Sisters Of The Earth Womens Prose And Poetry About Nature:

Sisters of the Earth Lorraine Anderson, 2003-12-09 Sisters of the Earth is a stirring collection of women's writing on nature: Nature as healer, Nature as delight, Nature as mother and sister, Nature as victim, Nature as companion and reminder of what is wild in us all. Here among more than a hundred poets and prose writers are Diane Ackerman on the opium of sunsets, Ursula K. Le Guin envisioning an alternative world in which human beings are not estranged from their planet, and Julia Butterfly Hill on weathering a fierce storm in the redwood tree where she lived for more than two years. Here too are poems, essays, stories, and journal entries by Emily Dickinson, Alice Walker, Terry Tempest Williams, Willa Cather, Gretel Erlich, Adrienne Rich, and others, each offering a vivid eloquent response to the natural world. This second edition of Sisters of the Earth is fully revised and updated with a new preface and nearly fifty new pieces, including new contributions by Louise Erdrich, Pam Houston, Zora Neale Hurston, Starhawk, Joy Williams, Kathleen Norris, Rita Dove, and Barbara Kingsolver.

Climate Consciousness and Environmental Activism in Composition Joseph R. Lease, 2020-02-18 Now more than ever in a time when Americans still do not believe that humans are the primary cause of Earth's climate change crisis, the burden on educators to inform, challenge, and motivate students about sustainability is greater than it ever has been. On college campuses, writing-intensive courses, often located within First Year or General Education curricula, are an ideal place to take up this charge because of the flexibility of their content and the high volume of students that they reach. In this volume, a varied group of composition instructors with wide ranges and types of experiences provides best practices for bringing issues surrounding climate change into the writing classroom. From literature-based composition and creative writing courses to design thinking workshops to seminars against sustainability, the authors in this volume lay out a multitude of possibilities for blending writing and environmental concerns that fellow practitioners can easily adopt or modify for their own use.

Feminism and Ecological Communities Christine Cuomo, 2002-09-11 Feminism and Ecological Communities presents a bold and passionate rethinking of the ecofeminist movement. It is one of the first books to acknowledge the importance of postmodern feminist arguments against ecofeminism whilst persuasively presenting a strong new case for ecological feminism. Chris J. Cuomo first traces the emergence of ecofeminism from the ecological and feminist movements before clearly discussing the weaknesses of some ecofeminist positions. Exploring the dualisms of nature/culture and masculine/feminine that are the bulwark of many contemporary ecofeminist positions, and questioning traditional feminist analyses of gender and caring, Feminism and Ecological Communities asks whether women are essentially closer to nature than men, and how we ought to link the oppression of women, people of colour, and other subjugated groups to the degradation of nature. Chris J. Cuomo addresses these key issues by drawing on recent work in feminist ethics, as well as the work of diverse figures such as Aristotle, John Dewey, Donna Haraway, and Maria Lugones. A fascinating feature of the book is the use of the metaphor of the cyborg to highlight the fluidity of the nature/culture distinction and how this can enrich ecofeminist ethics and politics An outstanding new argument for an ecological feminism that links both theory and practice Feminism and Ecological Communities bravely redraws the ecofeminist map It will be essential reading for all those interested in gender studies environmental studies and philosophy Eco-man Mark Christopher Allister,2004 Many canonical literary works look to the wild as the site for establishing a man's selfhood But nature is just as often subjected to his most violent displays of mastery This tension lies at the heart of Eco Man which brings together two rapidly growing fields men's studies and ecocriticism The ISLE Reader Michael P. Branch,Scott Slovic,2003 This volume gathers nineteen of the most representative and defining essays from the journal ISLE Interdisciplinary Studies in Literature and Environment over the course of its first ten years Following an introduction that traces the stages of ecocriticism's development The ISLE Reader is organized into three sections each of which reflects one of the general goals the journal has sought to accomplish The section titled Re evaluations provides new readings of familiar environmental writers and new environmental perspectives on authors or literary traditions not usually considered from a green perspective The writings in Reaching Out to Other Disciplines promote cross pollination among various disciplines and methodologies in the environmental arts and humanities The writings in the final section New Theoretical and Practical Paradigms are especially significant for the conceptual and methodological terrain they map The ISLE Reader documents the state of research in ecocriticism and related interdisciplinary fields provides a survey of the field and points to new methodologies and possibilities for the future The Nature of Cities Michael Bennett,David W. Teague,2021-10-12 Cities are often thought to be separate from nature but recent trends in ecocriticism demand that we consider them as part of the total environment This new collection of essays sharpens the focus on the nature of cities by exploring the facets of an urban ecocriticism by reminding city dwellers of their place in ecosystems and by emphasizing the importance of this connection in understanding urban life and culture The editors both raised in small towns but now living in major urban areas are especially concerned with the sociopolitical construction of all environments both natural and manmade Following an opening interview with Andrew Ross exploring the general parameters of urban ecocriticism they present essays that explore urban nature writing city parks urban wilderness ecofeminism and the city and urban space The volume includes contributions on topics as wide ranging as the urban poetry of English writers from Donne to Gay the manufactured wildness of a gambling casino and the marketing of cosmetics to urban women by idealizing Third World naturalness These essays seek to reconceive nature and its cultural representations in ways that contribute to understanding the contemporary cityscape They explore the theoretical issues that arise when one attempts to adopt and adapt an environmental perspective for analyzing urban life The Nature of Cities offers the ecological component often missing from cultural analyses of the city and the urban perspective often lacking in environmental approaches to contemporary culture By bridging the historical gap between environmentalism cultural studies and urban experience the book makes a statement of lasting importance to the development of the ecocritical inherent in the production of knowledge Women Environment and Development WED Alternative Development Environmental Reformism and Deep Ecology Social Ecology and Ecofeminism In traversing this important landscape of ideas they show how they criticise the dominant developmental model at the various levels of epistemology theory and policy The authors also go further and put forward their own ideas as to the basic elements they consider necessary in constructing a paradigmatic shift emphasising such values as holism mutuality justice autonomy self reliance sustainability and peace This unique work is a signally useful contribution to clarifying thinking on a topic with immense implications for all women

Publisher s description Feminism and the Biological Body Lynda Birke,2019-06-01 Biological bodies always seem to drop out of debates about the body and its importance in western culture They are assumed to be fixed their workings irrelevant to theory This text argues that these views of biology do not serve feminist politics well A to Z of American Women

Writers Carol Kort,2014-05-14 Presents a biographical dictionary profiling important women authors including birth and death dates accomplishments and bibliography of each author s work The Environmental Imagination Lawrence Buell,1995 With Thoreau s Walden as a touchstone Buell offers an account of environmental perception the place of nature in the history of Western thought and the consequences for literary scholarship of attempting to imagine a more ecocentric way of being In doing so he provides a profound rethinking of our literary and cultural reflections on nature Where the Wild

Books Are Jim Dwyer,2010-04-01 As interest in environmental issues grows many writers of fiction have embraced themes that explore the connections between humans and the natural world Ecologically themed fiction ranges from profound philosophical meditations to action packed entertainments Where the Wild Books Are offers an overview of nearly 2 000 works of nature oriented fiction The author includes a discussion of the precursors and history of the genre and of its expansion since the 1970s He also considers its forms and themes as well as the subgenres into which it has evolved such as speculative fiction ecodefense animal stories mysteries ecofeminist novels cautionary tales and others A brief summary and critical commentary of each title is included Dwyer s scope is broad and covers fiction by Native American writers as well as ecofiction from writers around the world Far more than a mere listing of books Where the Wild Books Are is a lively introduction to a vast universe of engaging provocative writing It can be used to develop book collections or curricula It also serves as an introduction to one of the most fertile areas of contemporary fiction presenting books that will offer enjoyable reading and new insights into the vexing environmental questions of our time Music and the Skillful Listener Denise
