Munene,2021-08-23 Ensuring All Children Learn Lessons from the South on What Works in Equity and Inclusion brings together a rich tapestry of cases from three southern continents focusing on issues germane to the access learning and retention in basic education in the context of Education for All EFA It is a narrative of both the disappointment that the implementation of EFA did not go as envisaged and of policy alternatives and hopes for a brighter future The focus on Africa Asia and Latin America permits the reader to appreciate both the diversity of issues central to EFA and the physical spread of the challenges The book confirms that whereas southern countries have adopted EFA as an overall policy goal empirical evidence from the case studies uncovers critical lapses in policies and strategies Four key issues inform the thematic analysis in the book the overall experience in implementing EFA

the specific challenges faced the lessons learned and prospects for the future The solutions to these challenges provide avenues for the attainment of basic education for all school eligible children in tandem with the UN Sustainable Development Goal 4 on education Understanding Science Teachers' Professional Knowledge Growth Michel

Grangeat,2015-12-09 Science education has to be improved in order to become more responsive to the needs of society confronted with a rapidly changing world Bringing science teaching up to a higher level is a key factor in this endeavour The authors of this book think about teachers as part of the immediate and large communities and systems in which they function They consider the development of teachers professional knowledge as a continuous process that depends on the communities they are committed to and participate in the discipline they are teaching the social context in which they perform the instruments made available in their environment and their day to day classroom experience From this perspective each teacher learns in an individual way but cannot learn without relying on their colleagues and other partners Such professional knowledge is partly tacit and explicit and thus possessed by teachers experts and researchers Coordinating activity theory and models of pedagogical content knowledge PCK the book provides a better understanding of the growth of science teacher professional knowledge The chapters are organised around shared perspectives and themes and based on research findings The emerging model can inform pre service teacher educators researchers and students The book results from exchanges and symposia during international conferences ECER ESERA and from a two day seminar held at Universit Grenoble Alpes in March 2015 Advanced Language Learning Heidi Byrnes,2009-02-08 Examines the need for advanced levels of language learning from socio cultural and linguistic perspectives Doing Diversity Melinda Dooly,2009 How teachers and students work together through discourse to construct their understanding of the context they live and work in will influence in many different ways the interaction within their classrooms This book describes an indepth research that used ethnomethodology and conversation analysis to study three different groups of teachers The study highlights the teachers perspectives concerning heterogeneity in the classroom using recordings of discussions concerning cultural and linguistic diversity Moreover this research examines the discourse participants choice in the use deployment of categorical descriptions and reveals the speaker as positioned interested and accountable for meaning construction Thus portraits of differing preservice and inservice teachers orientation towards linguistic and cultural diversity are analysed By recognising these categorizations as partially bounded by previous knowledge and partially constructed in situ the research sees meaning making by teachers as a part of their lived work of teaching It also reveals the social nature of these categorizations because they are an inseparable element of the socially constituted fabric of language in the environment of schooling and society

Human Activity, Social Practices and Lifelong Education Marc Durand,2016-04-14 This volume presents a scientific and practical trend in lifelong education which focuses on human activity This trend is particularly apparent in French speaking countries where a seminal tradition of ergonomics born in the middle of the 20th century produced studies about work and workers activity in various contexts Results demonstrate that working activity firstly is always complex creative and enigmatic despite the efforts done by the designers to create prescribing working environments and by managers to control production procedures and secondly cannot be understood without specific field studies about real work This approach influenced adult educational researchers and trainers to develop programs in order to help trainers to better know human activity and its transformations in various social practices and not only in working context It also helps them to design learning environments accompanying human activity transformations at various time scales The chapters in this volume present a range of original studies on human activity in various social practices such as tourism theatre prop makers in opera manual job environments management in a small company high level athletes illegal practices school teaching and finally during teachers retirement ceremonies These studies of the relationships between social practices and human activity and its transformations give empirical and conceptual bases for designing programs aimed at emphasizing and accompanying specific individual and collective learning and human development in a lifelong perspective This book was published as a special issue of International Journal of Lifelong Education

Tertiary Language Teacher-Researchers Between Ethics and Politics Chantal Crozet, Adriana R. Díaz, 2020-02-05 Bringing together a range of perspectives from tertiary language and culture teachers and researchers this volume highlights the need for greater critical engagement with the question of language teacher identity agency and responsibility in light of an ever changing global socio political and cultural landscape The book examines the ways in which various moral ethical and ideological dimensions increasingly inform language teaching practice for tertiary modern foreign language teachers both collectively as a profession but also at the individual level in everyday classroom situations Employing a narrative inquiry research approach which combines brief autobiographical reflections with semi structured interview data the volume provides a comprehensive portrait of the processes ten teacher researchers in Australia working across five different languages engage in as they seek to position themselves more purposefully within a critical political and ethical framework of teaching practice The book will serve as a springboard from which to promote greater understanding and discussion of the impact of globalisation and social justice corollaries within the field as well as to mediate the gap between language teaching theory and practice making this key reading for graduate students and researchers in intercultural communication language teaching and language teacher education
