

The background is a reproduction of an ancient Egyptian wall painting. It depicts a domestic or ritual scene with several figures. At the top, a row of small, stylized figures, possibly deities or ancestors, are shown in a frieze. Below them, two seated figures, likely magicians or priests, are shown in profile, wearing blue and green robes. They are holding long, thin objects, possibly staffs or scepters. In the center, a larger figure is partially visible, wearing a white garment. Below this, another figure is shown in a dynamic pose, possibly performing a ritual or dance. The entire scene is framed by vertical columns of hieroglyphs. The title text is superimposed over the central part of the image.

Tales of magic tales in print traces the textual history of a number of fairy tale clusters linking the findings of literary historians on the sixteenth to eighteenth centuries to the material collected by nineteenth and twentieth century field workers While it places fairy tales as a genre firmly in a European context it also follows particular stories in their dispersion over the rest of the world

Pyramids and Literature in Ancient Egypt Asher Benowitz, DTTV Publications, Pyramids have been around for thousands of years but we still don't know exactly how they were built. The oldest pyramids are found at Giza and Saqqara. The Great Pyramid at Giza is one of the Seven Wonders of the World and was built during the fourth dynasty, 2575-2150 BC. During this time, there was also an increase in writing, literature, and artisanship. The Westcar Papyrus tells us of three royal women who lived during the 4th dynasty: Khufu's mother Henutsen, his wife Hetepheres I, and her sister Meresankh II. The latter was also his daughter-in-law because she married his son Khafre, who ruled 2558-2532 BC. She may have been buried inside this pyramid when she died at age 26. The first hieroglyphic text was written on papyrus in about 3100 BC. It is from a chapter from The Book Of Journey To Heaven called book 6, which describes how Ra travels with Thoth as they visit each nome district throughout Egypt during a period called the Festival Of Night, where they praise Osiris while traveling through space towards his underworld kingdom every year at midnight between June 21st-22nd and July 21st-22nd, when Orion rises as Sirius sets below it, just before dawn on these days known later as Dog Days, because dogs often suffer heat exhaustion then too due to lack of moisture caused by intense sunlight reflecting off asphalt surfaces like sidewalks or blacktop parking lots heating up too much due to all that reflected energy bouncing back into our faces, which makes us sweat, which causes dehydration if we don't drink enough water.

Egyptian Magic Maarten J. Raven, 2012. The ancient Egyptians were firmly convinced of the importance of magic, which was both a source of supernatural wisdom and a means of affecting one's own fate. The gods themselves used it for creating the world, granting mankind magical powers as an aid to the struggle for existence. Magic formed a link between human beings, gods, and the dead. Magicians were the indispensable guardians of the god-given cosmic order, learned scholars who were always searching for the Magic Book of Thoth, which could explain the wonders of nature. Egyptian Magic, illustrated with wonderful and mysterious objects from European and Egyptian museum collections, describes how Egyptian sorcerers used their craft to protect the weakest members of society to support the gods in their fight against evil and to imbue the dead with immortality, and explores the arcane systems and traditions of the occult that governed this well-organized universe of ancient Egypt. Against the Gods John D. Currid, 2013

What is the relationship between the Old Testament and ancient Near Eastern mythology? Currid examines the evidence, arguing that the Old Testament is highly polemical as he stresses differentiation over continuity. The Literature of the Ancient Egyptians E. A. Wallis Budge, 2020-01-09

E. A. Wallis Budge's The Literature of the Ancient Egyptians serves as an indispensable compendium for understanding the rich tapestry of ancient Egyptian literary heritage. Employing a scholarly yet accessible tone, Budge meticulously categorizes and translates a multitude of texts ranging from wisdom literature to religious hymns, effectively encapsulating the complexity of Egyptian thought and culture. His narrative weaves together the historical and archaeological contexts in which these works were produced, thereby illuminating the interconnectedness of Egyptian literature with its societal frameworks, religious beliefs, and moral values. Budge, a renowned Egyptologist and curator at the British Museum, dedicated much of his academic career to the study and translation of ancient Egyptian texts. His deep engagement with the culture, bolstered by extensive field research and a profound understanding of hieroglyphics, informs this work. Budge's passion for the subject matter is evident, drawing connections between ancient literature and contemporary human experience in a manner that transcends temporal boundaries, facilitating a dialogue between past and present. This book is an essential read for anyone interested in ancient civilizations' literature or the historical development of storytelling practices. Budge's insightful analysis and engaging translations invite readers into the nuanced world of ancient Egyptian thought, making it a vital resource for scholars and enthusiasts alike. The Sacred Books and Early Literature of the East Charles Francis Horne, 1917 Popular Stories of Ancient Egypt Gaston Maspero, 1915
