culturally and linguistically diverse students still do not receive the quality of education that they are promised and deserve Multilingual learners with disabilities must be acknowledged for the assets they bring and engaged in classroom learning that is rigorous and relevant Bilingual Special Education for the 21st Century A New Interface addresses the complex intersection of bilingual education and special education with the overlay of culturally and linguistically sustaining practices This work provides practical solutions to current dilemmas and challenges today s educators of multilingual learners with disabilities face in the classroom Covering topics such as dual language education identification practices and transition planning this book is an essential resource for special education experts faculty and administration of both K 12 and higher education pre service teachers researchers and academicians English as a Second Language in the Mainstream Constant Leung,Christine Davison,Bernard Mohan,2014-07-15 Since it was first established in the 1970 s the Applied Linguistics and Language Study series has become a major force in the study of practical problems in human communication and language education Drawing extensively on empirical research and theoretical work in linguistics sociology psychology and education the series explores key issues in language acquisition and language use English as a Second Language learners are now a considerable and increasing part of the mainstream of urban schools in English speaking countries Beyond the learning of English this development raises broader questions of language as a medium of education in a multilingual multicultural environment Drawing on their experience as researchers and educators in Australia Canada and England the authors of English as a Second Language in the Mainstream present an up to date account of advances in theory and practice Their analysis of system wide provision however suggests that a truly responsive educational vision is lacking government policy is inadequate educational practices for ESL students are either underdeveloped or poorly coordinated with practices for other students and the rhetoric of reform fails to engage significantly with issues of teaching and resources The authors argue towards a more comprehensive vision which can acknowledge the relation between issues concerning ESL students and issues concerning the educational system as a whole which can coordinate reforms in ESL education with general reforms which can explicitly and systematically integrate language learning and content learning and which can build more positively on the multilingual and multicultural nature of modern education for all students Corrective Feedback in Second Language Teaching and Learning Hossein Nassaji,Eva Kartchava,2017-04-07 Bringing together current research analysis and discussion of the role of corrective feedback in second language teaching and learning this volume bridges the gap between research and pedagogy by identifying principles of effective feedback strategies and how to use them successfully in classroom instruction By synthesizing recent works on a range of related themes and topics in this area and integrating them into a single volume it provides a valuable resource for researchers graduate students teachers and teacher educators in various contexts who seek to enhance their skills and to further their understanding in this key area of second language education Functional Grammar in the ESL Classroom R. Jones,G. Lock,2010-12-14 A set of easy to use techniques helps students discover for themselves how grammar works in real world contexts and how grammatical choices are not just about form but about meaning Sample teaching ideas covering a wide range of grammatical topics including verb tense voice reference and the organization of texts accompanies each procedure Beyond Crises Debbie Zacarian, Margarita Espino Calderon, Margo Gottlieb, 2021-02-02 What are some lessons learned from the pandemic We learned that in times of crises the humanitarian needs of students families and ourselves must be a top priority We learned that forming effective partnerships with families and communities is essential to the health and well being of our children We were offered a blunt reminder that a system designed to serve the interests of a privileged few was destined to fail our historically underserved students especially our millions of multilingual learners Above all we learned that the normal many of us have yearned for was never good enough that we must envision a better world where we build on our multilingual students unique assets and cultivate their inner brilliance Only then will we deliver on their promise It is this better world a world in which communities schools and classrooms work together as a whole child ecosystem Beyond Crises Overcoming Linguistic and Cultural Inequities in Communities Schools and Classrooms sets out to create Taking a look from the outside in Debbie Zacarian Margarita Calderon and Margo Gottlieb address three critical arenas 1 Imagining Communities describes how to design and enact strengths based family and community partnerships including the critical importance of identifying valuing and acknowledging each member's assets and competencies and the ways recent crises have amplified their struggles 2 Imagining Schools takes an up close look at policies structures and now irrelevant ways of schooling that call for change and how we might reconfigure professional development to ensure every teacher and administrator is dedicated to the well being and success of our multilingual learners 3 Imagining Classrooms demonstrates how to optimize learning opportunities both virtual and face to face so our diverse students grow cognitively linguistically and social emotionally and accentuate their talents in knowing and using multiple languages in linguistically and culturally sustainable environments Student and family classroom school and local community are not silos unto themselves Debbie Margarita and Margo insist They are part of a larger whole that is interrelated and interconnected and even interdependent on each other By forming stronger alliances we can realize the power of truly working socializing and flourishing together Beyond Crises is the first critical step forward
