

The background of the entire page is a sepia-toned photograph of a rugged coastline. In the foreground, dark, jagged rocks are partially submerged in the churning, white-capped waves of the ocean. The water's surface is textured with numerous small, white foam patches. In the mid-ground, a large, dark rock formation juts out into the sea, with waves crashing against its base. The background shows a steep, rocky cliff rising from the water's edge. The overall tone is dramatic and evocative, suggesting themes of nature's power and resilience.

The Stone Hammer Poems, 1960-1975 Robert Kroetsch, 1975 Poets Talk Pauline Butling, Susan Rudy, 2005-01-15
This is a book that takes on the hard questions about the role of poets in society together with the challenges of reading difficult poetry Using the relaxed format of the personal interview Butling and Rudy open doors to some of the most challenging and important poetry of the 1990s Robert Kroetsch talks about his dread of systems and his subversive use of sub literary forms Erin Mour and Daphne Marlatt discuss the feminist trajectories in their work how to jump circuits and activate alternative networks Dionne Brand links her poetics to Marxist politics and Pan African liberation movements Annharte explains her use of humour to de program Native people Jeff Derksen wants to disarticulate and rearticulate linguistic and social systems while Fred Wah emphasizes the role of poetry in changing how we see the world We Are What We Mourn Priscila Uppal, 2009 The first book on the Canadian poetic elegy challenges all previous ideas about the purpose of mourning The Body and the Book, 2015-06-29 The stimulating mix of academics and practising poets that have contributed to this volume provides an unusual and illuminating integration of critical and creative practice and a vibrantly diverse approach to questions of poetry and sexuality Each section of essays is complemented by poems which creatively illustrate or develop the theme with which the essays critically engage Rather than being limited to a specific genre tradition time or place this collection seeks to make a virtue of contrast comparison and juxtaposition The collection is arranged into sections that range broadly across the thematic ground of dichotomies traditions and revisions microscopic and macroscopic perspectives women and embodiment and the notion of play and performance Positioning eighteenth century tinkers ballads alongside medieval Hebrew lyrics and the Blues of Gorgeous Puddin or making Dionysus rub shoulders with Sharon Olds and Mrs Rochester provides new perspectives on familiar material and valuable insights into more obscure work and the nature of sensual poetry as a mode of expression As the editors suggest the essays and poems presented collectively argue that writings about sexuality are always already about the way poets see and represent our bodies the world and poetic language itself Completed Field Notes Robert Kroetsch, 2000-11 This book brings together twenty of Kroetsch's long poems spanning some of 15 years of creative activity Remarkably versatile in both form and content these extended meditations bear witness to Kroetsch's modernist inheritance and his well known commitment to post modern jouissance Wild Words Donna Coates, George Melnyk, 2009 As the first collection of literary criticism focusing on Alberta writers Wild Words establishes a basis for identifying Alberta fiction poetry drama and nonfiction as valid subjects of study in their own right The idea for this collection began with 100 years of literary tradition for Alberta's centenary However Alberta's literary roots go back much farther than that to the oration of First Nation's peoples and the colonizing exploration and travel literature of the 18th and 19th centuries Un/Framing Topographies Weronika Suchacka, Bartosz Wójcik, 2025-06-16 The volume is a collection of essays by acclaimed and widely published international scholars of space working within different disciplines such as social sciences history applied sciences and media theory literary and cultural studies American Canadian French German Mexican American and Polish Their contributions substantiate the argument that the debate on space has produced a polyphony of argumentation which resulted in the multiplication and diversification of perspectives and interpretations of the studied concept The volume captures the present state of the most recent debate on space exploring the importance of its multifaceted nature evinced by the abundance of research on such related terms as border boundary and or region
