Tales Of The Rabbis In The Haggada:

Rereading the Mishnah Judith Hauptman, 2005 Judith Hauptman argues that the Tosefta a collection dating from approximately the same time period as the Mishnah and authored by the same rabbis is not later than the Mishnah as its name suggests but earlier The Redactor of the Mishnah drew upon an old Mishnah and its associated supplement the Tosefta when composing his work He reshaped reorganized and abbreviated these materials in order to make them accord with his own legislative outlook It is possible to compare the earlier and the later texts and to determine case by case the agenda of the Redactor According to the author's theory it is also possible to trace the evolution of Jewish law practice and ideas When the Mishnah is seen as later than the Tosefta it becomes clear that the Redactor inserted numerous mnemonic devices into his work to assist in transmission The synoptic gospels may have undergone a similar kind of editing Elijah and the Rabbis Kristen H. The Poetics of Prophecy Yosefa Raz,2023-12-21 Since the mid 1700s poets and scholars have been deeply entangled in the project of reinventing prophecy Moving between literary and biblical studies this book reveals how Romantic poetry is linked to modern biblical scholarship's development On the one hand scholars intellectuals and artists discovered models of strong prophecy in biblical texts shoring up aesthetic and nationalist ideals while on the other poets drew upon a counter tradition of destabilizing indeterminate weak prophetic power Yosefa Raz considers British and German Romanticism alongside their margins incorporating Hebrew literature written at the turn of the twentieth century in the Russia Empire Ultimately she explains the weakness of modern poet prophets not only as a crisis of secularism but also strikingly as part of the instability of the biblical text itself This title is part of the Flip it Open Programme and may also be available Open Access Check our website Cambridge Core for details
