Head,2002-03-07 In this introduction to post war fiction in Britain Dominic Head shows how the novel yields a special insight into the important areas of social and cultural history in the second half of the twentieth century Head s study is the most exhaustive survey of post war British fiction available It includes chapters on the state and the novel class and social change gender and sexual identity national identity and multiculturalism Throughout Head places novels in their social and historical context He highlights the emergence and prominence of particular genres and links these developments to the wider cultural context He also provides provocative readings of important individual novelists particularly those who remain staple reference points in the study of the subject Accessible wide ranging and designed specifically for use on courses this is the most current introduction to the subject available An invaluable resource for students and teachers alike Sex and

Sensibility in the Novels of Alan Hollinghurst Mark Mathuray,2017-05-26 Winner of the British Association for Contemporary Literary Studies BACLS 2017 Edited Collection Prize This book is a challenging and engaging collection of original essays on the novels of Alan Hollinghurst Britain s foremost gay writer and the English novel s master stylist The essays engage the precarious and shifting relationship between sex and literary sensibility in his novels and thus also attempt to establish the parameters of a new critical discourse for future research on Hollinghurst s novel queer theory and the contemporary literary representations of masculinity and sexuality By coupling the consideration of Hollinghurst s aesthetics his sensuously evocative style to an interrogation of the social political and sexual currents in his texts the contributors of this collection provide distinctive interpretations of Hollinghurst s novels from Hollinghurst s uncovering of a gay artistic heritage to his re-signification of earlier English literary styles from his engagement with the Symbolist fin de si cle to his critique of aestheticism etc whilst paying close attention to the formally innovative qualities of his texts Twenty-First-Century Readings of E. M. Forster's 'Maurice' Emma Sutton, Tsung-Han Tsai, 2020-03-26 This is the first book length study of Forster's posthumously published novel Nine essays focus exclusively on Maurice and its dynamic afterlives in literature film and new media during the twentieth and twenty first centuries Begun in 1913 and revised over almost fifty years Maurice became a defining text in Forster's work and a canonical example of queer fiction Yet the critical tendency to read Maurice primarily as a revelation of Forster's homosexuality has obscured important biographical political and aesthetic contexts for this novel This collection places Maurice among early twentieth century debates about politics philosophy religion gender Aestheticism and allegory Essays explore how the novel interacts with literary predecessors and contemporaries including John Bunyan Oscar Wilde Havelock Ellis and Edward Carpenter and how it was shaped by personal relationships such as Forster's friendship with Florence Barger They close read the textual variants of Forster's manuscripts and examine the novel's genesis and revisions They consider the volatility of its reception analysing how it galvanizes subsequent generations of writers and artists including Christopher Isherwood Alan Hollinghurst Damon Galgut James Ivory and twenty first century online fanfiction writers What emerges from the volume is the complexity of the novel as a text and as a cultural phenomenon
