Sir Gardner Wilkinson And His Circle:

Sir Gardner Wilkinson and His Circle Jason Thompson, 1992-01-01 Following in the footsteps of Napoleon's army Europeans invaded Egypt in the early nineteenth century to gaze in wonder at the massive inscrutable remains of its ancient civilizations One of these travelers was a twenty four year old Englishman John Gardner Wilkinson His copious observations of ancient and modern Egyptian places artifacts and lifeways recorded in such widely read publications as Manners and Customs of the Ancient Egyptians and Handbook for Travellers in Egypt made him the leading early Victorian authority on ancient Egypt and paved the way for the scientific study of Egyptology In this first full scale biography of Wilkinson 1797-1875 Jason Thompson skillfully portrays both the man and his era He follows Wilkinson during his initial sojourn in Egypt 1821-1833 as Wilkinson immersed himself in a contemporary Egyptian lifestyle and in study of its ancient past He shows Wilkinson in his circle of friends among them Edward William Lane Robert Hay and Frederick Catherwood And he traces how Wilkinson continued to use his Egyptian material in the decades following his return to England With the rise of professional Egyptology in the middle and later nineteenth century Sir Gardner Wilkinson came to be viewed as an amateur and his popularity diminished Drawing upon recently opened sources Thompson returns Wilkinson to his rightful place within centuries of Egyptian scholarship and assesses both the vision and the limitations of his work The result is a compelling portrait of a Victorian gentleman scholar and his cultural milieu

Wonderful Things: A History of Egyptology, Volume 1 Jason Thompson, 2015-03-01 The discovery of ancient Egypt and the development of Egyptology are momentous events in intellectual and cultural history The history of Egyptology is the story of the people famous and obscure who constructed the picture of ancient Egypt that we have today recovered the Egyptian past while inventing it anew and made a lost civilization comprehensible to generations of enchanted readers and viewers thousands of years later This the first of a three volume survey of the history of Egyptology follows the fascination with ancient Egypt from antiquity until 1881 tracing the recovery of ancient Egypt and its impact on the human imagination in a saga filled with intriguing mysteries great discoveries and scholarly creativity Wonderful Things affirms that the history of ancient Egypt has proved continually fascinating but it also demonstrates that the history of Egyptology is no less so Only by understanding how Egyptology has developed can we truly understand the Egyptian past

Lost Ramessid and Post-Ramessid Private Tombs in the Theban Necropolis Lise Manniche, 2011 Part of the Carsten Niebuhr Institute Publications series this volume is a study of tombs of officials in the Theban necropolis now lost but recorded in the manuscripts of travellers to Egypt in the early and mid 19th century It also includes the fragments of relevant wall decoration in museums and other collections

Wonderful Things Jason Thompson, 2015 The discovery of ancient Egypt and the development of Egyptology are momentous events in intellectual and cultural history The history of Egyptology is the story of the people famous and obscure who constructed the picture of ancient Egypt that we have today recovered the

Egyptian past while inventing it anew and made a lost civilization comprehensible to generations of enchanted readers and viewers thousands of years later

Dialogues with the Dead David Gange, 2013-06-13 Egyptology in British Culture and Religion shows for the first time how Egyptology's development over the century that followed the decipherment of the hieroglyphic script in 1822 can only be understood through its intimate entanglement with the historical scientific and religious contentions which defined the era

Visualizing Egypt Paulina Banas, 2025-04-15 Illustrated publications and the role of market forces in shaping representations of Egypt at a time when European colonial interests in the region were at their peak with 80 color and black and white illustrations In the nineteenth century following Napoleon Bonaparte's 1798 campaign in Egypt new possibilities of travel and improvements in printing technology saw an emergence of publishing ventures in France and Britain dedicated to the production of albums and travel accounts featuring images of Muslim Egypt and Islamic architecture and catering to a growing European fascination with the East Visualizing Egypt analyzes the context and process of production of these highly illustrated publications from their conceptualization to the finished product and its afterlife from marketing to the sales of these books and from circulation to their reception by nineteenth century audiences By tracing the long arduous and often risky publishing journeys of the makers of these books including publishers writers and artists such as the Frenchman mile Prisse d'Avennes Paulina Banas reveals a complex terrain of changing market demands collaborations and conflicting views and the unsettled authorship of these works prompting us to think more profoundly about artistic and intellectual exchange in the world of nineteenth century Orientalist book production Visualizing Egypt considers nineteenth century book illustrations on Egypt and the Orient not merely as expressions of enduring ideology and colonial propaganda but as representations shaped by the often overlooked commercial exigencies of the growing publishing industry and the reckless competition within it

The Lost Manuscript of Frédéric Cailliaud Frédéric Cailliaud, 2014 The travel accounts of Frédéric Cailliaud were an important early contribution to the birth of Egyptology in the first half of the nineteenth century But one of his major works was never published For the first time here his exquisite color plates are presented alongside a translation of his original French text Arriving in Egypt in 1815 Cailliaud made copious notes on the flora and fauna people and antiquities and took a collection of over two thousand objects back to France His beautifully rendered watercolors of scenes on ancient Egyptian tombs and temples show animated scenes of ancient daily life

Material Theories Elena Chestnova, 2022-06-19 Material Theories takes a radically new approach to well established thinking on nineteenth century architecture and design by investigating Gottfried Semper's classic ideas about dressing metamorphosis of material and cultural development culminating in his two volume publication Style This book demonstrates how Semper's theories crystallised among his encounters with material things of the late 1840s and early 1850s It examines several discursive frameworks and phenomena which shaped the attitude to artefacts in Europe in the mid nineteenth century and which were specifically pertinent to Semper's evolution archaeology and antiquarianism the domestic interior print media collections and the embodied relationship between the designer and their work For the first time this book examines the construction of a design theory not only as an intellectual endeavour but also as a process of confrontation with material things It employs recent approaches to material culture in particular Thing Theory in order to show that Semper's artefact references constituted his ideas rather than simply giving impetus to them It will be an important investigation for academics and researchers interested in interior design history as well as scholars of material culture and history of design theory

Life-writing in the History of Archaeology Gabriel Moshenska, Clare Lewis, 2023-07-10 Life writing is a vital part of the history of archaeology and a growing field of scholarship within the discipline The lives of archaeologists are entangled with histories of museums and collections developments in science and scholarship and narratives of nationalism and colonialism into the present In recent years life writing has played an important role in the surge of new research in the history of archaeology including ground breaking studies of discipline formation institutionalisation and social and intellectual networks Sources such as diaries wills film and the growing body of digital records are powerful tools for highlighting the contributions of hitherto marginalised archaeological lives including many pioneering women hired labourers and other hidden hands This book brings together critical perspectives on life writing in the history of archaeology from leading figures in the field These include studies of archive formation and use the concept of dig writing as a distinctive genre of archaeological creativity and reviews of new sources for already well known lives Several chapters reflect on the experience of life writing review the historiography of the field and assess the intellectual value and significance of life writing as a genre Together they work to problematise underlying assumptions about this genre foregrounding methodology social theory ethics and other practice focused frameworks in conscious tension with previous practices

The Rape of the Nile Brian Fagan, 2009-04-20 The scandalous rape of Ancient Egypt is a historical vignette of greed vanity and dedicated archaeological research It is a tale vividly told by renowned archaeology author Brian Fagan with characters that include the ancient historian Herodotus Theban tomb robbers obelisk stealing Romans Coptic Christians determined to erase the heretical past mummy traders leisured antiquarians major European museums Giovanni Belzoni a circus strongman who removed more antiquities than Napoleon's armies shrewd consuls and ruthless pashas and archaeologists such as Sir Flinders

Petrie who changed the course of Egyptology This is the first thoroughly revised edition of The Rape of the Nile Fagan's classic account of the cavalcade of archaeologists thieves and sightseers who have flocked to the Nile Valley since ancient times Featured in this edition are new accounts of stunning recent discoveries including the Royal Tombs of Tanis the Valley of Golden Mummies at Bahariya the Tomb of the Sons of Ramses and the sunken city of Alexandria whose lighthouse was one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World Fagan concludes with a clear-eyed assessment of the impact of modern mass tourism on archaeological sites and artifacts

A History of Ancient Egypt, Volume 3 John Romer, 2023-05-25 The final chapter in the definitive three volume history of the world's first known state Archaeologist John Romer has spent a lifetime chronicling the history of Ancient Egypt and here he tells the epic story of an era dominated by titans of the popular imagination the radical iconoclast Akhenaten the boy king Tutankhamun and the all-conquering Ramesses II But heroes do not forge history by themselves This was also a time of international trade cultural exchange and sophisticated art even in the face of violent change Alongside his visionary new history of this the most famous period in the long history of Ancient Egypt Romer turns a critical eye on Egyptology itself Paying close attention to the evidence he corrects prevailing narratives which cast the New Kingdom as an imperial state power in the European mould Instead he reveals through broken artefacts in ruined workshops or preserved letters between a tomb builder and his son a culture more beautiful and beguiling than we could have imagined Romer carefully reconstructs the real story of the New Kingdom as evidenced in the archaeological record and the result the final volume of a life-long project secures his status as Ancient Egypt's finest chronicler

The World of Disney: From Antiquarianism to Archaeology David W. J. Gill, 2020-12-17 A biography of Dr John Disney 1779-1857 the benefactor of the first chair in archaeology at a British university He also donated his major collection of Classical sculptures to the University of Cambridge The sculptures continue to be displayed in the Fitzwilliam Museum

Making Cairo Medieval Nezar AlSayyad, Irene A. Bierman, Nasser Rabbat, 2005-03-25 During the nineteenth century Cairo witnessed one of its most dramatic periods of transformation Well on its way to becoming a modern and cosmopolitan city by the end of the century a medieval Cairo had somehow come into being While many Europeans in the nineteenth century viewed Cairo as a fundamentally dual city physically and psychically split between East and West and modern medieval the contributors to the provocative collection demonstrate that in fact this process of inscription was the result of restoration practices museology and tourism initiated by colonial occupiers The first edited volume to address nineteenth century Cairo both in terms of its history and the perception of its achievements this book will be an essential text for courses in architectural and art history dealing with the Islamic world

Finding the Walls of Troy Susan Heuck Allen, 2023-09-01 The relentlessly self-promoting amateur archaeologist Heinrich Schliemann took full credit for discovering Homer's Troy over one hundred years ago and since then generations have thrilled to the tale of his ambitions and achievements. But Schliemann gained this status as an archaeological hero partly by deliberately eclipsing the man who had launched his career. Now at long last Susan Heuck Allen puts the record straight in this fascinating archaeological adventure that restores the British expatriate Frank Calvert to his rightful place in the story of the identification and excavation of Hisarlik, the site now thought to be Troy as described in the Iliad. Frank Calvert had lived in the Troad in the northwest corner of Asia Minor, excavating there for fifteen years before Schliemann arrived and learning the local topography well. He was the first archaeologist to test the hypothesis that Hisarlik was the Troy of Hector and Helen. So that he would have unrestricted access to the site, he purchased part of the mound and was the first archaeologist to conduct excavations there. Running out of funds, he later interested Schliemann in the site. The thankless Schliemann stole Calvert's ideas, exploited his knowledge and advice, and finally stole Calvert's glory in part by slandering him and denigrating his work. Allen corrects the record and does justice to a man who was a victim of his own integrity while giving a balanced treatment of Schliemann's true accomplishments. This meticulously researched book tells the story of Frank Calvert's development as an archaeologist, his adventures and discoveries. It focuses on the twists and turns of his turbulent relationship with the perfidious Schliemann, the resulting gains for archaeology, and the successful conclusion of their common quest. Allen has brought together a wide range of relevant published material as well as unpublished sources from archives, diaries, letters, and personal interviews to tell this gripping story. The relentlessly self-promoting amateur archaeologist Heinrich Schliemann took full credit for discovering Homer's Troy over one hundred years ago and since then generations have thrilled to the tale of his ambitions and achievements. But Schliemann gains

Rude Stone Monuments in All Countries: Their Age and Uses James Fergusson, 2023-10-25 In Rude Stone Monuments in All Countries: Their Age and Uses James Fergusson meticulously examines the enigmatic megaliths that dot various landscapes from Stonehenge in England to lesser-known sites worldwide. Employing a comparative approach, Fergusson blends meticulous archaeological analysis with rich descriptive prose, crafting a narrative that is as engaging as it is informative. His attention to the cultural contexts of these structures offers readers insights into the ancient societies that erected them, while challenging prevailing assumptions about their purposes, whether as burial sites, astronomical observatories, or religious sanctuaries. This work is a commendable fusion of exploration and scholarship, positioned within the 19th-century intellectual milieu which grappled with the intersections of archaeology, anthropology, and history. James Fergusson (1808-1886), a Scottish architectural historian and archaeologist, was driven by his passion for understanding the built environment's role in human civilization. His extensive travels and studies in architecture and antiquity deeply informed his perspectives on megalithic structures. Fergusson's background in architecture, coupled with the burgeoning interest in prehistoric monuments during his time, positioned him uniquely to undertake this comprehensive study, making significant contributions to the archaeological discourse of his era. This book is an essential read for anyone intrigued by prehistoric cultures archaeology and the historical significance of monumental architecture Fergusson's groundbreaking work not only illuminates the age and uses of these stone structures but also inspires contemporary reconsiderations of the cultural legacies embodied in these ancient edifices Students scholars and enthusiasts alike will find themselves captivated by Fergusson's insights and eloquent exploration of humanity's monumental past

Private Collecting, Exhibitions, and the Shaping of Art History in London Stacey J. Pierson, 2017-01-12 The Burlington Fine Arts Club was founded in London in 1866 as a gentlemen's club with a singular remit to exhibit members' art collections Exhibitions were proposed organized and furnished by a group of prominent members of British society who included aristocrats artists bankers politicians and museum curators Exhibitions at their grand house in Mayfair brought many private collections and collectors to light using members' social connections to draw upon the finest and most diverse objects available Through their unique mode of presentation which brought museum style display and interpretation to a grand domestic style gallery space they also brought two forms of curatorial and art historical practice together in one unusual setting enabling an unrestricted form of connoisseurship where new categories of art were defined and old ones expanded The history of this remarkable group of people has yet to be presented and is explored here for the first time Through a framework of exhibition themes ranging from Florentine painting to Ancient Egyptian art a study of lenders' objects and their interpretation paints a picture of private collecting activities connoisseurship and art world practice that is surprisingly diverse and interconnected
