Tales Of The Field On Writing Ethnography:

Tales of the Field John Van Maanen, 2011-07 Once upon a time ethnographers returning from the field simply sat down shuffled their note cards and wrote up their descriptions of the exotic and quaint customs they had observed Today scholars in all disciplines are realizing how their research is presented is at least as important as what is presented Questions of voice style and audience the classic issues of rhetoric have come to the forefront in academic circles John Van Maanen an experienced ethnographer of modern organizational structures is one who believes that the real work begins when he returns to his office with cartons of notes and tapes In Tales of the Field he offers readers a survey of the narrative conventions associated with writing about culture and an analysis of the strengths and weaknesses of various styles He introduces first the matter of fact realistic report of classical ethnography then the self absorbed confessional tale of the participant observer and finally the dramatic vignette of the new impressionistic style He also considers more briefly literary tales jointly told tales and the theoretically focused formal and critical tales Van Maanen illustrates his discussion of each style with excerpts from his own work on the police Tales of the Field offers an informal readable and lighthearted treatment of the rhetorical devices used to present the results of fieldwork Though Van Maanen argues ultimately for the validity of revealing the self while representing a culture he is sensitive to the differing methods and aims of sociology and anthropology His goal is not to establish one true way to write ethnography but rather to make ethnographers of all varieties examine their assumptions about what constitutes a truthful cultural portrait and select consciously and carefully the voice most appropriate for their tales Written with grace and humor Tales of the Field will be an invaluable introduction to novices just learning the fieldwork trade and provocative stimulant to veteran ethnographers Engaging and well written H Ottenheimer Choice Tales of the Field John Van Maanen, 1988 Identifies narrative conventions in ethnology analyzes the strengths and weaknesses of various writing styles and shows examples of each approach Qualitative Inquiry and Research Design John W. Creswell, 2007 Creswell does an excellent job categorizing the various qualitative methods into five approaches narrative research phenomenology grounded theory ethnography and case study The author has expanded on and updated the information he presented in the first edition of the book Creswell 1998 including discussion of the various schools of thought that have developed among qualitative researchers since the mid 1990 s Qualitative Inquiry researchers will likely return again and against to the book as they expand their comfort zone within qualitative research Peggy M Delmas University of Alabama Creswell has produced an even more outstanding and valuable text for qualitative research than the First Edition Edith King University of Denver Like the bestselling First Edition this new version explores the philosophical underpinnings history and key elements of each of five qualitative inquiry approaches narrative research phenomenology grounded theory ethnography and case study Using an accessible and engaging writing style author John W Creswell compares theoretical frameworks ways to employ standards of quality and strategies for writing introductions to studies collecting data analyzing data writing a narrative and verifying results      Workplace Spirituality Yochanan Altman, Judi Neal, Wolfgang Mayrhofer, 2022-01-19

Workplace spirituality is an emerging field of study and practice and this book asks the questions Where have we been in the last ten years as a field and where should we be headed in the next ten years The editors asked these questions of thought leaders from around the globe leaders who represent different sectors faith traditions worldviews and organizational functions This volume represents the best of current thinking about the state of the field of workplace spirituality and of what the future holds There are four themes 1 management themes such as leadership ethics change management and diversity 2 workplace spirituality in sectors such as health and wellbeing policing and creative industries 3 key issues that are emerging such as self spirituality mindfulness storytelling and the importance of nature and 4 cutting edge epistemologies and methodologies including indigenous studies relational ontology ethnography and psychodynamics These articles were chosen to provoke new thinking new research and new practice in the field of workplace spirituality with the goal of helping the field mature in the next decade      Writing Anthropology F. Bouchetoux, 2013-12-03 A call for new methods for anthropology this book explores the nature of anthropological knowledge and the conditions of integration and communication with people Starting with an analysis of anthropologists guilt Fan addresses issues of reflexivity reciprocity and respect then builds on this to evaluate how researchers generate knowledge      Ethnographic Methods Karen O'Reilly, 2005 Ethnography isn't a prescribed set of methods it's a methodology that acknowledges the complexity of human experience and the need to research it by close and sustained observation of human behaviour In this comprehensive yet concise introduction Karen O'Reilly introduces the reader to the technical practical and philosophical issues that arise when employing traditional and innovative research methods in relation to human agents She invites the reader to engage in reflexive and creative research that draws critically and creatively from the full range of qualitative methods Using case studies of students work to illustrate the dilemmas and resolutions that an ethnographic researcher may encounter this textbook guides the reader from the initial design and planning stages through to the analysis and writing up It explores the historical and philosophical foundations of ethnographic research and goes on to cover a range of relevant topics such as participant observation qualitative interviews focus group interviews and visual data collection and analysis Designed primarily for undergraduates this book incorporates complex methodological debates which will also engage more experienced researchers perhaps coming to ethnography for the first time      Unconventional Methodology in Organization and Management Research Alan Bryman, David A. Buchanan, 2018 Most researchers in organization and management studies stick to two or three traditional research methods like surveys and interviews Sticking with the familiar is seen as a safe bet and innovation is discouraged by academic incentives and rewards But research participants are now suffering from survey fatigue and using the same old methods runs the risk of generating the same old findings This book describes twelve unconventional methodologies in organization and management research These include unconventional research settings and data sources unconventional research designs and data collection methods unconventional analytic approaches and designs and methods that exploit new technology developments The aim is to encourage dialogue and experimentation with regard to the development of innovative unconventional approaches to organization and management research Several commentators have criticized the way in which research methods have become more formulaic and have argued for greater diversity in research approaches The methodological perspective that we adopt shapes our interpretation of the information that we gather Different methods generate different kinds of information leading to different ways of understanding the phenomena that we are investigating Our methods influence our styles of theorizing ways of thinking and reasoning and forms of writing and reporting research This book will be of value to academic researchers in organization and management studies Doctoral candidates and Masters students on MBA and similar programmes
