Minding the Law Anthony G. AMSTERDAM, Jerome S. Bruner, Anthony G Amsterdam, 2009-06-30 In this remarkable collaboration one of the nation's leading civil rights lawyers joins forces with one of the world's foremost cultural psychologists to put American constitutional law into an American cultural context By close readings of key Supreme Court opinions they show how storytelling tactics and deeply rooted mythic structures shape the Court's decisions about race family law and the death penalty Minding the Law explores crucial psychological processes involved in the work of lawyers and judges deciding whether particular cases fit within a legal rule categorizing telling stories to justify one's claims or undercut those of an adversary narrative and tailoring one's language to be persuasive without appearing partisan rhetorics Because these processes are not unique to the law courts' decisions cannot rest solely upon legal logic but must also depend vitally upon the underlying culture's storehouse of familiar tales of heroes and villains But a culture's stock of stories is not changeless Amsterdam and Bruner argue that culture itself is a dialectic constantly in progress a conflict between the established canon and newly imagined possible worlds They illustrate the swings of this dialectic by a masterly analysis of the Supreme Court's race discrimination decisions during the past century A passionate plea for heightened consciousness about the way law is practiced and made Minding the Law tilte will be welcomed by a new generation concerned with renewing law's commitment to a humane justice
