Talking Across The World The Love Letters Of Olaf Stapledon And Agnes Miller 1913 1919:

Letters Across the World Olaf Stapledon, Agnes Zena Miller, Robert Crossley, 1987 Talking Across the World Olaf Stapledon, Agnes Zena Miller, 1987 The story of a remarkable epistolary courtship that endured despite war social turmoil rival suitors prolonged separation Olaf Stapledon Robert Crossley, 1994-07-01 William Olaf Stapledon is best remembered for the extraordinary works of speculative fiction he published between 1930 and 1950 As a novelist he was known as the spokesman for the Age of Einstein and has influenced writers as diverse as Virginia Woolf Arthur C Clarke and Doris Lessing This biography is the first to draw on a vast body of unpublished and private documents interviews correspondence archival material and papers in private hands to reveal fully the internal struggles that shaped Stapledon's life and reclaim for public attention a distinctive voice of the modern era Late in his life in an unpublished letter to the future Stapledon unwittingly provided the rationale for his biography It is just possible that my very obscurity may fit me to speak more faithfully for my period than any of its great unique personalities A pacifist in World War I an advocate of European unity and world government one of the first teachers in the Workers Educational Association and an early protestor against apartheid Stapledon turned utopian beliefs into practical politics With roots in the shipping worlds of Devon Liverpool and the Suez Canal he was transformed from a self-described provincial on the margins of English literary and political life into a visionary idealist who attracted the attention of scientists journalists and novelists and given his left wing political affiliations even the F B I Stapledon's novels Last and First Men Star Maker Odd John and Sirius have gathered a passionate following and they have seldom been out of print in the last twenty five years But the personal experiences and political commitments that shaped this creative work have until now barely been known Robert Crossley's work reveals how in public and in private in his social activism as in his fiction Olaf Stapledon embodied many of the modern era's anxieties and hopes that allow his works to continue to speak to and for the future Love Letters of the Great War Mandy Kirkby, 2014-01-16 From the private papers of a young Winston Churchill to the tender notes of an unknown Tommy in the trenches Love Letters of the Great War is a collection of profound intimate and heartfelt letters written during World War One Many of the letters collected here are eloquent declarations of love and longing others contain wrenching accounts of fear jealousy and betrayal and a number share sweet dreams of home But in all the correspondence whether from British American French German Russian Australian and Canadian troops in the height of battle or from the heartbroken wives and sweethearts left behind there lies a truly human portrait of love and war A century on from the First World War these letters offer an intimate glimpse into the hearts of men and women separated by conflict and show how love can transcend even the bleakest and most devastating of realities Edited and introduced by Mandy Kirkby with a foreword from Women's Prize winner Helen Dunmore Civilians in a World at War, 1914-1918 Tammy M. Proctor, 2010-08-30 This work explores the different ways civilians work and function in a war situation and broadens our understanding of the civilian to encompass munitions workers nurses laundresses refugees aid workers and children who lived and worked in occupied zones on home and battle fronts and in the spaces in between Global in scope spanning the Eastern Western Italian East African and Mediterranean fronts the author examines in detail the role of experts in the war the use of forced labor and the experiences of children in the combatant countries As in many wars civilians on both sides of WWI were affected and vast displacements of the populations shaped the contemporary world in countless ways redrawing boundaries and creating or reviving lines of ethnic conflict

Sisters in Peace Kate Laing, 2023-11-03 Is preparing for war the best means of preserving peace In Sisters in Peace Kate Laing contends that this question has never been solely the concern of politicians and strategists She maps successive generations of twentieth century women who were eager to engage in political debate even though legislative and cultural barriers worked to exclude their voices In 1915 during the First World War the Women's International Congress at The Hague was convened after alarmed and bereaved women from both sides of the conflict insisted that their opinions on war and the pathway to peace be heard From this gathering emerged the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom WILPF which to this day campaigns against militarism and nuclear weapons In Australia the formation of a section of WILPF connected political women to a worldwide network that sustained their anti war activism throughout the last century In examining the rise of WILPF in Australia Sisters in Peace provides a gendered history of this country's engagement with the politics of internationalism This is a history of WILPF women who committed to peace activism even as Australia's national identity and military allegiances shifted over time a history that has until now been an overlooked part of the Australian peace movement
