Complicating Articulation in Art Cinema Benedict Morrison, 2021 What is film criticism for This book aims to answer this question It argues that art cinema's political effect is the result of indeterminacy and not character-centric meaning The Films of John Schlesinger Julia Prewitt Brown, 2019-08-24 The city with its manifold distractions and violence its invitation to intoxication and dream had long served to represent the experience of modernity in works of art at the time John Schlesinger made his acclaimed urban documentary Terminus in 1961 To be a reader of the city was to be a reader of modern life and Schlesinger was a discriminating at times relentless reader of the city throughout his career especially in his three greatest films Midnight Cowboy Sunday Bloody Sunday and The Day of the Locust set in New York London and Los Angeles respectively His character-driven stories evocation of the significance of the everyday and insistence on ambiguities of situation and motive all qualities he was known for point to literary influences that reach back to the nineteenth century and earlier The Films of John Schlesinger is not only the first book to fully acknowledge those influences but also the first book to explicate the power of his art to capture the modern urban experiences of becoming an adult in an atmosphere that relentlessly promotes fantasies of success and wealth of coming to terms with one's national identity in the context of international politics and of attempting to transform the past both personal and cultural into a viable present Caravaggio Leo Bersani, Ulysse Dutoit, 2021-03-25 Caravaggio 1986 Derek Jarman's portrait of the Italian Baroque artist shows the painter at work with models drawn from Rome's homeless and prostitutes and his relationship with two very different lovers Ranuccio played by Sean Bean and Lena played by Tilda Swinton It is probably the closest Derek Jarman came to a mainstream film And yet the film is a uniquely complex and lucid treatment of Jarman's major concerns violence history homosexuality and the relation between film and painting In particular according to Leo Bersani and Ulysse Dutoit Caravaggio is unlike Jarman's other work in avoiding a sentimentalising of gay relationships and in making no neat distinction between the exercise and the suffering of violence Film making involves a coercive power which for Bersani and Dutoit Jarman may without admitting it to himself have found deeply seductive But in Caravaggio this power is renounced and the result is Jarman's most profound unsettling and astonishing reflection on sexuality and identity Understanding Representation Wendy Helsby, 2019-07-25 This is the third book in the Understanding the Moving Image series Like other books in the series it aims to provide a strong critical and theoretical base for the study of the media It has been co-authored by experienced Media and Film Studies tutors offering fresh and innovative ways of talking about the key concept of representation How is the world mediated to deliver messages and create beliefs about groups such as the mentally ill institutions like the family and schools minority and marginalised people and issues of nation seen through football and films
