Talented Women:

The Talented Women of the Zhang Family Susan Mann, 2007 There is absolutely nothing remotely like this book in the history of late imperial women An immensely important book Gail Hershatter author of Women in China's Long Twentieth Century A masterful work Lynn Hunt coeditor of Beyond the Cultural Turn Modern China in Flux Christian Henriot, 2025-03-03 Modern China in Flux heralds a transformative epoch in historical research spotlighting the innovative methodology of network analysis As the digital age unfolds historians encounter both an unparalleled opportunity and a daunting challenge navigating the vast digital repositories of historical data Central to this volume's discourse is the imperative for a methodological shift in examining modern China's historical research By embracing the digital evolution this volume highlights the promise of network analysis as a model for historians Modern China rich in tales of socio-political upheavals economic transformations and cultural shifts emerges as a nuanced tapestry of intertwined narratives Capturing its intricacies necessitates an approach that illuminates the multiple connections alliances and conflicts that shaped its course Here network analysis proves invaluable By exploring textual databases and archival documents and leveraging the capabilities of full-text historical sources historians can craft a dynamic interconnected narrative of modern China Previously obscured relationships come into sharp focus revealing the delicate balance of power influence and change ICT as a Driver of Women's Social and Economic Empowerment Dhaundiyal, Pankaj, Moid, Sana, 2023-04-05 The role of information and communication technologies as a tool for development has attracted the sustained attention of various agencies worldwide If the gender dimensions of information and communication technologies in terms of access and use capacity building opportunities employment and potential for empowerment are explicitly identified and addressed information and communication technologies can be a powerful catalyst for the political and social empowerment of women and the promotion of gender equality ICT as a Driver of Women's Social and Economic Empowerment contributes to the growing body of literature and present state of knowledge by offering evidence on how new information and communication technologies impact women's economic and social empowerment and overall welfare creation leading to inclusive growth Covering key topics such as economics entrepreneurship digital technologies and inclusion this premier reference source is ideal for industry professionals policymakers administrators business owners managers researchers academicians scholars practitioners instructors and students New Woman in Early Twentieth-Century Chinese Fiction Jin Feng, 2004-07-30 In The New Woman in Early Twentieth-Century Chinese Fiction Jin Feng proposes that representation of the new woman in Communist Chinese fiction of the earlier twentieth century was paradoxically one of the ways in which male writers of the era explored negotiated and laid claim to their own emerging identity as modern intellectuals Specifically Feng argues that male writers such as Lu Xun Yu Dafu Ba Jin and Mao Dun created fictional women as mirror images of their own political inadequacy but that at the same time this was also an egocentric ploy to affirm and highlight the modernity of the male author This gender biased attitude was translated into reality when women writers emerged Whereas unfair gender biased criticism all but stifled the creative output of Bing Xin Fang Yuanjun and Lu Yin Ding Ling s dogged attention to narrative strategy allowed her to maintain subjectivity and independence in her writings that is until all writers were forced to write for the collective Feng addresses both the general and the specialized audience of fiction in early twentieth century Chinese fiction in three ways for scholars of the May Fourth period Feng redresses the emphasis on the simplistic gender neutral representation of the new women by re reading selected texts in the light of marginalized discourse and by an analysis of the evolving strategies of narrative deployment for those working in the area of feminism and literary studies Feng develops a new method of studying the representation of Chinese women through an interrogation of narrative permutations ideological discourses and gender relationships and for studies of modernity and modernization the author presents a more complex picture of the relationships of modern Chinese intellectuals to their cultural past and of women writers to a literary tradition dominated by men social unrest Women tanci authors redefinition of female exemplarity within the Confucian orthodox discourses of virtue talent chastity and political integrity could be burgeoning expressions of female exceptionalism and could have foreshadowed protofeminist ideals of heroism They establish a realistic tenor in affirming feminine domestic authority and open up spaces for discussions of womanly becoming female exceptionalism and shifting family power structures The vernacular mode underlying these texts yields productive possibilities of gendered self representations bodily valences and dynamic performances of sexual roles The result is a vernacular discursive frame that enables women s appropriation and refashioning of orthodox moral values as means of self affirmation and self realization Validations of women s political activism and loyalism to the nation attest to tanci as a premium vehicle for disseminating progressive social incentives to popular audiences Women s tanci marks early modern writers endeavors to carve out a space of feminine becoming a discursive arena of feminine appropriation reinvention and boundary crossings In this light women s tanci portrays gendered mobility through depictions of a heroine s voyages or social ascent and entails a forward moving historical progression toward a more autonomous and vested model of feminine subjectivity
