

A sepia-toned historical illustration of a sugar plantation. In the foreground, several Black men are working with large sugar cane stalks. Some are using machetes to cut the cane, while others are carrying bundles. In the background, a large wooden windmill stands on a hill, used for processing cane into sugar. The scene is set in a tropical environment with palm trees and a cloudy sky.

Sweetness And Power The Place Of Sugar In Modern History:

Sweetness and Power Sidney Wilfred Mintz,1985 Shows how the intelligent analysis of the history of a single commodity can be used to pry open the history of an entire world of social relationships and human behavior The New York Review of Books Refined Tastes Wendy A. Woloson,2002-03-26 Sugar became a social marker that established and reinforced class and gender differences BOOK JACKET What is Cultural History? Peter Burke,2008-11-17 idea of culture plays an increasingly important part The new edition also surveys the very latest developments in the field and considers the directions that cultural history may be taking in the twenty first century Book Jacket The Global Eighteenth Century Felicity Nussbaum,2003-08-15 These essays explore both literal and metaphorical crossings of the globe addressing the cultural significance of maps paintings travel writing tourist manuals cultural identities island gardens and other topics in order to lend insight to our perception of global culture during the long 18th century A History of Global Consumption Ina Baghdiantz McCabe,2014-08-27 In A History of Global Consumption 1500 1800 Ina Baghdiantz McCabe examines the history of consumption throughout the early modern period using a combination of chronological and thematic discussion taking a comprehensive and wide reaching view of a subject that has long been on the historical agenda The title explores the topic from the rise of the collector in Renaissance Europe to the birth of consumption as a political tool in the eighteenth century Beginning with an overview of the history of consumption and the major theorists such as Bourdieu Elias and Barthes who have shaped its development as a field Baghdiantz McCabe approaches the subject through a clear chronological framework Supplemented by illustrations in every chapter and ranging in scope from an analysis of the success of American commodities such as tobacco sugar and chocolate in Europe and Asia to a discussion of the Dutch tulip mania A History of Global Consumption 1500 1800 is the perfect guide for all students interested in the social cultural and economic history of the early modern period , The Power of Persuasion Lucas Haasis,2022-03-07 Lucas Haasis found a time capsule A complete mercantile letter archive of the merchant Nicolaus Gottlieb Luetkens who lived in 18th century Hamburg Luetkens travelled France between 1743 1745 in order to become a successful wholesale merchant He succeeded in this undertaking via both shrewd business practice and proficient skills in the practice of letter writing Based on this unique discovery in this microhistorical study Lucas Haasis examines the crucial steps and activities of a mercantile establishment phase the typical letter practices of Early Modern merchants and the practical principles of persuasion leading to success in the 18th century

Global Inequality Kenneth McGill,2016-01-01 Inequality is currently gaining considerable attention in academic policy and media circles From Thomas Piketty to Robert Putnam there is no shortage of economic sociological or political analyses But what does anthropology with its focus on the qualitative character of relationships between people have to offer Drawing on current scholarship and illustrative ethnographic case studies McGill argues that anthropology is particularly well suited to interrogating global inequality not just within nations but across nations as well The book is designed to be used flexibly in a variety of undergraduate classes from introductory cultural anthropology to courses on globalization economic and political anthropology and inequality Brief accessibly written and peppered with vivid ethnographic examples that bring contemporary research to life Global Inequality is a unique offering for undergraduate anthropology courses Cold War Social Science M. Solovey, H. Cravens, 2012-01-30 From World War II to the early 1970s social science research expanded in dramatic and unprecedented fashion in the United States This volume examines how why and with what consequences this rapid and yet contested expansion depended on the entanglement of the social sciences with the Cold War Alimentary Orientalism Yin Yuan, 2023-06-16 What exactly did tea sugar and opium mean in eighteenth and nineteenth century Britain Alimentary Orientalism examines the contentious debates surrounding these exotic recently popularized and literally consumable things It suggests that the interwoven discourses that these commodities sparked transformed the period s literary Orientalism and created surprisingly self reflexive ways through which British writers encountered and imagined cultural otherness The Elizabethan Country House Entertainment Elizabeth Zeman Kolkovich, 2016-07-04 This book analyses how country house entertainments facilitated political negotiations rethought gender roles and crafted identities

The Life Cycle of Russian Things Matthew P. Romaniello, Alison K. Smith, Tricia Starks, 2021-09-09 The Life Cycle of Russian Things re orients commodity studies using interdisciplinary and comparative methods to foreground unique Russian and Soviet materials as varied as apothecary wares isinglass limestone and tanks It also transforms modernist and Western interpretations of the material by emphasizing the commonalities of the Russian experience Expert contributors from across the United States Canada Britain and Germany come together to situate Russian material culture studies at an interdisciplinary crossroads Drawing upon theory from anthropology history and literary and museum studies the volume presents a complex narrative not only in terms of material consumption but also in terms of production and the secondary life of inheritance preservation or even destruction In doing so the book reconceptualises material culture as a lived experience of sensory interaction The Life Cycle of Russian Things sheds new light on economic history and consumption studies by reflecting the diversity of Russia s experiences over the last 400 years Perspectives on Environmental History in East Asia Ts'ui-jung Liu, Micah Muscolino, 2021-02-23 This edited volume engages with some of the most dynamic themes in current research on East Asian environmental history including agricultural science war and the environment imperial forestry oceanic history and the history of energy Chapters in this book supply an overview of environmental history as a rapidly expanding field continuing to generate valuable insights into the mutually constitutive relationship between human societies and the biophysical environment The book is divided into three parts Part I consists of three chapters related to land use while Part II includes five chapters that focus on water a topic of perennial concern among environmental historians of East Asia especially as it relates to irrigation food production and marine fisheries Part III consists of two chapters discussing the impact of new technologies on air quality in addition to the history of energy in East Asia which has emerged as an important area of inquiry at the intersection between both environmental history and the history of science and technology Perspectives on Environmental History in East Asia Changes in the Land Water and Air will appeal to students and scholars of East Asian studies environmental history and environmental sciences Between the Bocas Jak Peake, 2017-07-19 Situated opposite the mouth of the Orinoco River western Trinidad has long been considered an entrep t to mainland South America Trinidad s geographic position seen as strategic by various imperial governments led to many heterogeneous peoples from across the region and globe settling or being relocated there The calm waters around the Gulf of Paria on the western fringes of Trinidad induced settlers to construct a harbour Port of Spain around which the modern capital has been formed From its colonial roots into the postcolonial era western Trinidad therefore has played an especial part in the shaping of the island s literature Viewed from one perspective western Trinidad might be deemed as narrating the heart of the modern state s national literature Alternatively the political threats posed around San Fernando in Trinidad s southwest in the 1930s and from within the capital in the 1970s present a different picture of western Trinidad one in which the fractures of Trinidad and Tobago s projected nationalism are prevalent While sugar remains a dominant narrative in Caribbean literary studies this book offers a unique literary perspective on matters too often perceived as the sole preserve of sociological anthropological or geographical studies The legacy of the oil industry and the development of the suburban commuter belt of East West Corridor therefore form considerable discursive nodes alongside other key Trinidadian sites such as Woodford Square colonial houses and the urban yards of Port of Spain This study places works by well known authors such as V S Naipaul and Samuel Selvon alongside writing by Michel Maxwell Philip Marcella Fanny Wilkins E L Joseph Earl Lovelace Ismith Khan Monique Roffey Arthur Calder Marshall and the largely neglected novelist Yseult Bridges who is almost entirely forgotten today Using fiction calypso history memoir legal accounts poetry essays and journalism this study opens with an analysis of Trinidad s nineteenth century literature and offers twentieth century and more contemporary readings of the island in successive chapters Chapters are roughly arranged in chronological order around particular sites and topoi while literature from a variety of authors of British Caribbean Irish and Jewish descent is represented Sistah Vegan A. Breeze Harper, 2009 Sistah Vegan is not about preaching veganism or vegan fundamentalism Rather the book is about how a group of black identified female vegans perceive nutrition food ecological sustainability health and healing animal rights parenting social justice spirituality hair care race gender identification womanism and liberation that all go against the refined and bleached grain of our dysfunctional society Change Your Diet, Change Your Mind Dr. Georgia Ede, 2024-01-30 Combine the surprising truth about brain food with the cutting edge science of brain metabolism to achieve extraordinary improvements to your emotional cognitive and physical health Are you struggling with attention problems mood swings food obsession or depression Whatever the issue you have far more control over your thoughts feelings and behavior than you realize Although medications may bring some relief in Change Your Diet Change Your Mind Dr Georgia

Ede reveals that the most powerful way to change brain chemistry is with food because that's where brain chemicals come from in the first place. In this provocative illuminating guide Dr Ede explains why nearly everything we think we know about brain healthy diets is wrong. We've been told the way to protect our brains is with superfoods supplements and plant based diets rich in whole grains and legumes but the science tells a different story not only do these strategies often fail but some can even work against us. The truth about brain food is that meat is not dangerous vegan diets are not healthier and antioxidants are not the answer. Change Your Diet Change Your Mind will empower you to understand how unscientific research methods drive fickle nutrition headlines and illogical dietary guidelines weigh the risks and benefits of your favorite foods so you can make your own informed choices about what to eat evaluate yourself for signs of insulin resistance the silent metabolic disease that robs your brain of the energy it needs to thrive improve your mental health with a choice of moderate carbohydrate and ketogenic diets that you can personalize to your food preferences and health goals. Drawing on a wide range of scientific disciplines including biochemistry neuroscience and botany Dr Ede will ignite your curiosity about the fascinating world of food and its role in nourishing protecting and energizing your brain. Anthropos and the Material

Penny Harvey, Christian Krohn-Hansen, Knut G. Nustad, 2019-05-09 The destructive effects of modern industrial societies have shaped the planet in such profound ways that many argue for the existence of a new geological epoch called the Anthropocene. This claim brings into relief a set of challenges that have deep implications for how relations between the human the material and the political affect contemporary social worlds. The contributors to Anthropos and the Material examine these challenges by questioning and complicating long held understandings of the divide between humans and things. They present ethnographic case studies from across the globe addressing myriad topics that range from labor economics and colonialism to technology culture the environment agency and diversity. In foregrounding the importance of connecting natural and social histories the instability and intangibility of the material and the ways in which the lively encounters between the human and the nonhuman challenge conceptions of liberal humanism the contributors point to new understandings of the capacities of people and things to act transform and adapt to a changing world. Teaching World

History in the Twenty-first Century: A Resource Book Heidi Roupp, 2015-02-12 This practical handbook is designed to help anyone who is preparing to teach a world history course or wants to teach it better. It includes contributions by experienced teachers who are reshaping world history education and features new approaches to the subject as well as classroom tested practices that have markedly improved world history teaching. Deadly Medicine Peter C. Mancall, 1995

Mancall explores the liquor trade's devastating impact on the Indian communities of colonial America. Culture, Power, Place Akhil Gupta, James Ferguson, 1997-07-24 Anthropology has traditionally relied on a spatially localized society or culture as its object of study. The essays in Culture Power Place demonstrate how in recent years this anthropological convention and its attendant assumptions about identity and cultural difference have undergone a series of important challenges. In light of increasing mass migration and the transnational cultural flows of a late capitalist postcolonial world the contributors to this volume examine shifts in anthropological thought regarding issues of identity place power and resistance This collection of both new and well known essays begins by critically exploring the concepts of locality and community first as they have had an impact on contemporary global understandings of displacement and mobility and second as they have had a part in defining identity and subjectivity itself With sites of discussion ranging from a democratic Spain to a Puerto Rican barrio in North Philadelphia from Burundian Hutu refugees in Tanzania to Asian landscapes in rural California from the silk factories of Hangzhou to the long sought after home of the Palestinians these essays examine the interplay between changing schemes of categorization and the discourses of difference on which these concepts are based The effect of the placeless mass media on our understanding of place and the forces that make certain identities viable in the world and others not are also discussed as are the intertwining of place making identity and resistance as they interact with the meaning and consumption of signs Finally this volume offers a self reflective look at the social and political location of anthropologists in relation to the questions of culture power and place the effect of their participation in what was once seen as their descriptions of these constructions Contesting the classical idea of culture as the shared the agreed upon and the orderly Culture Power Place is an important intervention in the disciplines of anthropology and cultural studies Contributors George E Bisharat John Borneman Rosemary J Coombe Mary M Crain James Ferguson Akhil Gupta Kristin Koptiuch Karen Leonard Richard Maddox Lisa H Malkki John Durham Peters Lisa Rofel
