Aleksandra Mroczko-Wąsowicz, Rick Grush, 2023-07-06 Sensory Individuals: Unimodal and Multimodal Perspectives provides an interdisciplinary, well-balanced and comprehensive look at different aspects of unisensory and multisensory objects using both nuanced philosophical analysis and informed empirical work. The research presented in this book represents the field's progression from treating neural sensory processes as primarily modality-specific towards its current state of the art according to which perception and its supporting neural processes are multi-modal, modality-independent, meta-modal and task-dependent. Even within such approaches, sensory stimuli properties, brain activations and corresponding perceptual phenomenology can still be characterized in a modality-specific way. The book examines the basic building blocks of human perception and whether they are best understood as sensory modality-dependent units of different forms or multimodal perceptual objects. The book combines a variety of innovative and integrative angles to explore the topic and acts as a catalyst for an increasingly diverse field of research which is in an exciting phase of growth and advancement. New questions are arising as quickly as they are being answered and the collection Sensory Individuals provides an original and up-to-date addition to the field.

Sounding Otherness in Early Modern Drama and Travel Jennifer Linhart Wood, 2019-04-23 Winner of the Medieval and Renaissance Drama Society's 2021 Bevington Award for Best New Book. Sounds are a vital dimension of transcultural encounters in the early modern period. Using the concept of the soundwave as a vibratory, uncanny and transformative force, Jennifer Linhart Wood examines how sounds of foreign otherness are experienced and interpreted in cross-cultural interactions around the globe. Many of these same sounds are staged in the sonic laboratory of the English theater: rattles were shaken at Whitehall Palace and in Brazil; bells jingled in an English masque and in the New World; the Dallam organ resounded at Topkapı Palace in Istanbul and at King's College Cambridge; and the drum thundered across India and throughout London theaters. This book offers a new way to conceptualize intercultural contact by arguing that sounds of otherness enmesh bodies and objects in assemblages formed by sonic events, calibrating foreign otherness with the familiar self on the same frequency of vibration.
