The Symbolist Roots of Modern Art Michelle Facos,2017-07-05 With the words A new manifestation of art was expected necessary inevitable Jean Mor announced the advent of the Symbolist movement in 1886 When Symbolist artists began experimenting in order to invent new visual languages appropriate for representing modern life in all its complexity they set the stage for innovation in twentieth century art Rejecting what they perceived as the superficial descriptive quality of Impressionism Naturalism and Realism Symbolist artists delved beneath the surface to express feelings ideas scientific processes and universal truths By privileging intangible concepts over perceived realities and by asserting their creative autonomy Symbolist artists broke with the past and paved the way for the heterogeneity and penchant for risk taking that characterizes modern art The essays collected here which consider artists from France to Russia and Finland to Greece argue persuasively that Symbolist approaches to content form and subject helped to shape twentieth century Modernism Well known figures such as Kandinsky Khnopff Matisse and Munch are considered alongside lesser known artists such as Fini Gyzis Koen and Vrubel in order to demonstrate that Symbolist art did not constitute an isolated moment of wild experimentation but rather an inspirational point of departure for twentieth century developments

Symbolist Art in Context Michelle Facos,2009-03-31 The Symbolist art movement of the late 19th century forms an important bridge between Impressionism and Modernism But because Symbolism emphasizes ideas over objects and events it has suffered from conflicting definitions In this book Michelle Facos offers a comprehensive description of this challenging subject

Visible Deeds of Music Simon Shaw-Miller, Simon Miller, 2002-01-01 This text explores the relationship between music and the visual arts in the late 19th and 20th centuries focusing on the modernist period It argues that the boundaries between art and music were permeable at this time

Serial Images Jennifer Dyer, Jennifer Dyer Harnish, 2011 This book argues that in the works of Degas Mondrian Bacon Schiele and Warhol serial iteration articulates a process of free constructive becoming which they interpret in different ways Not only does the serially iterative structure of the images show that activity and novelty are primary concerns but it involves the viewer in the activity presented in the images For these reasons serial iteration is fundamentally connected both to modernist aspects of the work and to other concerns such as the structure of subjectivity and the movement of history Serially iterative structure opens up the meaning of these five artists images by relating them to concerns in contemporary art and thought

Nature's Experiments and the Search for Symbolist Form Allison Morehead, 2017-02-27 This provocative study argues that some of the most inventive artwork of the 1890s was strongly influenced by the methods of experimental science and ultimately foreshadowed twentieth century modernist practices Looking at avant garde figures such as Maurice Denis douard Vuillard August Strindberg and Edvard Munch Allison Morehead considers the conjunction of art making and experimentalism to illuminate how artists echoed the spirit of an increasingly explorative scientific culture in their work and processes She shows how the concept of nature's experiments the belief that the study of pathologies led to an understanding of scientific truths above all about the human mind and body extended from the scientific realm into the world of art underpinned artists' solutions to the problem of symbolist form and provided a ready-made methodology for fin de siècle truth seekers By using experimental methods to transform symbolist theories into visual form these artists broke from naturalist modes and interrogated concepts such as deformation automatism the arabesque and madness to create modern works that were radically and usefully strange Focusing on the scientific psychological and experimental tactics of symbolism Nature's Experiments and the Search for Symbolist Form demystifies the avant-garde value of experimentation and reveals new and important insights into a foundational period for the development of European modernism Engaging Bodies Ann Cooper Albright, 2013-12-03 Winner of the Selma Jeanne Cohen Prize in Dance Aesthetics 2014 For twenty-five years Ann Cooper Albright has been exploring the intersection of cultural representation and somatic identity in dance For Albright dancing is a physical inquiry a way of experiencing and participating in the world and her writing reflects an interdisciplinary approach to seeing and thinking about dance In her engagement as both a dancer and a scholar Albright draws on her kinesthetic sensibilities as well as her intellectual knowledge to articulate how movement creates meaning Throughout Engaging Bodies movement and ideas lean on one another to produce a critical theory anchored in the material reality of dancing bodies This blend of cultural theory and personal circumstance will be useful and inspiring for emerging scholars and dancers looking for a model of writing about dance that thrives on the interconnectedness of watching and doing gesture and thought Hardcover is unjacketed Six Modernist Moments in Poetry David Young, 2006 Along with the four poems written in English the two non-English poems are presented and discussed in Young's own translations He describes the provenance of each of the six poems puts it in the context of its time and the poet's career and surrounds it with references to other poems that are quoted generously In this way each poem is not only fully explicated but also presented as a kind of preeminent example representing other poems of its type Combining close reading with contextual discussion this book is a significant contribution to the fields of poetry and modernism BOOK JACKET Literature and Material Culture from Balzac to Proust Janell Watson, 2000-01-13 This book addresses the issues of collecting consuming classifying and describing the curiosities antiques and objets d'art that proliferated in French literary texts during the last decades of the nineteenth century After Balzac made such issues significant in canonical literature the Goncourt brothers Huysmans Mallarmé and Maupassant celebrated their golden age Flaubert and Zola scorned them Rachilde and Lorrain perverted them Proust commemorated their last moments of glory Focusing on the bibelot the modern French term for knick-knack curiosity or other collectible Janell Watson shows how the sudden prominence given to curiosities and collecting in nineteenth-century literature signals a massive change in attitudes to the world of goods which in turn restructured the literary text according to the practical logic of daily life calling into question established scholarly notions of order Her study

makes an important contribution to the literary history of material culture

Nathalie Sarraute, Fiction and Theory Ann Jefferson, 2000-07-03 Nathalie Sarraute 1900-99 is regarded as one of the major French novelists of the twentieth century. Initially hailed as a leading theorist and exemplar of the nouveau roman, she has come to be regarded as an important author in her own right with her own distinctive concerns. In this major 2000 study of Sarraute, the first in English since her death, Ann Jefferson offers a fresh perspective on Sarraute's entire oeuvre: her novels, her outstanding autobiography Enfance, and her influential critical writings, by focusing on the crucial issue of difference, which emerges as one of her central preoccupations. Drawing on a variety of critical approaches, Jefferson explores Sarraute's fundamental ambivalence to differences of various kinds, including questions of gender and genre. She argues that difference is simultaneously asserted and denied in Sarraute's work, and that the notion of difference, so often celebrated by other writers and thinkers, is shown in Sarraute's work to be inseparable from ambiguity and anxiety.

Proust, the Body and Literary Form Michael R. Finn, 1999-03-25 This 1999 study examines the connections between Proust's fin de siècle nervousness and his apprehensions regarding literary form. Michael Finn shows that Proust's anxieties, both about bodily weakness and about novel writing, were fed by a set of intriguing psychological and medical texts and were mirrored in the nerve-based afflictions of earlier writers, including Flaubert, Baudelaire, Nerval, and the Goncourt brothers. Finn argues that once Proust cast off his concerns about being a nervous weakling, he was freed to poke fun both at the supposed purity of the novel form. Hysteria, as a figure and as a theme, becomes a key to the Proustian narrative, and a certain kind of wordless, bodily copying of gesture and event is revealed to be at the heart of a writing technique which undermines many of the conventions of fiction.

Reading the French Enlightenment Julie Candler Hayes, 1999-07-15 In this 1999 book, Julie Candler Hayes offers an ambitious reinterpretation of a crucial aspect of Enlightenment thought: the rationalizing and classifying impulse. Taking issue both with traditional liberal and contemporary critical accounts of the Enlightenment, she analyses the writings of Denis Diderot, Emile Du Châtelet, the Abbé de Condillac, Buffon, d'Alembert, and numerous others to argue for a new understanding of systematic reason as complex, paradoxical, and ultimately liberating. Hayes examines the tensions between freedom and constraint, abstraction and materialism, linear and synoptic order that pervade not only philosophic and scientific discourse but also epistolary writing, fiction, and criticism. Drawing on the insights of a wide range of theorists, from Adorno, Habermas, and Foucault to Deleuze and Derrida, she offers a dialogue between the eighteenth century and our own, an ongoing exploration of the question: what is Enlightenment?

The Poetry of François Villon Jane H. M. Taylor, 2001-05-21 Taylor explores the work of François Villon and his relationship to his predecessors and contemporaries.

Gender, Rhetoric, and Print Culture in French Renaissance Writing Floyd Gray, 2000-05-25 In this book, Floyd Gray explores how the treatment of controversial subjects in French Renaissance writing was affected both by rhetorical conventions and by the commercial requirements of an expanding publishing industry. Focusing on a wide range of discourses on gender issues, misogynist, feminist, autobiographical homosexual and medical Gray reveals the extent to which these marginalized texts reflect literary concerns rather than social reality He then moves from a close analysis of the rhetorical factor in the Querelle des femmes to consider ways in which writing as a textual phenomenon inscribes its own sometimes ambiguous meaning Gray offers richly detailed readings of writing by Rabelais Jean Flore Montaigne Louise Lab Pernet du Guillet and Marie de Gournay among others challenging the inherent anachronism of those forms of criticism that fail to take account of the rhetorical and cultural conditions of the period

Kinaesthesia in the Psychology, Philosophy and Culture of Human Experience Roger Smith, 2023-03-23 This accessible book explores the nature and importance of kinaesthesia considering how action agency and movement intertwine and are fundamental in feeling embodied in the world Bringing together psychological philosophical and cultural perspectives the book examines the subjective feeling of movement in a cross disciplinary manner It discusses kinaesthesia through the framework of embodied cognition and outlines how contemporary discussion in psychology and phenomenology can inform our understanding of everyday experience The book also sketches a framework for full appreciation of the sense of movement in performance and cultural life discussing how a sense of movement is central to one's agency It is composed in four movements aiming to achieve a connected and original argument for why movement matters an argument exemplified in dance The first movement explains the science of kinaesthesia and the history of the concept to a discussion of current thought informed by phenomenology and embodied cognition the second quiet movement reflects on the psychological and philosophical dimensions of the sense of movement the third movement turns to the culture of movement in dance and walking and the fourth rests with the pleasures of movement and emphasizes the social dimensions of movement in gesture and agency This wide ranging book is a must read for all those interested in the psychology of movement embodied cognition performance studies and the interaction between psychology and dance It will also be of interest to students and practitioners of embodied movement and dance practice therapies
