The Roman Empire at Bay, AD 180-395 David Potter, 2014-01-03 The Roman Empire at Bay is the only one-volume history of the critical years 180-395 AD which saw the transformation of the Roman Empire from a unitary state centred on Rome into a new polity with two capitals and a new religion, Christianity. The book integrates social and intellectual history into the narrative, looking to explore the relationship between contingent events and deeper structure. It also covers an amazingly dramatic narrative from the civil wars after the death of Commodus through the conversion of Constantine to the arrival of the Goths in the Roman Empire, setting in motion the final collapse of the western empire. The new edition takes account of important new scholarship in questions of Roman identity, on economy and society as well as work on the age of Constantine, which has advanced significantly in the last decade, while recent archaeological and art historical work is more fully drawn into the narrative. At its core, the central question that drives The Roman Empire at Bay remains: what did it mean to be a Roman, and how did that meaning change as the empire changed. Updated for a new generation of students, this book remains a crucial tool in the study of this period.

The Roman Empire at Bay, AD 180-395 David Stone Potter, 2004 At the outset of the period covered by this book, Rome was the greatest power in the world. By its end, it had fallen conclusively from this dominant position. David Potter's comprehensive survey of two critical and eventful centuries traces the course of imperial decline.

The Expatriates Martin Edmond, 2017-11-09 The connection between a colony and its founder, centre and margin, is always paradoxical. Where once Britain sent colonists out into the world, now the descendants of those colonists return to interrogate the centre. This is a book about four of these returners: Harold Williams, journalist, linguist, Foreign Editor of The Times; Ronald Syme, spy, libertarian, historian of ancient Rome; John Platts Mills, radical lawyer and political activist; and Joseph Burney Trapp, librarian, scholar, and protector of culture. These were men born in remote New Zealand who achieved fame in Europe, even as they were lost sight of at home. Men who became, from the point of view of their country of origin, expatriates. A writer of penetrating insight, Martin Edmond explores the intersections of past and present in the lives of these four extraordinary individuals. Their stories combine in the hands of this award-winning writer to a moving reflection upon New Zealand's place in the world then and now.

Rome, the Greek World, and the East Fergus Millar, 2002 Rome, the Greek World and the East, Volume 2: Government, Society and Culture in the Roman Empire.

A Companion to Julius Caesar Miriam Griffin, 2015-05-04 A Companion to Julius Caesar comprises 30 essays from leading scholars examining the life and afterlife of this great polarizing figure. Explores Caesar from a variety of perspectives: military genius, ruthless tyrant, brilliant politician, first-class orator, sophisticated man of letters, and more. Utilizes Caesar's own extant writings. Examines the viewpoints of Caesar's contemporaries and explores Caesar's portrayals.
