Talk Yuh Talk Interviews With Anglophone Caribbean Poets:

Talk Yuh Talk Kwame Senu Neville Dawes, 2001 In the past 30 years most Caribbean poetry written in English has come to the US in the lyrics of reggae music but that is only one aspect of a tradition characterized by continuing tension within a diverse heritage Interviews in this collection reflect a range of Caribbean voices from several generations from those poets influenced by a dynamic interplay between the popular culture of reggae music and yard theater to those whose work is closer to classical forms of literature and oral narrative Dawes teaches English at the University of South Carolina Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Anglophone Caribbean Poetry, 1970-2001 Emily A. Williams, 2002-12-30 Caribbean poetry written in English has been attracting growing amounts of scholarly attention The first substantial annotated bibliography of primary and secondary materials related to the topic this reference chronicles the development of Anglophone Caribbean poetry from 1970 through 2001 Included are nearly 900 entries for anthologies reference works conference proceedings critical studies interviews and recorded works The volume also includes a chronology an overview of the development and significance of Caribbean poetry in English and extensive indexes In 1971 the Association for Commonwealth Literature and Language Studies held a conference on West Indian literature at the University of the West Indies This was the first assembly for the discussion of West Indian literature by West Indian people on West Indian soil Since then interest in Caribbean poetry written in English has grown dramatically Caribbean poetry was influenced by the American Black Power movement during the 1970s and women poets began to contribute their voices throughout the 1980s Caribbean poets have in turn gained greater access to publishing outlets resulting in a wider international readership and a corresponding increase in scholarly and critical studies This book is the first substantial annotated bibliography of primary and secondary materials related to Caribbean poetry written in English The volume begins with the rise of interest in Anglophone Caribbean poetry in the 1970s and continues through 2001 Included are entries for nearly 900 anthologies reference works conference proceedings critical studies interviews and recordings The entries are grouped in chapters devoted to particular types of works In addition the volume includes a chronology a discussion of the history of Anglophone Caribbean poetry and extensive indexes Teaching Anglophone Caribbean Literature Supriya M. Nair, 2012-10-01 This volume in the Options for Teaching series recognizes that the most challenging aspect of introducing students to anglophone Caribbean literature the sheer variety of intellectual and artistic traditions in Western and non Western cultures that relate to it also offers the greatest opportunities to teachers Courses on anglophone literature in the Caribbean can consider the region s specific histories and contexts even as they explore common issues the legacies of slavery colonialism and colonial education nationalism exile and migration identity and hybridity class and racial conflict gender and sexuality religion and ritual While considering how the availability of materials shapes syllabi this volume recommends print digital and visual resources for teaching The essays examine a host of topics including the following the development of multiethnic populations in the Caribbean and the role of various creole languages in the literature oral art forms such as dub poetry and reggae music the influence of anglophone literature in the Caribbean on literary movements outside it such as the Harlem Renaissance and black British writing Carnival religious rituals and beliefs specific genres such as slave narratives and autobiography film and drama the economics of rum Many essays list resources for further reading and the volume concludes with a section of additional teaching resources

Reading Spiritualities Dawn Llewellyn, 2016-04-01 The phenomenon of sacred text has undergone radical deconstruction in recent times reflecting how religion has broken out of its traditional definitions and practices and how current literary theories have influenced texts inside the religious domain and beyond Reading Spiritualities presents both commentary and vivid examples of this evolution engaging with a variety of reading practices that work with traditional texts and those that extend the notion of text itself The contributors draw on a range of textual sites such as an interview Caribbean literature drama and jazz women's writings emerging church blogs Neopagan websites the reading practices of Buddhist nuns empirical studies on the reading experiences of Gujarati Christian and post Christian women Chicana short stories the mosque cinema modern art and literature These examples open up understandings of where and how sacred texts are emerging and being reassessed within contemporary religious and spiritual contexts and make room for readings where the spiritual resides not only in the textual but in other unexpected places Reading Spiritualities includes contributions from Graham Holderness Ursula King Michael N Jagessar David Jasper Anthony G Reddie Michelle Roberts and Heather Walton to reflect and encourage the interdisciplinary study of sacred text in the broad arena of the arts and social sciences It offers a unique and well focused snapshot of the textual constructions and representations of the sacred within the contemporary religious climate accessible to the general reader as well as more specialist interests of students and researchers working in the crossover fields of religious theological cultural and literary studies

Companion to Women Poets of the World and Their Web Sites Katharine A. Dean, 2004-03-30 Devoted exclusively to women poets this volume in the Undergraduate Companion Series presents students with an abundance of important resources necessary for 21st century literary research The most authoritative informative and useful Web sites and print resources have carefully been selected and compiled in a bibliographic guide to the introductory works of 221 women poets who write in English or have works available in English translation Representing more than 25 nationalities worldwide the women included in this volume have each contributed significantly to the genre of poetry For each author you will find concise lists of the best Web sites and printed sources including biographies criticisms dictionaries handbooks indexes concordances journals and bibliographies Making West Indian Literature Mervyn Morris, 2005 West Indian Literature as a body of work is a fairly recent phenomenon and literary criticism has not always acknowledged the diversity of approaches to writing effectively In Making West Indian Literature poet and critic Mervyn Morris explores examples of West Indian creativity shaping a range of responses to experience which often includes colonial traces Appreciating various kinds of making and a number of West Indian makers these engaging essays and interviews display a recurrent interest in the processes of composition Some of the pieces highlight writer performers who have not often been examined This very readable book often personal in tone makes a distinctive contribution to the knowledge and understanding of West Indian Literature Literary Drowning Stephanie Pocock Boeninger, 2020-10-23 Literary depictions of drowning or burial at sea provide fascinating glimpses into the often conflicted human relationship with memory For many cultures and religious traditions properly remembering the dead involves burial a funeral and some kind of grave marker Traditional rituals of memorialization are disturbed by the drowned body which may remain lost at sea or be washed up unrecognized on a distant shore The first book of its kind Literary Drowning explores depictions of the drowned body in twentieth century Irish and

Caribbean postcolonial literature uncovering a complex transatlantic conversation that reconsiders memory forgetfulness and the role that each plays in the making of the postcolonial subject and nation Faced with fissures in cultural memory postcolonial writers often identify their situation and their nation s with that of the drowned body Floating aimlessly without a grave unmemorialized and perhaps unremembered the drowned corpse embodies the troubled memory of the postcolonial nation or individual Boeninger follows a trail of drowned bodies and literary influence from the turn of the century Irish playwright J M Synge through the poems and plays of St Lucian Nobel laureate Derek Walcott to the lesser known work of Guyanese British novelist and poet David Dabydeen and finally to the contemporary Irish plays of Marina Carr Each author while borrowing from those who came before changes the image of the drowned body to reflect different facets of the project of remembering postcolonially

Caribbean Literature in Transition, 1970-2020: Volume 3 Ronald Cummings,Alison Donnell,2021-01-14 The period from the 1970s to the present day has produced an extraordinarily rich and diverse body of Caribbean writing that has been widely acclaimed Caribbean Literature in Transition 1970 2020 traces the region s contemporary writings across the established genres of prose poetry fiction and drama into emerging areas of creative non fiction memoir and speculative fiction with a particular attention on challenging the narrow canon of Anglophone male writers It maps shifts and continuities between late twentieth century and early twenty first century Caribbean literature in terms of innovations in literary form and style the changing role and place of the writer and shifts in our understandings of what constitutes the political terrain of the literary and its sites of struggle Whilst reaching across language divides and multiple diasporas it shows how contemporary Caribbean Literature has focused its attentions on social complexity and ongoing marginalizations in its continued preoccupations with identity belonging and freedoms

The African-Jamaican Aesthetic Lisa Tomlinson,2017-01-23 The African Jamaican Aesthetics Cultural Retention and Transformation Across Borders centres on the use of African Jamaican Aesthetics in Jamaica s literary traditions and its transformation and transmission in the diaspora

Critical Nostalgia and Caribbean Migration J. A. Brown-Rose,2009 The literature of Caribbean writers living in the United States embodies a duality an awareness of multiple sites of identity as well as conflict of place and space Easily grouped with African Americans Caribbean peoples and other immigrants from the African Diaspora make up the quasi political face of Black America But as immigrants from a former colonized community Caribbean writers carry with them a historical experience that differentiates them from African Americans they stand on the border of two spaces What impact does this duality have on Caribbean literature written by writers who have left the home space for American soil As many writers have suggested Caribbean writers are continuously looking back to home in an attempt to understand who they are and where they belong This book postulates that it is through nostalgia or an attempt to renegotiate the past that the Caribbean writer attempts to reconcile his/her duality. Nostalgia can be directly linked to an understanding of and by extension a critique of American social and political practices as well as an appraisal of colonial influences in the Caribbean. Thus the discourse of Caribbean writers living in America operates on different levels. Although Caribbean migratory writers are continuously looking back to home, this nostalgia is tied to a reevaluation of American and island consciousness. The texts discussed in this work are in effect engaged in critical analysis; the texts perform criticism of the home country and that man's country, the United States.

Immaterial Archives Jenny Sharpe, 2020-03-15. In this innovative study, Jenny Sharpe moves beyond the idea of art and literature as an alternative archive to the historical records of slavery and its aftermath. Immaterial Archives explores instead the intangible phenomena of affects, spirits, and dreams that Caribbean artists and writers introduce into existing archives. Through the works of Frantz Fanon, Aimé Césaire, Édouard Duval-Carrié, M. NourbeSe Philip, Erna Brodber, and Kamau Brathwaite, Immaterial Archives examines silences as black female spaces, Afro-Creole sacred worlds as diasporic cartographies, and the imaginative conjoining of spirits with industrial technologies as disruptions of enlightened modernity.

Critical Perspectives on Indo-Caribbean Women's Literature Joy Allison Indira Mahabir, Mariam Pirbhai, 2013. This book is the first collection on Indo-Caribbean women's writing and the first work to offer a sustained analysis of the literature from a range of theoretical and critical perspectives such as ecocriticism, feminist, queer, postcolonial, and Caribbean cultural theories. The essays not only lay the framework of an emerging and growing field but also critically situate internationally acclaimed writers such as Shani Mootoo, Lakshmi Persaud, and Ramabai Espinet within this emerging tradition. Indo-Caribbean women writers provide a fresh new perspective in Caribbean literature, be it in their unique representations of plantation history, anti-colonial movements, diasporic identities, feminisms, ethnicity, and race, or contemporary Caribbean societies and culture. The book offers a theoretical reading of the poetics, politics, and cultural traditions that inform Indo-Caribbean women's writing, arguing that while women writers work with and through postcolonial and Caribbean cultural theories, they also respond to a distinctive set of influences and realities specific to their positioning within the Indo-Caribbean community and the wider national, regional, and global imaginary. Contributors visit the overlap between national and transnational engagements in Indo-Caribbean women's literature, considering the writers' response to local or nationally specific contexts and the writers' response to the diasporic and transnational modalities of Caribbean and Indo-Caribbean communities.

Narrating Nomadism G. N. Devy, Geoffrey V. Davis, K. K. Chakravarty, 2020-11-29. Narrating Nomadism provides an unflinching account of ethnic groups and nomadic communities across the world that were branded as criminal during colonial times. It explores the tragic effect of the new identity imposed on them, the traumatic survival of these communities and cultures, and the creative expression of this experience in their arts and literature in the form of resistance. Presenting specific contexts and locations of cultural devastation in history, the volume traces colonial social imagination as such, showing how the grossly misperceived non-sedentary communities in the colonies were subjected to the mission of settling them The essays presented here document these alternative histories from perspectives ranging from literary criticism and art history to ethnography and socio linguistics highlighting in what ways different nomadic communities negotiate discrimination and challenge in contemporary times while finding remarkable convergence in their local histories and collective testimonies This anthology opens up a new area in postcolonial studies as well as cultural anthropology by bringing the viewpoint of marginalized communities and their cultural rights to bear upon history society and culture It places an activist s view from below at the centre of literary interpretation engages with oral history more substantially than folklore studies usually do and brings together several historical narratives hitherto unexplored This will be essential for students of anthropology sociology cultural studies history linguistics post colonial studies literature and tribal studies as well as the general reader
