Tales from Tonquin James O'Neill,2006-10-01 The thought of enlisting in the French Foreign Legion held a tantalizing allure for young nineteenth century American boys in search of adventure Apart from youthful fantasies few Americans seriously pursued joining the legion These surprising and extraordinary short stories written by one young man who did take us to that time and place Born in Bridgeport Connecticut James O Neill enlisted in the legion in 1887 at the age of twenty seven In 1890 deployed to Tonquin in French Indochina more familiar today as Tonkin Vietnam O Neill faced tropical heat infectious disease and sudden death Like his contemporary Stephen Crane O Neill s ability to tell an engaging story and his keen sense for telling details provide a unique record of his time in this exotic world In these thirteen tales O Neill shows with surprising subtlety that France s efforts to conquer and govern Indochina were foolhardy Although the only American in his stories is the narrator it is clear that the tales are aimed at readers in the United States and are intended to caution against the construction of empires abroad Far from polemical tirades these are absorbing unadorned stories remarkably contemporary in both style and substance Charles Royster provides a short biography of O Neill who seems to have vanished into obscurity a few years after these stories were first published in 1895 Royster has also unearthed and included two essays O Neill published in magazines of the time one a description of a Buddhist temple in Hanoi and the other an appreciation of the Hungarian novelist Maurus J kai Whether read for historical value literary merit or political insights Garrison Tales from Tonquin is a true discovery The Uncensored War Daniel C. Hallin,1989-04-14 Vietnam was America s most divisive and unsuccessful foreign war It was also the first to be televised and the first of the modern era fought without military censorship From the earliest days of the Kennedy Johnson escalation right up to the American withdrawal and even today the media s role in Vietnam has continued to be intensely controversial The Uncensored War gives a richly detailed account of what Americans read and watched about Vietnam Hallin draws on the complete body of the New York Times coverage from 1961 to 1965 a sample of hundreds of television reports from 1965-73 including television coverage filmed by the Defense Department in the early years of the war and interviews with many of the journalists who reported it to give a powerful critique of the conventional wisdom both conservative and liberal about the media and Vietnam Far from being a consistent adversary of government policy in Vietnam Hallin shows the media were closely tied to official perspectives throughout the war though divisions in the government itself and contradictions in its public relations policies caused every administration at certain times to lose its ability to manage the news effectively As for television it neither showed the literal horror of war nor did it play a leading role in the collapse of support it presented a highly idealized picture of the war in the early years and shifted toward a more critical view only after public unhappiness and elite divisions over the war were well advanced The Archaeologist In-Between Anna Källén, Johan Hegardt, 2021-09-30 Olov Janse was an archaeologist with a remarkable life. From his birth in Sweden 1892 to his death in the United States 1985 he travelled several times across the world and was present in some of the most important episodes of 20th century world history. His works and networks connected museums and political institutions in Sweden, France, Vietnam, and the United States: from the Swedish History Museum, the Museum of Far Eastern Antiquities, the French Musée d'antiquités nationales, the Cernuschi museum, and the French research institute EFEO in Hanoi to UNESCO, the Harvard Peabody Museum, the Smithsonian Institution, and the U.S. Department of State. He left behind artefacts and documents in museum collections and archives across the world. But his name is largely unknown, and his most important contributions, the connection of people and ideas between continents and contexts, have remained invisible in historical accounts of all these institutions. He was in every sense an archaeologist in between. This book follows in the footsteps of Olov Janse and his wife Renée as they move between continents and contexts, connecting key actors and institutions in social and professional networks across the world. It tells the formidable story of an archaeologist navigating through world politics from a late 19th century industrial town in Sweden to early 20th century Parisian museums to French Indochina and the Philippines in the 1930s to the formation of UNESCO in 1946 and ending with public diplomacy for the U.S. Department of State at the verge of the Vietnam War.

The Deliverance of Cabo Koob Alexander Malone, 2021-02-15 Dieter Koob, a fourteen-year-old German youth at the end of World War II, finds adventure on two continents as a newly inducted French legionnaire. He comes of age by surviving eight years of military campaigns in French Indochina against the ruthlessly savage Viet Minh. Dieter's unique ordeal is lush with adventure and mystery as he grows into manhood. He successfully evades capture by the communists at the fall of the historic battle of Dien Bien Phu in 1954, only to be taken as property of a Laotian village chieftain for fourteen years. Upon earning his release from the remote mountain village, he struggles to return to civilization and an unknown, uncertain future.

Empire of Love Matt K. Matsuda, 2005-01-20 In this broad-ranging survey of Paris, Tahiti, Indochina, Japan, New Caledonia, and the South Pacific generally, Matt Matsuda illustrates the fascinating interplay that shaped the imaginations of both colonizer and colonized. Drawing on a wealth of primary sources, Matsuda describes the constitution of a French Pacific through the eyes of Tahitian monarchs, Kanak warriors, French politicians, and prisoners, Asian revolutionaries, and Central American laborers, among others. He argues that French imperialism in the Pacific, both real and imagined, was registered most forcefully in languages of desire and love for lost islands, promised wealth and riches, carnal and spiritual pleasures, and political affinities. Exploring the conflicting engagements with love for and against the empire in the Pacific, this book is an imaginative and ground-breaking work in global imperial and colonial histories, as well as Pacific histories.
