Stolen Memories One Family's Experience With Alzheimer's Disease:

Stolen Memories Marie Cloud, 2000-12 STOLEN MEMORIES deals with the impact of being a caregiver for a parent and how it not only affects one's job and family but also one's mental and physical health. This story deals with the guilt that caregivers often carry as they gradually have to invade their parent's privacy in order to keep them safe, everything from having to take a driver's license away to having to put a parent into an Alzheimer's care facility. Marie encounters feelings of helplessness as she has to go against her mother's wishes in order to care for her. Later, her struggles through her own dark depression as the hopeless prognosis of Alzheimer's disease takes its toll on her entire family, understand her agonizing sense that no matter what she did it wasn't enough. STOLEN MEMORIES deals with real issues that confront many of us. It is important that those who have been through caring for a parent with Alzheimer's disease share their stories as these experiences may help someone recognize and deal with this disease in its early stages.

Stolen Memories Lynda Everman, Don Wendorf, 2019-06-25 Dementia steals memories; creative stitchery crafts can hold memories. Stolen Memories An Alzheimer's Stole Ministry and Tallit Initiative describes the use of hand-sewn individualized stoles and stole-style tallitot in advocacy for Alzheimer's and related dementias. These beautiful pieces of liturgical art can increase awareness, prompt discussion, begin an educational process, promote dementia-friendly faith communities, and give honor to those affected by Alzheimer's. Pastors wear them in the pulpit or as they conduct services, particularly during national days of awareness or remembrance of those affected by dementia or their caregivers and loved ones. Chaplains wear them in pastoral visits or special services for people in assisted living or memory care units. Advocates wear them as they speak at churches, synagogues, conferences, or training sessions, or as they make visits to their representatives in Congress to lobby for increased funding for research as well as treatment and care for persons living with dementia and their care partners. Included are simple step-by-step instructions and photos on how readers can piece and sew their own stoles and tallitot along with many photos of clergy wearing them and their personal reflections on the stoles tallitot and their meaning to them The Family Experience of Dementia Gary Morris, Jack Morris, 2020-12-21 Dementia not only affects the person presented with the diagnosis but their family and friends too This book provides practitioners with strategies to support the whole family and understand their dementia journey both pre and post diagnosis This is facilitated through a series of activities and reflective prompts There is also a dedicated chapter offering structured exercises for health and social care practitioners and students The book introduces the Lawrence family where Peter has been diagnosed with dementia and provides perspectives from each family member allowing practitioners to become acquainted with the lived experience of everyone involved The reflective questions allow readers to become actively engaged to maximise their knowledge and understanding and to better contextualize what the dementia experience feels like for family and friends With its focus on the all important lived experience of the whole family during the diagnostic process and beyond this is essential reading for any practitioner working with people with dementia

Entangled Narratives Lars-Christer Hydén, 2018 As people are living longer on average than ever before the number of those with dementia will increase Because many will live a considerable time at home with their diagnosis we need to know more about the ways people can adapt to and learn to live with dementia in their everyday lives Lars Christer Hydén argues in this book that to do so will involve re imagining what dementia really is and what it can mean to the afflicted and their loved ones One of the most important everyday opportunities for sharing experiences is the simple act of storytelling But when someone close to you gradually loses the ability to tell stories and cherish the shared history you have together this is seen as a threat to the relationship to the feeling of belonging together and to the identity of the person diagnosed Therefore learning about how people with dementia can participate in storytelling along with their families and friends helps to sustain those relationships and identities In Entangled Narratives Hydén not only emphasizes the possibilities that are inherent in collaborative storytelling but instructs professionals and otherwise healthy relatives to learn how to effectively listen and ultimately re imagine their patients and loved ones as collaborative meaning makers in their lives Alzheimer's and Dementia Kim Boyer, Mary Shapiro, 2025-06-03 Individuals or families receiving a diagnosis of Alzheimer's disease dementia or brain damage from a stroke face daunting questions how to provide care when the patient can no longer manage his or her own affairs how to protect their rights and property where to go for help and how to cope with the day to day challenges of fading memory and diminished cognition First published in 2011 Boyer and Shapiro's Alzheimer's and Dementia offers a comprehensive guide to families and professionals taking on the role of caregiver The newly revised and updated edition offers practical strategies for dealing with Alzheimer's or dementia including new research and treatment updates The book specific to Nevada covers state laws including Medicaid planning asset protection guardianship probate advance directives and patient rights It also addresses estate and financial planning and provides a detailed list of resources available to assist caregivers Written by an elder law attorney and a gerontologist Alzheimer's and Dementia offers insights from two professionals who provide practical solutions to common obstacles faced by caregivers helping them support the needs and overcome the challenges facing those coping with these diseases Boyer and Shapiro coauthored The Essential Eldercare Handbook for Nevada also available from the University of Nevada Press
