The Cactus Air Force Eric Hammel, Thomas McKelvey Cleaver, 2022-09-01 Using diary entries interviews and first hand accounts this vivid narrative brings to life the struggle in the air over the island of Guadalcanal between August 20 and November 15 1942 The battle of Guadalcanal was the first offensive operation undertaken by the US and its allies in the Pacific War The three months of air battles between August 20 1942 when the first Marine air unit arrived on the island and November 15 when the last enemy attempt to retake the island was defeated were perhaps the most important of the Pacific War Cactus the code name for the island became a sinkhole for Japanese air and naval power as they experienced losses that could never be made good For 40 years the late Eric Hammel interviewed more than 150 American participants in the air campaign at Guadalcanal none of whom are still alive These interviews are the most comprehensive first person accounts of the battle assembled by any historian More importantly they involved the junior officers and enlisted men whose stories and memories were not part of the official history and thus provide a unique insight In The Cactus Air Force Pacific War expert Thomas McKelvey Cleaver worked closely with Eric to build on his collection of diary entries interviews and first hand accounts to create a vivid narrative of the struggle in the air over the island of Guadalcanal between August 20 and November 15 1942

Congregational Communion Francis J. Bremer, 1994 Puritan studies is one of the most heavily researched areas of scholarship in both England and the United States In this in depth exploration of the relationship between Puritans in England and New England Francis J Bremer challenges the view that the colonists turned away from English Puritans in the 1640s Rather he convincingly demonstrates that the two communities retained a complex symbiotic connection a communion throughout the seventeenth century and that the clergy on both sides of the Atlantic saw themselves as closely linked in their spiritual mission Focusing on the interaction between social experience and the shaping of belief Bremer thoroughly analyzes how Puritan clergymen of a congregational persuasion came together in a godly communion and examines how that communion sustained them in times of trouble and physical dispersal He explains the social forces that led to the articulation of early Congregationalism and details the significance of trans Atlantic religious exchanges through correspondence associations publications and other devices Bremer traces the first generation Puritans from their formative years at Cambridge University through the creation of a network of clerical friendships through the flight to Holland and to New England to the death of Oliver Cromwell and the beginnings of division within

Congregationalism This thought provoking volume makes a solid contribution to Puritan studies and offers a basis for further discussions of the trans Atlantic aspects of the Congregational community Texas and Southwestern Lore James Frank Dobie,1927 This Volume Number 6 contains folklore of the Texas Mexican Vaquero Tales and Rhymes of a Texas Household Lore of the Llano Estacado Names in the Old Cheyenne and Arapahoe Territory Nicknames in Texas Oil Fields The Devil s Grotto Myths of the Tejas Indians Ballads and songs of the Frontier Folk several essays on cowboys songs etc
