of today. Features of this third edition include chronological and topical tables of contents, new material reflecting modern research in the field, a new chapter describing historical developments from 1988 through to the current day, an expanded bibliography including Web site and museum listings, an updated and expanded glossary and chronology, and extensive statistical data of the development of television and radio stations, networks, advertising, programming, audiences, and other aspects of broadcasting. Designed for use in undergraduate and graduate courses on the history of American mass media, broadcasting, and electronic media, Stay Tuned also fits well into mass communication survey courses as an introduction to electronic media topics. As a chronicle of American broadcasting, this volume is also engaging reading for anyone interested in old radio, early television, and the origins and development of American broadcasting.

In the Eye of the Beholder Gary Richard Edgerton, Michael T. Marsden, John G. Nachbar, 1997. Scholars from communication studies as well as film and television studies address a variety of texts from Ken Burns's The Civil War to the midnight cult film The Rocky Horror Picture Show. Part one focuses on perennial subject areas related to authorship and reception; Part two addresses an assortment of postmodern and multicultural screen representations, paying closest attention to matters of gender, race, ethnicity, and the disabled.
