Situating The Self:

Situating the Self Seyla Benhabib, 2013-08-26 Focusing on contemporary debates in moral and political theory Situating the Self argues that a non relative ethics binding on us in virtue of our humanity is still a philosophically viable project This interesting new book should be read by all those concerned with the problems of critical theory the analysis of modernity and contemporary ethics as well as students and professionals in philosophy sociology and political science Recognition and the Self in Hegel's Phenomenology of Spirit Timothy L. Brownlee, 2022-12-15 Hegel's Phenomenology of Spirit is famed for its account of the problem of recognition Yet while readers agree about the importance of its influential accounts of the struggle to the death and the master slave relation in developing that problem there is no consensus regarding what sorts of relations among subjects would count as successful forms of recognition Timothy Brownlee articulates the essential connections between Hegel's concepts of recognition and the self and presents a novel interpretation of the Phenomenology that traces the emergence of actual relations of reciprocal recognition through the work as a whole He focuses on the distinctive social constitution conception of the self that Hegel develops in his account of spirit and demonstrates that the primary significance of recognition lies in its contribution to self knowledge His book will be valuable for scholars and students interested in Hegel German Idealism and philosophical conceptions of recognition Indigenous Methodologies Margaret Kovach, 2021-07-30 Indigenous Methodologies is a groundbreaking text Since its original publication in 2009 it has become the most trusted guide used in the study of Indigenous methodologies and has been adopted in university courses around the world It provides a conceptual framework for implementing Indigenous methodologies and serves as a useful entry point for those wishing to learn more broadly about Indigenous research The second edition incorporates new literature along with substantial updates including a thorough discussion of Indigenous theory and analysis new chapters on community partnership and capacity building an added focus on oracy and other forms of knowledge dissemination and a renewed call to decolonize the academy The second edition also includes discussion questions to enhance classroom interaction with the text In a field that continues to grow and evolve and as universities and researchers strive to learn and apply Indigenous informed research this important new edition introduces readers to the principles and practices of Indigenous methodologies

Everyday State and Development in Northeast India Biswaranjan Tripura, 2025-02-18 This book examines the everyday state from the perspective of the lived experiences of peripheralized Indigenous tribal peoples in contemporary Tripura Northeast India Building on discussions in the anthropology of the state and development literature and based on rich ethnography data this book examines the concrete rural Indigenous people's experiences of the state and how they negotiate those interactions to their advantage and for their own empowerment The author addresses the following questions How do members of peripheralized Indigenous tribal communities imagine perceive and experience the state in their everyday practices What are the various strategies and approaches that they use to undermine and negotiate the complex power relations to their advantage in their relations with the state This book argues that the state is experienced as both hope and despair and broken promises by the peripheralized Indigenous community A fresh perspective of studying Indigenous tribal in Northeast India this book will be useful for researchers and scholars of the anthropology of state and development development studies social work sociology political science tribal Adivasi Indigenous studies Northeast India studies and South Asian studies Self-Concept Clarity Jennifer Lodi-Smith, Kenneth G. DeMarree, 2018-01-03 This welcome resource traces the evolution of self concept clarity and brings together diverse strands of research on this important and still developing construct Locating self concept clarity within current models of personality identity and the self expert contributors define the construct and its critical roles in both individual and collective identity and functioning The book examines commonly used measures for assessing clarity particularly in relation to the more widely understood concept of self esteem with recommendations for best practices in assessment In addition a wealth of current data highlights the links between self concept clarity and major areas of mental wellness and dysfunction from adaptation and leadership to body image issues and schizophrenia Along the way it outlines important future directions in research on self concept clarity Included in the coverage Situating self concept clarity in the landscape of personality Development of self concept clarity across the lifespan Self concept clarity and romantic relationships Who am I and why does it matter Linking personal identity and self concept clarity Consequences of self concept clarity for well being and motivation Self concept clarity and psychopathology Self Concept Clarity fills varied theoretical empirical and practical needs across mental health fields and will enhance the work of academics psychologists interested in the construct as an area of research and clinicians working with clients struggling with developing and improving their self concept clarity Medical Humanism, Chronic Illness, and the Body in Pain Vinita Agarwal, 2020-10-06 Even as life expectancies increase increasing numbers of people are living with chronic illness and pain than ever before Long term self management of chronic conditions involves negotiating the intersections of personal life choices community and workplace structures and family roles Medical Humanism Chronic Illness and the Body in Pain An Ecology of Wholeness proposes an ecological model of wholeness which envisions wholeness in the dialogic engagement of the philosophical orientations of the biomedical and traditional medical systems Vinita Agarwal proposes an integrative premise of being whole through revising the fundamental definitions of humanism rethinking the self body environment and thereby recognizing alternative ways of organizing knowledge and human experience as this model pushes the intersections of patient centered care and sustainable health ethics It is in the spaces of such intersections Agarwal argues that we accomplish healing as an integrative relationship of the individual with the multiple cultural logics underlying chronic conditions and the competing medical worldviews of our contemporary landscape Scholars of communication health and medical humanities along with practitioners working with patients who have chronic conditions will find this book particularly useful Self-Deception's Puzzles and Processes Jason Kido Lopez, 2016-08-16 The contemporary literature on self deception was born out of Jean Paul Sartre's work on bad faith lying to oneself As time has progressed the conception of self deception has moved further and further away from Sartre's conception of bad faith In Self Deception's Puzzles and Processes A Return to a Sartrean View Jason Kido Lopez argues that this departure is a mistake and that we should return to thinking about self deception in a Sartrean fashion in which we are self deceived when we intentionally use the strategies and methods of interpersonal deception on ourselves Since literally tricking ourselves cannot work we will always see through our own self deception after all self deception merely consists of the attempt to trick ourselves in this way Other scholars have rejected this notion of self deception historically dismissing it as paradoxical Lopez argues first that it isn't paradoxical and he further suggests that moving away from this notion of self deception has caused the contemporary literature on the topic to be littered with disparate and conflicting theories Indeed there are a great many ways to avoid the allegedly paradoxical Sartrean notion of self deception and the resulting plethora of accounts lead to a fragmented picture of self deception If however the Sartrean view isn't paradoxical then there was no need for the host of contradictory theories and most researchers on self deception have missed what was originally so intriguing about self deception that it like bad faith is the process of literally trying to trick oneself into believing what is false or unwarranted Self Deception's Puzzles and Processes will be of great interest to students and scholars of epistemology philosophy of mind psychology and continental philosophy and to anyone else interested in the problems of self deception Innovative role of the minister in light of the experiences of college men in the United States Young men frequently struggle to know what it means to be a man and doubt that churches can supply the meaning and direction for which they hunger These men are not necessarily lost but they do need a certain kind of spiritual accompaniment that is likely to push many ministers outside of postures and practices with which they have grown comfortable This interdisciplinary work draws together feminist and masculinist theories contemporary practices in campus ministry recent literature on religious deconversion and individual interviews with college men in order to argue for new ways amid the practice of ministry This work invites ministers to become more apophatic to grow comfortable with moving away from clarity and to adopt ungrasping postures of ministry that attend to the unfolding theology of the individual This repositions campus ministers to support young adults from a range of spiritual commitments Disaffiliating Ministry invites ministers to eliminate wasteful ministerial habits to explore new ministry practices and to enjoy the freedom of accompanying young men in processes of leaving behind attitudes and actions that cease to be life giving while deepening in faith courage and responsibility for others

Self-Study of Practice as a Genre of Qualitative Research Stefinee Pinnegar, Mary Lynn Hamilton, 2009-04-05 Teacher educators live hectic lives at institutional and discipline boundaries Our greatest potential for influence is through developing relationships with others in our practice Our work is fundamentally relational and emotional We are obligated to the teachers we teach and the public students they teach Our practice exists in the midst of experience conflicting and often hostile boundaries and between what we know from research and what we understand from practice Self study of practice invites researchers to embrace the hectic and fragmented territory of practice as the space for study This book educates those who would like to explore practice in the methodology of self study It provides both a pragmatic and theoretic guide It grounds the research in ontology and establishes dialogue as the inquiry process It supports researchers through the use of frameworks to guide research and explication of strategies for conducting it

Revisited 2 Gregory Arief D. Liem,Dennis M. McInerney,2018-04-01 Students school motivation and engagement are key contributors to the quality of their academic learning and performance as well as growth in other important areas of life social emotional and physical health Fostering motivation and engagement is thus a meaningful educational purpose both in and of itself and as a pathway to holistic student development However motivation and engagement do not develop in a vacuum and effort seeking to facilitate them cannot be effectively pursued without understanding their underpinning sociocultural influences In the first edition of this volume Big Theories Revisited McInerney Van Etten 2004 authors of major models of school motivation and engagement were challenged to look into their theoretical work through a sociocultural lens The volume has been well received as objectively reflected in the number of citations of its chapters Significant progress has since been made in the theorizing and research of big theories of school motivation and engagement In this volume we invited a group of internationally renowned scholars to re examine their theoretical and conceptual work by highlighting the what factors and how processes of sociocultural influences in association with the key motivation and or engagement constructs of their expertise We made it clear to our contributors that we solicited new chapters rather than chapters with merely rehashed materials As a result this volume Big Theories Revisited 2 Liem McInerney 2018 contains chapters that critically discuss sociocultural influences on school motivation and engagement constructs as viewed from focal theories including self determination theory achievement goal theory personal investment theory expectancy value theory self efficacy theory self and co regulated learning models and many others Whereas some of the chapter topics covered in the initial edition are also part of this edition some are new and provide fresh sociocultural angles on achievement relevant processes and outcomes Likewise whereas some of the authors contributed to the earlier edition of the Volume many of them are different What appears to be the same across the two editions is the scholarly distinction of the authors and the substantive rigor of the chapters in advancing our current understanding of this field of enquiry Readers will learn much from and be inspired by stimulating ideas presented in this volume

Object Relations, Buddhism, and Relationality in Womanist Practical Theology Pamela Ayo Yetunde, 2018-07-28 This book establishes how Buddhism in the Insight Meditation tradition supports remarkable relational resilience for women who are of African descent and same sex loving yet living in a society that often invalidates women African Americans LGBTQ people and non Christians Pamela Ayo Yetunde explores the psychosexual experiences of African American Buddhist lesbians and shows that their abilities to be in healthy relationships are made possible through their Buddhist practices and communities even in the face of invisibilizing forces related to racial gender sexuality and religious discrimination and oppression

Mapping the Edges and the In-between Nancy Nyquist Potter, 2009-06-25 Borderline Personality Disorder BPD is a diagnosis given to ten percent of all those seen in outpatient mental health facilities and twenty percent of those seen in inpatient psychiatric units This is a significant number of people in the Western world Yet many of the core concepts and symptoms that underlie this diagnosis are questionable Many of the attitudes and actions of carers are based on assumptions about those with BPD that cry out for analysis with both cultural and gender norms interacting with clinical diagnosis and treatment to the detriment of both carers and patients This book considers how we diagnose BPD looking at the key constructs identity disturbance inappropriate or excessive anger unstable relationships impulsivity self injurious behaviour and manipulativity It starts by looking at the cultural and gender assumptions and norms behind BPD drawing upon philosophical clinical anthropological and sociological literature Combining philosophical analysis with clinical experience and patients writings it clarifies the constructs so that the reader can understand the messiness and complexity that frames this diagnosis and treatment After examining the current state of these constructs and their effects on carer patient interactions Part II sees an application of virtue theory to therapeutic treatment with BPD patients It looks at three virtues that are particularly important for clinicians and other carers to cultivate when working with BPD patients trustworthiness the virtue of giving uptake and empathy It argues that in their absence not only are clinicians attitudes harmful to patients but that the status of the diagnosis is actually compromised Mapping the Edges and the In Between presents a compelling argument that Borderline Personality Disorder needs to be approached in a new light one that will benefit patients

Being Gay in Ireland Gerard Rodgers, 2018-06-20 In Being Gay in Ireland Resisting Stigma in the Evolving Present Gerard Rodgers argues that existing theory and research on the lives of gay men often exhibits a social weightlessness such that self beliefs are frequently decoupled from an analysis of society History and conventions inform and shape gay men s self beliefs yet psychology as a discipline rarely dialogues with historical or political scholarship Rodgers corrects this oversight with a critical analysis of the decades of socio political struggle in Ireland and elsewhere Rodgers captures the lives of gay men who are situated in varied contexts and who all despite their different situations possess self beliefs that are shaped by wider historical traditions and evolving social change Rodgers argues that the nuances and particulars of self beliefs are significantly affected by wider historical traditions and evolving social and political changes Through his reconstruction Rodgers provides practitioners of applied psychological and therapeutic disciplines with an in depth picture of how historical context and social justice successes have interacted with gay men s self beliefs with a particular focus on how prosocial resistances against prejudice have incrementally eroded historical standards of gay stigma
