Sniping Rifles on the Eastern Front 1939-45 Martin Pegler,2019-03-21 The Soviet Union had developed a significant sniping force by 1939 but the extraordinary skill and cunning displayed by Finnish snipers during the Winter War forced the Soviets to innovate. On the other side German sniping suffered from a lack of standardization of weapons and a lack of marksmen deployed at the start of the Great Patriotic War 1941-45. There were few heroes in the conflict but on both sides the snipers were idolized especially on the Soviet side gaining almost mythical status. As well as traditional bolt action weapons both sides used several types of semi-automatic rifle such as the SVT 38 and the Gew 41. Offering greater firepower at the expense of long range accuracy such weapons would be profoundly influential in the postwar world. Fully illustrated this absorbing study investigates the development of sniping weapons and techniques on World War II's Eastern Front.

Serial Crime Wayne Petherick, 2009-06-13. Serial Crime Second Edition examines serial predatory behavior and is divided into two main parts. Part one deals with behavioral profiling and covers a variety of critical issues from the history of profiling and the theoretical schools of thought to its treatment in the mainstream media. This updated edition includes new sections on the problems of induction, metacognition in criminal profiling and investigative relevance. Part two deals more specifically with a number of types of serial crime including stalking, rape, murder and arson. Chapters on each of these crimes provide definitions and thresholds and discussions of the offenders, the crime and its dynamics. Considerations for behavioral profiling and investigations and the development of new paradigms in each area are interwoven throughout. Topics are conceptually and practically related since profiling has typically seen most application in serial crimes and similar investigations. The unique presentation of the book successfully connects the concepts and creates links to criminal behavior across crimes: murder, sexual assault and arson, something no other title does. The connection of serial behavior to profiling, the most useful tool in discovering behavior patterns, is also new to the body of literature available and serves to examine the ideal manner in which profiling can be used in conjunction with behavioral science to positively affect criminal investigations. Provides a theoretical and practical foundation for understanding the motivation and dynamics in a range of serial offenses. Illustrates the promise, purposes and pitfalls of behavioral profiling in the investigation of various serial crimes. Numerous case examples show the real world uses of behavioral profiling in investigations as well as highlighting a variety of issues in understanding and investigating serial crime.

The New Orleans Sniper Frances Chaput Waksler, 2010. On January 7, 1973, shots were fired from Howard Johnson's Motel in New Orleans, LA. Six were killed, ten wounded. After the first sniper was killed, the search continued for others. A thorough police investigation, however, concluded that there had been only one whose body was found on the motel roof. How did the idea of multiple snipers emerge? How was it decided that there had been only one after all? More generally, how does anyone come to a decision about the existence or nonexistence of another person? In prose both analytic and engaging, Waksler traces the course of this event and the claims and counterclaims made in the search to explain it.
